ADVERTISE IN THE EVENING TELEGRAM.

They Are Riding for a Fall

With emigrants the Red Cross boats are filled from stem to stern, Bound for the land of Uncle Sam a living for to earn.
Denied them in their native land,
search for it as they might
It seems as if a blighting hand has grasped our country tight.

With a heavy tax laid on your backs,
relief cannot be found,
The finest types of fishermen down to the earth are ground;
They get no show to strike a blow, a livelihood to win
Their money was spilled like water,
for to put those grafters in.

Their heelers and their parasites are seen on every hand,
An honest man can't prosper in this
God forsaken land;
The Bays are being depleted, but the
writing's on the wall
Oh, those journalistic Doctors have been riding for a fall.

Stand under from the nose dive,
'twill be an awful spill,
Then firmer hands will grasp the wheel, it is the people's will;
All workers have a grievance real,
you hear it everywhere
No one seems to be happy for it must be in the air.

Things will be so without a doubt,
'till the people in their might Shall stand up in their thousands and leap into the fight;
And haul out those incapables, who
now are drawing pay
From office that they never should be holding for a day.

Public spirit has been sleeping, the time has come to wake
And drive those spendthrifts out from power, this country needs a shake;
Stand up like men maintain your rights, it never should be so That grafting politicians should have laid your country low.

With wealth abounding 'round our shores, and also on the land
The bright sun of prosperity, should shine on every hand;
More honor and less grasping 'mongst
our rulers should be shown
And then, my friends, and not 'till then, will we come into our own.

The People's Paper warned them expenses to curtail
But on deaf ears that warning fell, all caution seemed to fail;
But the rays of bright prosperity shall once more beam all 'round
And instead of gloom and sadness, true happiness will be found.

Now voters of the West Coast just take a tip from me
The time has come for you to strike and set your country free;
Too long has she been throttled and by Coakerism cursed,
Arise, arise, stand up like men, and those fetters we will burst.

Sir John and his two colleagues who are fighting with Monroe
Are determined on clean government, and the grafters have to go;
So mark your ballots fearlessly, three crosses just put down
On the lines with Sir John Crosbie, Will Linegar and Will Browne.

Farewell Performance of Jackson and Miller

POPULAR SINGERS CONCLUDE ENGAGEMENT TO-NIGHT.

May Jackson and Ernest Miller, the popular singing duo, who have been filling an engagement at the Nickel Theatre, conclude their stay with to-night's performance. During the past few weeks, these people have made many friends by their beautiful singing and they carry with them the best wishes of St. John's for continued success on the concert and operatic stage. To-night is the last showing of the great film entitled "Modern Marriage," starring the old favorites Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne.

Seekers of thrills are promised a rare treat when they see Ethel Clayton in "The Remittance Woman," an F.B.O. photoplay which comes to this theatre to-morrow. The backgrounds of the story, which was originally written by Achmed Abdullah for Everybody's Magazine, are laid among the Society folk of San Francisco and the mysterious temples of warlike tongs in Canton, China.

Miss Clayton is seen as a fast-stepping society girl who is sent to China on a remittance by her irate father. In Canton, as the possessor of a vase which has reputed powers to give the owner the power to rule the Nation, the girl is the prey of countless contending factions, and is led through a series of adventures that are guaranteed to send shivers down the spines of even the most case-hardened fans.

The Menace of Coakerism and What It Means

By TRUTH.

Vote for Coakerism and blue ruin for the country.

Vote for a Monroe Government and the clear sky of prosperity will be ours again.

Vote for Coakerism and no more employment, not even rockbreaking.

Vote for a Monroe Government and plenty of welcome labour which prosperous times will bring.

Vote for Coakerism and a more ruined St. John's.

Vote for a Monroe Government and the capitals expansions in industries, trade and commerce which comes with the days of prosperity.

Vote for Coakerism and you vote for a one man rule.

Vote for a Monroe Government and there will be no tampering with the British standard of liberty and freedom.

Vote for Coakerism, then you fishermen of the South and West bid good-bye to your fisheries.

