Obituary.

We sincerely regret to record the death of Mrs. Thomas M. Nelligan at her home in Norway, Lot 1, on the 23rd ult., aged 34 years, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Doyle, of St. Marks, Lot 7, and niece of Rev. Dr. Doyle, Vernon River. Deceased was highly esteemed and deeply respected by all acquainted with her, and her sudden death has caused much sorrow in her native parish as well as in the community where she resided. Her death has claimed her for its own, and though she shall be greatly missed, yet her Christian virtues and kind words and actions to all will live forever in the memory of all who knew her. Her very large funeral, attended by all classes, took place on the 25th at Tignish Church, where a solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Duquell, who officiated at the grave, in the adjoining cemetery, where her mortal remains were interred in the presence of many sad mourners. She leaves to mourn her loss a sad and much afflicted husband and one daughter, also a sorrowing father and mother, one brother and two sisters, besides a host of relations and friends.

MICHAEL DAVITT DISGUSTED.

Michael Davitt, the Irish member of the British Parliament, who went through the war with the Boers now states that he is disgusted with them. He says that he is thoroughly disillusioned. He says that the Boers prolonged the business, without seriously meaning to fight, for the one object of heaping up barrels of gold taken from the mines and accumulating and hoarding them in obedience to the dictation of that old man Paul Kruger.

"BOBS" IS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

Lord Roberts was appointed Commander-in-Chief of the British Army on his birthday, Sept. 20. The announcement of Lord Roberts' appointment is the most startling event in British military affairs in half a century. Great changes are certain to take place in the British army system, and Lord Roberts being commander-in-chief will undoubtedly construct a powerful fighting organization out of the material now in hand.

In South Africa!

Capt. Mason of the Royal Canadian writing to his father in Toronto from Krugersdorp, Aug. 22nd, gives the details of the most extraordinary marching of the campaign. In three weeks the regiment marched 340 miles through a heavy country, and Col. Ooster, to keep his men in good spirits, put a dozen of the best singers in the regiment together in the centre to sing marching songs. On August 17th the regiment was the guard of a column pursuing De Wet. The men stood at arms at 11 p. m. marched off at 12.30, and went all night until 10.30 next morning without a bite to eat, covering twenty-one miles. They marched out again in the afternoon, but Lord Kitchener, apparently recognizing there was a limit to human endurance, ordered them to go back and camp for the night. When the regiment reached Krugersdorp on August 22, after a fortnight's steady marching, the men went through the town gaily singing "The Maple Leaf Forever."

Great Britain has sent a note of the Dutch government, according to a despatch from Amsterdam to the London Daily Mail, which contains a warning that if Mr. Kruger is allowed to carry his arms to the sea, the Netherlands will be bound to take steps to prevent him from doing so. It will be considered a breach of neutrality on the part of the Netherlands.

The Militia Department at Ottawa has received the following message from Lord Roberts:

Steamer Idaho, with first portion of the Canadian contingent, should reach Halifax about October the 24th.

(Sgd.) ROBERTS.

The inference from Lord Roberts' message is that the men who are returning will come direct to Halifax. Major Pelletier is in command. There are sixteen other officers returning, and 319 men. Captain Fullerton of P. E. Island is among them. The Idaho left Cape Town Sunday.

Field Marshall Lord Roberts, in the presence of Lady Roberts and his daughter, reviewed the Canadians on the eve of their departure. It was a brilliant scene, the men, who are in excellent health, making a splendid appearance. After the march past Lord Roberts addressed them briefly.

"I cannot allow you to depart without expressing my thanks for an appreciation of your loyal services and excellent work, especially at Paardeburg, on February 27. I am sure the people of Canada will be pleased to hear how gallantly and how splendidly you have all behaved in action."

"Deeply do I regret the losses you have incurred. I should have been happier could you have returned in your full strength but no one could expect you to pass through so arduous a campaign without losses."

"I am sorry that some of you are obliged to return sooner than the rest of the regiment but I recognize the urgency of private affairs. I am confident that the Queen and the British people will never forget your services. If it should ever be my good fortune to visit Canada I hope to meet you all again."

After the troops had given cheers for the Queen and the field marshal, the latter shook hands with the Canadian officers and presented them to Lady Roberts.

Roberts reports as follows from Pretoria on Oct. 1st: "As Hamilton found in Crocodile River, near Hector'spruit, these guns. Two English twelve pounders, two seventy-five millimetre cruzeiro, two three-inch Krupp's, one seventy-five millimetre Vickers Maxim, two pom-poms, one English mountain gun, three muzzle loaders. Most of them have been destroyed. There was considerable debris on the gun carriages. There are probably more guns in the river.
