

Gleaned by the Way.
Smithers—He that courts and runs away may live to court another day.
Withers—But he who courts and does not wed may find himself in court instead.

A Weak Heart.
When the heart is weak or irregular in action, when the blood is thin and watery, remember the blood-forming qualities of Dr. Chase's Stere Food and by its use flood the system with rich, vitalizing blood. This is nature's way of curing weakness and disease. It is the only way to ensure lasting benefits.

Judge—You are privileged to challenge any member of the jury now being impaneled.
Muriarty—Well, then, yer honor, O'll fight the small man wid won eye, in the corner, there, fermin' yez.

A Year Indoors.
For thirteen months I was so bad with chronic indigestion that I could not go out of doors. Nerves were strung, the heart had and made, ring feelings, come on till I thought I would choke. Doctors' treatment failed me, so I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I think was my greatest good health. I am now doing my housework and have a family of ten.

"Don't you find wood chopping rather hard, old chap?"
"It wouldn't be so bad if my servant didn't sit down close to me with a cigar in his mouth and grin like a house on fire."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA
"Yes," she admitted; "this is the first time I have ever been in love, but—"
"But what," interrupted the young man in the moonlight scene anxiously.
"It is so nice," she continued "that I hope it won't be the last."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA
"When I arose to speak," related the martyred statesman, "some one threw a base, cowardly egg at me." "And what kind of an egg was that?" asked an attentive listener. "A base, cowardly egg," explained the statesman, "is one that hits you and then runs."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA
He was telling her about a book he had just read.
"The absolute sincerity and directness of the author," he said, "are above all praise. I don't know when I've read a book that seemed so helpful, so uplifting, so purely inspiring."

"George," she said, "I have just thought of a way to trim my winter hat!"

PILES
Do not suffer from Piles. Do not let them trouble you. Do not let them make you miserable. Do not let them make you a laughing stock. Do not let them make you a burden to your family. Do not let them make you a burden to your friends. Do not let them make you a burden to your country. Do not let them make you a burden to your God. Do not let them make you a burden to your soul.

What Would You Do?
In case of a burn or scald which would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on a soft cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a very severe one, will cause the parts to heal without leaving a scar. For sale by all dealers.

Little Elsie came into the kitchen with some eggs in a basket. "Mamma," she said, "our hens are getting awfully absent minded."
"Why, dear, what makes you think so?" asked her mother.
"Look here," said the little girl, holding up a soft-shelled egg, "this makes the third one this week that they forgot to put the shell on."

The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Wm. D. Little

Dr. Brown, a dignified and somewhat portly gentleman, had been commissioned to buy a shirt waist at a bargain sale which his wife was unable to attend. The task was a novel and not wholly congenial one, but he finally got the attention of a sales woman and made his wishes known.
"What bust?" she asked.
The doctor glanced around with nervous comprehension.
"Why—er—I didn't hear anything!"

writes Mrs. L. B. Arnold, of Denver, Colo. "We have used it repeatedly and it has never failed to give relief." For sale by all dealers.

His mother usually put him to bed and heard his prayers, but she happened to be away this evening so the job fell to father. He got the little fellow out of his clothes and into his nightgown and then said, "Now, for the prayer, sonny."
"O, dad," came the sleepy response, "let's skip it. I'm tired of praying at that game."

Staff-Captain Jennings is Going to England to Select Settlers for Nova Scotia.
The Salvation Army Immigration Department will make a special effort to get suitable settlers for Nova Scotia next season.

Staff Captain Jennings has been selected to go to the Old Land, as a special representative for Nova Scotia to secure these new settlers. The staff-captain has lived in the Maritime Provinces for nearly thirty years and for the last six years, has been in charge of the Salvation Army Immigration Department for the Maritime Provinces, and therefore has a practical knowledge of the kind of people needed.

He will sail for Great Britain about the middle of November and will remain there until the early spring. It is expected that he will be able to select a sufficient number to meet the requirements of the farmers and others next spring. Further particulars may be obtained by writing to the Salvation Army Immigration Department, Box 477, Halifax, N. S.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

The Story of the Postage Stamp.
England was the first country to use postage stamps. In 1840 the first stamps to put on letters. Three years later Switzerland and what was then the Empire of Brazil followed suit. In Germany stamps were adopted about 1844. Comparatively few kinds of stamps have been issued in Germany. Spain has issued 424 and Portugal as many as 846 different stamps. France and her colonies have so far issued 1,222 different postage stamps. England, on account of its many colonies, takes the lead in the matter of variety. Having brought out nearly two thousand different stamps which have been issued in all parts of the world, so that a complete collection of postage stamps would have to contain that number.

