> 'Geoffrey! Geoffrey! Take care!' Her cry was followed by the report of a gun, and she saw a whiff of smoke rising from the bush in front of her. A wail rose from her white schr. Olinda lips, but a sudden fury started up in her bosom like a flame, and she raised the gun and fired in the direction of the smoke. Almost at the same instant she heard Geoffrey fire, and a man sprang up from the bush so suddenly that his gun flew from his hand. Absolutely forgetful of herself, she sprang out, and a bullet whizzed past her head and buried itself in the logs behind her. Then, as if in answer to her cry, schr. Springbird Geoffrey's 'Ronnie! Ronnie!' rang out, and he leaped to her side, and not only to her side, but in front of her, so that he shielded her,

Go into the hut! Go into the hut!' he said, sharply. 'Go in at once! Leave them to me, lad.'

For response she laughed a strange laugh, and slipping in a fresh cartridge, ranged herself by his side. It was a terrible position. They stood there shirt-sleeve and dropping on the a mark for hidden assailants of whose gist my condition was made much worse," writes Miss Minerva E. Michie, daughter of a well known citizen of Portland. "I had suffered so terribly with indigestion and biliousness constipation, liver sluggishness and occasional headaches. My appetite was variable—I wanted too many and had constant aching in the stomach, attacks of dizziness, pains between the shoulders, stifling feeling after meals and felt I wasn't going to "The moment I used Dr. Hamilton's a few pills my chest and back were relieved of pain, and my head felt clear and no longer was full of blood and rushing noises. I kept on using Dr. Hamilton's Pills and slowly but surely my annetite returned and I gradually regained strength, color and spirits. To-day I'am as well as ever and attribute my present splendid condition entirely to Dr. Hamilton's number they were ignoran;. Geoffrey saw their peril, and with his left arm literally swung her back into the hut, and, still covering ner, was drawing in backwards, when a bullet struck his arm.

With a cry of rage and agony Cottie raised her gun and fired; her cry was echoed by the unseen foe; but by this time Geoffrey and Cotite were inside the hut, with the door bolted. There they stood looking, not at each other, but at the door, and paunting audibly; and there they stood with gun in hand, there hearts devoured by suspense.

In a moment or two, which seemed ours, she turned her eyes upon him. His face was white and stern, his lips set tightly.

'Are you hurt, lad?' he asked FACTS THAT CAN

BE PROVED. "I know it to be true!" said the man whose word was doubted. "Will you was the bold answer. "Will you bet me one dollar that it is so?" "No," replied the positive fellow, "I'm not going to risk my own money to please you?" that is just where he "fell down." He would swear to it, but he wouldn't risk a dollar on it. There are, however, thousands of people who truthfully affirm they have been cured of Indigestion, constipation, headaches, and other stomach disorders by using the famous herbal remedy, Mother Seigel's Syrup. Hundreds have declared it under oath M'me. Elvira Nowe, of Cherry Hill, Lunenberg Co., N.S., writes:—"I was troubled with Dyspepsia two years and

'It's nothing, Ronnie! It's nothing, lad!' he said, reassuringly. Keep your heart up; the door's a good one, and we can hold out for some time yet. How many are there?'

All this was said in the breathless whisper of intense excitement; and in a like whisper she answered him, and with little, short sobs, as she opened her eyes and let them dwell upon his blood-stained sleeve.

'I-I don't know. There may be ever so many.'

He nodded, and, crouching down, went to the window. No one was in sight. There was a rough shutter to the window, closing from the outside, and he banged it to and bolted it; then he came back to her and laid his hand encouragingly on her should-
