MARINE MISHAPS.
London, Feb. 25.—The British steamer Glenlochy, which arrived at Falmouth yesterday, while on a voyage from Charleston for Bremen, reports that Capt. Hay, her commander, had died at sea.

The British steamer Lepanto, from New York, Feb. 9, for Hull, was in collision off the Lizard with the French bark Zevallos. The latter vessel sustained the loss of two of her yards.

PRESIDENT KRUGER'S PROMISES.
Johannesburg, Feb. 25.—President Kruger yesterday addressed the committee that was formed to relieve the sufferers by the recent dynamite explosion. In the course of his remarks he highly praised the work done by the committee, and said: "You have done to others as you would wish to be done by. Those who have given as you have can expect to receive a great deal themselves." This is construed to be a promise of large concessions to the Uitlanders.

THE JOHANNESBURG EXPLOSION.
Johannesburg, Feb. 25.—Inquiry into the causes of the recent explosion of dynamite at Viedendorp has elicited the fact that a truck load of dynamite from Port Elizabeth was placed on a side track at the Braamfontein depot. A locomotive, in shunting cars, came into collision with the car containing the dynamite. The contents of the car exploded from the shock, causing the explosion of the dynamite, which was contained in cars standing on a track near by.

THE SULTAN'S PERIL.
London, Feb. 25.—A dispatch from Constantinople says that no steps whatever have been taken by the Porte to inaugurate the reforms that were promised for Armenia and Macedonia. Nobody conversant with the Yildiz Palace methods expects that any reform will be instituted during the Sultan's lifetime.

The dispatch further says that persistent rumors have been current for several days that an attempt will be made on the life of the Sultan on the occasion of his annual visit to Constantinople proper on Feb. 28 to kiss the prophet's mantle.

JAMESON AND HIS MEN.
A last night's dispatch from Davenport, England, says: The steamer Victoria, with Dr. Jameson on board, has sailed for Southampton or London. The strictest secrecy was observed in regard to the prisoners, and no one was allowed to board the ship. The Lancashire, which was brought here by the Victoria, was landed this morning. The officers of the regiment say that Dr. Jameson and his companions are all in the second-class cabin. During the voyage they were allowed to see the officers of the Lancaster regiment, but only in their own quarters. Dr. Jameson is in charge of Major McCarthy, of the Lancaster regiment. There are no civil officers on board the Victoria.

The morning papers publish column after column of stories told by the men who came to England on the Harlech Castle. These stories contain little that has not already been cabled.

INCONCEIVABLE MISERY.
London, Feb. 25.—A dispatch dated Van, Turkey, Feb. 24, says: The need for relief is steadily increasing. We are now helping 15,000 destitute persons. The winter limit is based on the methods suggested some years ago by Mr. Jos. Chamberlain in an article in the Nineteenth Century, entitled "Shall We Americanize Our Institutions?"

Right Hon. Vernon Harcourt said he preferred the original scheme suggested by Mr. Chamberlain, but added that he would agree to Fridays being devoted to the estimates. He did not approve of applying closure after twenty Fridays. Mr. Balfour announced that the Government was willing to try the experiment for a year.

PAPERS BOUGHT UP.
A special cable to the New York World says concerning the French crisis: All the telegrams from Paris to the English press have been for obvious reasons hostile to Bourgeois.

Therefore the United States may have been misinformed about the real issues. The Paris Temps and Figaro, which are violently attacking the Ministry, both figured on the famous list of newspapers which had accepted bribes from the Panama company.

Now that the Bourgeois Ministry has secured the extradition of Arton, some interesting revelations may be expected for Mr. Riard will assuredly leave no stone unturned to induce Arton to tell all he knows. Hence the supreme necessity of suppressing Mr. Riard and all his radical colleagues before the Arton trial comes on.

The correspondent understands, on what he believes excellent authority, added to by the bitter cold weather that is prevailing. The Turkish officials are unable to assist the sufferers, and there is nobody in the country to whom they can appeal for relief. Moreover, the demands made upon the Constantinople relief committee are already so heavy that it is feared that this committee will be precluded from helping the Zeitounis.

SHUT OUT LIGHT AND AIR.
Paris, Feb. 25.—To keep down the tax the poor peasants used to limit the number of doors and windows in their miserable hovels—in other words, shut out God's air and light—and today you will see all over France hundreds of thousands of cabins, with only one door and one window on account of this odious law. But whether the income tax will be a wise substitute is doubtful. It looks as though it were intended gradually to raise the income tax, suppressing other kinds of imposts, until we come to direct taxation. No discrimination made in the law between the man who earns his income by hard work and the one who simply does nothing and by means of inherited fortune or estates gets a revenue without doing any work. This is its chief effect, and when it comes up for discussion in the Chamber there will be a lively time.

THE WAR IN AETHIOPIA.
London, Feb. 25.—A dispatch from Rome states that Gen. Baratieri is concentrating his forces at Adowa, and is occupying the pass at Gasciokah. The entire native army is said by the same authority to have withdrawn to the south to avoid further contact with the Italian army. Private sources of information, however, have shown that previous movements of this character, which have been styled retreats, were only part of a well-conceived and ably-executed plan of the natives to cut the Italians' base of supplies at Massaua. The concentration of the Italian forces by Gen. Baratieri would indicate rather a necessity for unity of forces to repel attack than a victory.

Adowa is situated in the interior plateaus of Abyssinia, far from the coast. The dispatch from Rome says that in view of the recent decree calling out the reserves, it may appear that the army under Baratieri is in a position to advance. Further advances are anxiously awaited.

TURKISH NATIONALIST NEWS-PAPER.
London, Feb. 25.—The first copy of the Turkish newspaper, El Nizar—the organ of the Turkish Nationalists, has appeared at Cairo. The editor is Mohammed Murad Bey. He escaped from Turkey about the time Sid Pasha took refuge at the British embassy, and subsequently visited London, where he made a favorable impression. Murad leaves no doubt as to the line of policy he intends to pursue. He declares that he will fearlessly expose all injustice and oppose all measures in favor of the Sultan, to be substituted by the Nationalists, and worthy of the sacred Khalifat and the honor of the Ottoman empire.

Among the reforms advocated by him are a change in the rule of succession in favor of the eldest son, an extension of equal rights to all Ottomans, the regular taxation of all lands without exception, the appointment of Ministers and high officials by the Sultan, with the approval of the Grand Vizier, and the abolition of the Grand Vizier's office.

He invites all Armenians to unite with the Ottoman Association of Progress and Unity, and to compel the Sultan to carry out the reforms necessary to the security of the country. Falling in this it is declared that the Nationalists will persevere in a crusade and drive Abdul the Damned from the throne.

Murad has just been convicted in his absence, at Constantinople for treason, and sentenced to death. The charge was that he had conspired with the Sultan to overthrow the Government.

It means