Sick Headache.
This distressing disease results from a disordered condition of the stomach, and can be cured by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Got a free sample at any drug store and try it.

At the 'Borden' Banquet.
A few days after the very successful banquet given the Hon. R. L. Borden at Halifax, November 2nd, the Morning Chronicle gave a shocking account of the lack of temperance principles evinced by some of those who attended. The St. John Standard at once gave an absolute denial of the statements of the Chronicle.

From what we learn from other sources, we believe that the report of the Chronicle was greatly exaggerated. It has been suggested that a report of a banquet given in this county some years ago was by mistake, inserted in the Chronicle in place of that intended, the mistake having arisen through a similarity of names.—Berwick Register.

"May I ask what is going on in the village?" enquired a tourist.
"We're celebrating the birthday of the oldest inhabitant, sir," replied a native; "she's a hundred and one today, sir."
"And who is that little man with the sad expression who walks by the old lady's side?"
"Oh, that's her son-in-law, sir. He's been keeping up the payments on her life-insurance policy for the last thirty years!"

"I am pleased to recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as the best thing I know of and safest remedy for coughs, colds and bronchial trouble."
We looked into our family recipe book the other day. Lots of articles looked appetizing, but we didn't get a real laugh until we came to the following direction:
"Then sit in front of the stove and stir constantly!"
If we had to sit in front of a stove these days we couldn't help stirring constantly. We fear that the fair author is kidding us.

writes Mrs. L. B. Arnold, of Denver, Colo. "We have used it repeatedly and it has never failed to give relief." For sale by all dealers.

Three scientific men from an eastern college visited a certain Montana mine. On the ascent, by means of the usual bucket, one professor thought he perceived signs of weakness in the rope by which the bucket was suspended. "How often," he inquired of the attendant, "do you change these ropes?"
"Every three months," carelessly replied the other. Then he added thoughtfully, "This must have been forgotten. We must change it to day if we get up."

A farmer who'd been having considerable difficulty raising his son every morning, carefully stole up the stairs to the darkened room one moonlight and administered a good sound spanking. Returning to the kitchen he informed his wife of the circumstance. "Well, that settles it," she said. "We'll have to get another hired girl. Willie didn't come home last and I had the bird girl occupy the room."

"At last I have discovered why we didn't sell any more of those bathing suits," remarked the head of the department. "Why is it?" asked the proprietor. "I overlooked one of the salesclerks emphasizing the fact that they wouldn't shrink," was the reply. "My hat is trimmed with wild roses. They do look pretty wild."—Washington Herald.

"She's an up to date girl."
"Yes, indeed. The other evening after being introduced to her I began to talk about art, and she said: 'Oh, Mr. Green, cut that, and let's talk about Ty Cobb's batting average!'"—Detroit Free Press.

Salt Rheum On the Hand
Yielded only to the soothing, healing influence of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.
In addition to the suffering and annoyance caused by eczema and salt rheum there is always danger of the trouble spreading and becoming chronic. For this reason the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment should be regular and persistent until the cure is thorough and complete.
Mrs. John J. Delory, Linwood, Antigonish county, N.S., writes: "I want to say that Dr. Chase's Ointment has proven a great blessing to me. I had salt rheum on one hand, and could not get it healed up. The itching was most distressing at times. Two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment has cured me completely, and I gladly recommend it to every sufferer."
In every home there is a demand for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is particularly useful where there are children. Chafing and skin irritation are relieved and eczema is cured by this soothing healing ointment. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

By Dr. Grenfell.
In an interview with the editor of the Union Signal, Dr. Grenfell said: "God has blessed us in permitting us to clean the liquor shops of the high seas and we have not a prohibition in Labrador and North Newfoundland, which, so long as I have a ton of coal in the locker of my steamer and any man near that I can swear in as special policeman, shall be enforced and judgment administered until my commission as magistrate is taken away. Of course primarily I am a surgeon and my work is chiefly surgical work, but naturally I have to look at a case from as wide a standpoint as I can, and I should consider it futile to be treating with a knife that which ought to be prevented and could be prevented by other means. I consider it much more expensive to have to operate on a person who has become the victim of disease through drink than to spend money in fighting out the liquor traffic."—N. S. X.