Vote for a Monroe Government and the safeguarding of your livelihood for yourself and your dear ones.

Vote for Coakerism and the emigrant ship carrying off your sons, daughters, brothers and sisters to foreign countries.

Vote for a Monroe Government and the exodus will cease and all will live in their native country contented and happy.

Vote for Coakerism and more taxation.

Vote for a Monroe Government and less taxation and economy.

Vote for Coakerism and a further disastrous tinkering with the fisheries.

Vote for a Monroe Government and the free development and encouragement of the Fishery.

Vote for Coakerism which will surely crush the South West Coast and Conception Bay districts.

Vote for the Monroe Government when the fisheries all over the island will be encouraged and the Conception Bay districts will once more be marching on to prosperity with other sections of the Island.

Coakerism means Bolshevism, compulsory control, ruination of our fisheries, limited supplies and general distress.

A Monroe Government means a clean administation, freedom of the fisheries which will be encouraged, good prices for your catch, plenty of work, contentment and happiness.

Monroe, Monroe, Monroe, a clean leader with a clean party.

Wedding Bells

AIKEN—LAMB.

Joan of Arc church, Toronto, was the scene of a pretty wedding on May 3, when Edith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Aiken, of Toronto, was married to Mr. Thomas F. Lamb of St. John's, Newfoundland. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked lovely in a dress of sand crepe, heavily beaded, with hat to match and short cape of fur. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Helen Chadwick of Cleveland, Ohio, wore a dainty frock of orange crepe romaine with hat to match and carried roses. Miss Helen Hodges, of Cleveland, was a pretty little flower girl, all in blue, with basket of flowers. Mr. C. E. Little, of Trenton Falls, acted as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Aiken wore a very becoming dress of black Canton crepe, with black hat. A dainty wedding breakfast was served in the dining-room and an orchestra was stationed in the drawing-room. Later Mr. and Mrs. Lamb motored to New York, the bride going away in a French costume of black and white Canton crepe and hat en suite.

World's Biggest Window

The largest sheet of plate glass in existence is at Wembley Exhibition, where it has been erected to gaze at and through. This mammath window pane has had an adventurous journey from Yorkshire to London.

Being much too large for carriage by rail—for the sheet measures 14ft. by 24ft., it had to be transported in an enormous lorry, towed by a steam tractor. A special route had to be mapped out for the journey, and many detours were necessary to avoid bridges to low for the giant crate in which the glass was packed. Despite these precautions, one bridge was cleared by so small a margin that a match could scarcely have been inserted between the top of the crate and the masonary above.

The area of this monster pane is 336 sq. ft. If laid flat on the ground there would be ample room for a dozen couples to dance on it. The handling of so large a sheet of glass at Wembley was no light task, in spite of the fact that special apparatus had been installed for the purpose. At the works the problem was solved by means of conveyors, equipped with huge suckers, resembling the tentacles of a giant octopus, which pick up enormous plates of glass and carry them about as if they were sheets of paper.

The world's biggest window has a history probably quite as interesting as an industrial exhibit at Wembley. In the course of its manufacture it has undergone many strange processes, the most remarkable, perhaps, being that in which an army of workmen danced on its surface, to press the plate on to a great grinding table and plaster of Paris.

Previously, the honour of possessing the largest pane of glass in the world was claimed for the Hotel Majestic in Paris where it let in light on the deliberations of the British Delegates at the Peace Conference and received as much attention from visitors as the spectacle of the Big Five making history.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DISTEMPER.

Forest Monarch's Ba

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C.—(Can. Press)—The story of a terrific b between a bull moose and a t wolf, which proved fatal to the mer is told by Provincial Constab F. Sinclair, of Lucerne, in a lette officials here. While traversing woods near Yellowhead Lake, Sinclair witnessed the struggle shot the moose, which had been tally wounded by the wolf. Appar ly the moose had been chased miles by the wolf. Becoming fatig the larger animal fell down a m tain side into a cul-de-sac and to fight. The moose was able to the aggressor off for some time was finally so badly lacerated that officer considered it merciful to p bullet through its head.
