Shortage of Labor at Montreal Results in Recourse to "Crimping."

HECTOR LANGEVIN FUNERAL Steel Rails Shipped from Sydney for Hill's British Columbia Railroads.

MONTREAL, June 15.—So short is the local market of ordinary laboring men that manufacturers and employment agencies are now accused of inducing Frenchmen, sailors and others under contract with vessels, plying between Montreal and foreign ports to desert. It appears that almost from the opening of the season steamships in port have had difficulty in keeping their sailors and Frenchmen, and on at least half a dozen ships desertions have been so frequent that vessels are seriously handicapped in putting to sea.