While I would deplore personally the destruction of so much good food material as is now destroyed in forming alcoholic liquors, I would concede to the liquor traffic the value of the employment that they say give in their industry if only when they made their alcoholic liquors they would pour them into the sea instead of down people's throats. It is just the damage that liquor does to the most important cell elements in the human body that makes it utterly impossible for a surgeon to do his work. Many a patient of mine I have been unable to help, or have seen lose his life, for the simple reason that the effect of alcoholic liquors on his kidneys and his liver destroyed his power of recuperation.

Therefore, from my point of view, alcohol is a necessary and an advisable and a world where there is so much trouble and so much sorrow is more especially for any man who wants in this age to walk in the footsteps of the Christ, it must be of almost primary importance, even if he likes alcohol himself, that he takes a stand against it and at least makes that sacrifice for the sake of the Kingdom of God.

The deleterious effect of the robbing truck system which we have to fight, often under great misunderstanding, by introducing a cheaper opportunity for purchasing the necessities of life, is small compared to the robbing of the women and children of their food and clothing by the luring of the bus bands and fathers into saloons and their sodas. So long as there are places to get liquor and so alternative, men will have excuses for self-indulgence. If a man is dry, he wants it. If he is wet, he wants it. If he is happy, he wants it. If he is sorrowful, he wants it. If he is going away, he wants it. If he is coming back, he wants it. He always wants it, and he always has an excuse for taking it. I look upon it from the standpoint of a worker in the kingdom as a surgeon looks upon a focus of infection left in the human body. So long as you can not get it out, it is always going to give you trouble, and it is worth both great sacrifice and often great risk to endeavor to clean it out.

With regard to my own work, while modern surgery has made it comparatively easy for me to straighten the limbs of a child and make him bow-legged legs and make him walk straight, it is a much more difficult problem to make the men with straight legs walk straight. This is the spiritual side of our labors.

The Red Cloud.
An engineer gave his little girl a small red flag to play with, and explained that on the road the red flag signifies danger. "Would you stop your train if you saw a red flag on the track?" she asked. "Yes," he said, "or there might be an accident."
After her papa had left, the little one found her mamma crying. "Why are you crying, mamma?" she asked. "The mother gave no answer. "But as the child saw the decanter on the table, she said: "Is it because papa drank some of that nasty brandy before he went to work?" "Yes, dear, you see he is getting worse and will surely lose his notice. He thinks the people do not notice, but they must notice it. And he will, I fear, completely wreck his life."
The child did not forget her mother's words. Her papa had told her that the red flag signifies danger. She firmly fastened the flag to the decanter, and then went to bed satisfied.

HER SKIN SEEMED ON FIRE
Every Other Treatment Failed But "Fruit-a-lives" Cures

GRANDE LIGNE, QUE., Jan. 2nd, 1910.
"My wife was greatly distressed for three years with chronic Eczema on the hands, and the disease was so severe that it almost prevented her from using her hands. The doctor gave her several ointments to use, but none of them did any good. He also advised her to wear rubber gloves and she wore out three pairs without getting any benefit. As a last resort, I persuaded her to try "Fruit-a-lives", and the effect was marvellous. Not only did "Fruit-a-lives" entirely cure the Eczema, but the Asthma, which she suffered from, was also completely cured.

"We both attribute our present good health to 'Fruit-a-lives'. It will always cure Eczema or Salt Rheum. 'Fruit-a-lives' purifies the blood, corrects the Indigestion and Constipation, and tones up the Nervous System."
"Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices and valuable tonics, and is the greatest of all blood-purifying remedies. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50—or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

The father came home, went to the sidewalk for the usual nightcap, but saw the flag, and understood and heeded the warning.

"I do not believe there is any other medicine so good for whooping cough as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Francis Turpin, Junction City, Ore. This remedy is also unsurpassed for colds and croup. For sale by all dealers.

The working men of Jerusalem are actively interested in the world-wide fight against alcohol. A voluntary collection was recently taken from Mount Zion, Lodge No. 1, and the plaques then collected amounted to five frames for the funds of the International Prohibition Confederation. It may be remembered that a petition was recently circulated in the Holy City, in nine languages, praying the Turkish Pasha to set up all of the drinking places in the world's spiritual metropolises.

Facts About Motherhood
The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not only is a woman in a humiliated position, but she is forced to understand how to properly care for her child. Of course every woman now always has a medical attendant at the time of child-birth, but many approach child-birth with a dread of an organ untried for the trial of strength, and when the strain is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother's life.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under right conditions need not be in any way to health or beauty. The most desirable thing is to persist in going through the trial. It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes our children there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

"Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence."
