Dear Doctor,—I have received a copy of the document presented to the city council, signed by 62 members of the medical profession of our city—practically all the doctors of London—testifying their appreciation of my course as medical officer of health during my tenure of office for the period of 29 years, and asking for a tangible recognition of my long service. I sincerely thank you as one of the signers of the paper, and assure you that while life lasts I shall remember the courtesy and kindness ever received from my brother physicians. The lot of a medical officer of health is not a bed of roses, as he is often the subject of unjust and ignorant criticism, but I retire from the position conscious of having done my duty to the best of my ability, and proud of having the approbation of so many of my brethren, who are best able to judge whether the office has been efficiently filled or not. Very sincerely yours,

NO MORE DISPUTING IN BRITISH ADMIRALTY

American Expert Sees Little Other Change Probable. [Special to The Advertiser.]

New York, May 28 .- Discussing the appointment of Admiral Jackson as first ealord of the British admiralty, J. W. T. Mason, war expert of the United Press, says today: "Under the new regime at the admiralty there will be no scandal of constant disputing such as occurred between Churchill and Lord Fisher. But, otherwise, it is difficult to see what Balfour and Admiral Jackson can do which has not been done be-fore. Anyway, two prime accomplishments of the British navy will continue German commerce will be kept off the seas and British troops and supplies will be ferried to France secure against sub-

FREEZING AGAIN

The frost on Thursday morning cut down both clover and timothy hay, besides destroying many thousands of dollars worth of young vegetable plants and fruit blossoms. A heavy shower of rain is all that will save that part of the crop which has not been too badly

The full extent of the damage to the hay crop was not realized until yesterday's sun had increased the amount of damage from the frost.

Although the weather bureau reports howed that the thermometer touched freezing point again last night and early growths which were not killed by the stood the slight touch of last night.
