

Household Hints.

A pretty idea for dinner table decoration is a tray of sand filled with grass, among which daisies and poppies seem to be growing.

Lime water and milk is used in cases of fever, and also for children when the limbs are weak. It is also useful in cases of acidity of the stomach.

In making potato soup put as much cold water as you think necessary in your pot, along with a little nice dripping, a few onions, pepper and salt; let all come to a boil; then put in the potatoes, and let them boil down, then serve.

NICE BUNS.—One pint of flour, one pint of sugar one cup of butter, one cup of sweet milk, one tablespoonful of cloves, one of cinnamon, four eggs, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Bake in square tins and frost, or you may omit the spice, and bake in bread tins.

POTTED CHICKEN.—This is an agreeable relish, and makes a pleasant luncheon when travelling. Take a roast chicken and carve off all the meat. Take two slices of cold ham and chop it with the chicken. And to this one-fourth pound of the best butter; add salt and pepper to taste; pound this altogether to a paste, put the mixture in a jam-pot, and cover closely. It will keep in a cool place ten days.

VINEGAR CAKE.—One pound of flour, a teaspoonful of carbonate of soda well rubbed into it, a quarter of a pound of lard, half a pound of currants, and half a pound of moist sugar. Put two tablespoonfuls of vinegar into a half-pint cup, and fill it up with milk, mix the cake well with it, and if not moist enough, add a little more milk, put it into a plain tin, well greased, and bake it the usual time.

SPONGE PUDDING.—Six ounces of flour, half a teaspoonful of baking powder, a little salt and four ounces of suet to be well rubbed into the flour. Mix up the pudding with three ounces of golden syrup, and three ounces of soft sugar, two tablespoonfuls of milk, and one egg well beaten. Put it all into a buttered basin, tie it over with a cloth, and boil it three hours, not less. Serve with plain melted butter.

How to PRESERVE BOOTS AND SHOES.—When boots and shoes not in use are deposited in a damp place they become covered ordinarily with mould which attacks the leather; when deposited in a dry place they become hard and wrinkled—a fact well known to all, although the remedy may not be. This double disadvantage may be avoided if the articles are first rubbed with a rag on which a few drops of oil of turpentine have been sprinkled. The oil of turpentine acts favorably as a preservative to the leather, and it is a deterrent to rats and mice, whose depositions are often as injurious as those of temperature.

THE VERY NEWEST THING IN LADIES' DRESSES.—The newest, the very newest, thing in ladies' dresses is a hybrid garment into which the wearer insinuates her limbs as into a pair of trousers. I have not yet seen one of these robes, but I am assured that they are going to become the rage. I believe that the secret remains with a famous Bond street dressmaker, who is already making capital out of it. Ladies who have heard of the style are said to be enchanted with it, for it is claimed as a special advantage that it admits perfect freedom to the limbs. The male eye will detect no outward difference between the new and ordinary style, for the mysteries of the costume are known only to the wearer. [Sheffield Telegraph.]

On an Onion.

"I know this: An onion is the most withered and worst fruited esculent there is, and yet it is one of the most delicious to some persons that the earth produces. There is one thing that it lacks and that is popularity. I know men who, if they experience the slightest whiff of an onion, become so sick that they are in the deepest imaginable misery for hours thereafter. What I say is no exaggeration in the least. As a young Physician Attorney Hooper is afflicted in a way. On the other hand there are those who are so passionately fond of onions that they would rather eat a mess of onions than to sit down to the finest banquet in the land. General Samuel F. Hunt is one of them. General Hunt is an enthusiast on the subject of onions. He could once that every time he visits the residence of a friend of his, who makes a speciality of raising a particularly fine species of onions, he eats so many that he is astonished of himself. Many a time he slips off to a restaurant and enjoys a feast of his favorites in several courses. He says that those are the happiest moments of his life. To the travelling man, the onion is the best friend in the world. You can't think of any shape that an onion is not good. Boiled, stewed, fried, baked, fricasseed, escalloped, roasted, pickled or raw, they are palatable and delicious. Cooked with potatoes, beefsteak, turkey or duck they are exceedingly savory. Just let a fellow banging around the country, disgusted with the fare he receives at out-of-the-way hotels or boarding houses, eat a raw onion and see how it will brace him up. If you have taken too much tea of an evening, and feel the worst for your bout the next morning, manage to get outside of an onion or two, and see how it will help you. Onions are excellent cures for heavy colds, as every body knows. Then when a fellow becomes wakeful, just let him fill up on nice sliced onions. Gracious goodness, what a comfortable drowsiness will come over him. He forgets all care, and sinks into a regular old-fashioned, forty-knot snooze that does him a power of good. I tell you."

Worthy of Praise.—As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that is a public benefactor, and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold fifty cents a bottle by J. Wilson. [6]

It cures all Scrofulous Diseases, acts on the Blood Liver, Kidneys, Skin and Bowels, and brings the bloom of health to the pallid cheek. 2:

Undoubtedly the best medicine to keep on hand for Colds, for Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, and Pulmonary troubles generally, is Haggard's Pectoral Balsam. It will not cure Consumption, but it will cure those troublesome conditions leading thereto. 2:
