Natural Gas for London.

The London Free Press says: According to the statement of S. L. McKay, of Sarnia, one of the natural gas promoters who came to the city yesterday to interview the officers of the City Gas Company, London is to be served with natural gas by September 1.

Said Mr. McKay to The Free Press last night.:

"There is no doubt the natural gas will be here by the date mentioned. We expect that it will be distibuted through the mains of the City Gas Company. A definite agreement as to that was not reached at this afternoon's meeting. But it is as certain as anything can be that the gas will be here. We have the pipes along the way now; indeed 25 miles of the 78 are laid."

"Do you think you have a supply that would meet the needs of the city for years to come?" Mr. McKay was asked.

"We contemplate to spend $800,000 to bring the gas here," he replied. "We would hardly do that if we were not sure that we would have it to market for many years to come."

Further, he stated that the gas will be brought through a 12-inch main extending straight from the Tilbury fields. This main, he declared, would carry 20,000,000 cubic feet a day, which should be sufficient for the city's needs. The intention is to retail the gas at 25 cents a thousand feet.

J. A. Scott Knows What is Making Clean Scalps.

In order to rid your scalp of filthy dandruff you must kill the germ. There is a hair dressing called Parisian Sage which is now sold in every town in Canada. It is guaranteed by J. A. Scott to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair, splitting hair and scalp itch in two weeks or money back.

If you have dandruff get a large 50 cent bottle to-day and rid yourself of it. Remember that if dandruff germs are not destroyed in time, the hair will surely fall out and baldness will follow.

Sarah Jane.

One day she wears a harem skirt (which has but few defenders); the next she wears her brother's shirt, and likewise his suspenders. She joins the lodge and rides the goat, does many things that shock us, and now she's learning how to vote, and lift her voice in caucus. When she goes forth on Dobbin's back, she needs no lady's saddle; she gives her trusty steed a whack, and jogs along astraddle. She doesn't know the works of Pope from Thackeray's "Pendennis," she's training as the white man's hope and she is strong at tennis. When whiskers sprouted on her face it didn't much amaze her, and oft I hear her singing bass while hunting for her razor. She is pathetic, and she's droll, she's more or less than human; she is that trial to the soul the modern manish woman. You'd hear the countryside complain if I wore waists and dresses that I had swiped from Sarah Jane, her rats and store-made tresses. The girls would hoot me out of town; they'd say I tried to shame them; they'd lynch me in my borrowed gown, and not a soul would blame them.—Walt Mason.
