

Successful Public Meeting At Educational Institute

Large Attendance at the Normal School Building
Last Evening—Superintendent of Jordan Memorial Sanitarium Tells of Tuberculosis—Addresses on Benefits of Medical Inspection of Schools—The Teachers Enrolled at the Institute.

The public meeting last evening in connection with the Educational Institute was well attended. Dr. W. S. Carter presided, and as the Provincial Secretary was prevented by his other duties from attending Mr. J. J. Weddall and Dr. A. B. Atherton of the Fredericton School Board extended a welcome to the visiting teachers.

Dr. David Townsend, of the Jordan Memorial Sanitarium, delivered an address on Tuberculosis. This dread disease has been known for centuries, but its nature has only been discovered in quite recent years. It is essentially a germ disease. It occurs most commonly between the ages of 18 and 35. Negroes, Indians and Chinese are most susceptible to it, and Jews the most free from it. It is found in all countries, while caused by germs that get lodged within the body. Poor nourishment, overwork, bad ventilation, bad drainage and alcoholism are contributing causes. Hereditary plays a very insignificant part. One-fourth of the deaths in the world between the ages of 15 and 30 are caused by it.

The germ is communicated from a diseased person to a healthy one through the medium of the sputa and generally no other way. A careful cougher is no danger to his fellow man. A careless or ignorant one is a constant menace to those with whom he comes in contact. He should never spit on floors or sidewalks or in fact any place but in a receptacle which could be burned. Sunlight and a temperature of 100 degrees will destroy the germ.

People prone to the disease should live largely in the open air and should sleep in rooms constantly ventilated. The disease in its early stages is curable. The first necessity is to put one's self absolutely in the care of a competent physician. It is not necessary to leave home except to get better attendance. A change of climate is not generally required. Like all diseases its prevention in the important factor in the fight against it.

Medical Inspection of Schools.

Dr. G. G. Melvin, of St. John, addressed the meeting on Medical Inspection of Schools. He felt complimented in being asked to prepare this address especially as he had addressed the Institute on the same topic two years ago. Since that time the expediency and necessity for this improvement has become more apparent. It has been adopted by a great many more cities and towns. It is now permissive in New Brunswick.

The leading principles underlying medical inspection of schools are: Children to attend or properly profit; one child should not be permitted to infect another.

There are two kinds of medical inspection complete where everything pertaining to the health of the pupil is taken into consideration, and partial in which only certain diseases of an infectious or contagious character are considered. The latter form is most commonly followed. The cost in American towns of this inspection is between 15 and 25 cents per pupil per year.

Dr. A. B. Atherton briefly addressed the meeting. He agreed with Dr. Townsend in the main, but attached more importance to heredity. The germs or bugs that caused the disease were everywhere present. The best prevention was a good healthy constitution. To get this it is necessary to start early with the child. Mothers should nurse their own children. Young children should not be permitted to eat candy, cake, pies and all that kind of trash. The digestive apparatus is put out of order and good digestion is a great preventive to all diseases. Children should have abundant opportunities for outdoor exercise. Schools should always have large playgrounds even in cities. If people could not afford to furnish play grounds with their schools for the children it would be better to have none. A great mistake is made by careful parents in having their young boys wear overcoats. They thereby get overheated.

During the evening Mrs. W. S. Carter and Dr. H. V. B. Bridges were heard in vocal solos which were very appreciatively received. O'Brien's orchestra rendered a number of selections.
