CLIMBS FROM TRAIN INTO A SNOWBANK

Toronto Lady Tells of Miraculous Escape From Recent Maritime Wreck

Mrs. Starr, wife of Dr. F. N. G. Starr, of Toronto, who was a passenger on the Maritime express, which was wrecked at Campbellton, on Friday, considers herself extremely fortunate to have escaped with so little injury.

"The two sleeping coaches turned three-quarters over," said Mrs. Starr to the Toronto Starr. "It was about three o'clock in the morning, and everybody was in bed. There was no fuss or hysterical excitement at all. We climbed out of a window on the upper side of the coach. It was the first time I ever realized that snow was warm. We had very little, of course. We managed to find our stockings. The train crew helped everybody through the windows and then we were all taken up to the mail car, which had not left the track. Here the worst hurt were fixed up with a place to lie down. The trainmen rummaged around in the overturned cars and got some more of our things, and then we were taken to Campbellton, seven miles away, where the railway people had doctors waiting to look after us. It was really a marvellous escape. There was no serious injuries. I was quite badly bruised but that was all. The train crew behaved splendidly."

Mrs. Starr, who was formerly Miss Annie C. Mackay, of New Glasgow, was returning from attending the funeral of her brother in New Glasgow.

LEAVES FOR FRONT

(From the Gloucester Northern Light)

Dr. Arthur J. Losier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Losier of Tracadie, who has been practising his profession in Chatham for several years, left this week on his way to service at the front.

Dr. Losier was the recipient of many tokens of esteem from different societies in Chatham, and was one of the guests of honor at a banquet given by the citizens last week.

The best wishes of his many friends in his native county for his early and safe return go with Dr. Losier in his country's service.

TORTURED BY CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Paralyzed Bowels and Digestion

ST. BONIFACE DE SHAWINGAN, QUEBEC, Feb. 3rd, 1914.

"It is a pleasure to me to inform you that after suffering from Chronic Constipation for 2 1/2 years; I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-tives'. While I was a student at Berthier College, I became so ill I was forced to leave the college. Severe pains across the intestines continually tortured me and I came to a point when I could not stoop down at all, and my Digestion became paralyzed. Some one advised me to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and at once I felt a great relief. After I had taken four or five boxes I realized that I was completely cured and what made me glad, also, was that they were acting gently, causing no pain whatever to the bowels. All those who suffer with Chronic Constipation should follow my example and take 'Fruit-a-tives' for they are the medicine that cures."

MAGLOIRE PAQUIN

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 5 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE EFFECT OF MEADOW WEEDS

Weeds growing in hay crops may actually increase the tonnage of cured hay. But if the farmers had parts of plants of wormseed mustard, false shepherd's purse, mayweed, etc., finely ground and mixed with their hay, they would better appreciate why dairy cows of horses toss weedy hay out of their mangers. Some inconsiderate farmers chop weedy hay in a cutting box thus preventing their stock from picking it over and avoiding the weeds. They do not seem to realize that many such weeds are wholesome or even poisonous and that when forced to eat them animals fall to make gains, or yield a small quantity of badly flavored milk and become generally unthrifty. If forced to eat such feed they will consume only sufficient for their existence. The most economical gains are obtained from feeds which are not only highly nutritious but are also relished by the stock. This is a condensed item from the introduction to "Fodder and Pasture Plants" copies of which may be procured by Canadian Farmers from the Government Printing Bureau, Ottawa, for the nominal price, 60c. This book has twenty-five full-page illustrations showing the principal grasses and clovers in their natural colors.

What Cures Eczema?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Watergreen, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription, can be relied upon. It would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription. All druggists have D. D. D., 25c, $1. Drop into our store today, just to talk over the merits of this wonderful Prescription, $1.00 a bottle. Ask also about D. D. D. Soap.

IDEAL MOTHERHOOD

Written by Mrs. Richards and read at convention at St. John, Sept. 15th, 16th, and 17th, 1914.

The inuance of the mother in the home is great and therefore every mother should strive to fill her position as worthily as possible. She is described as the Queen who sits upon her throne crowned and accepted as none other can be. Her environment is complete, her reign unrivalled and the moral issues of her empire are eternal.

Truly, her subjects are sometimes rebellious, yet she rules them with marvellous patience, winning tenderness and unending love.

Her memory is sacred while she lives and becomes a perpetual inspiration even when the bright flowers bloom above her sleeping dust. Scotland, with her well known reverence for Motherhood, has said, that "An ounce of mother is worth more than a pound of claret." Napoleon also cherished a high conception of a mother's power, and believed that the mothers of the land could shape the destinies of his beloved France.

There is one vision that never fades from the soul and that is the vision of mother and home. John Randolph was once heard to say that only one thing saved him from atheism, and that was tender remembrance of the hour when a devout mother, kneeling by his side, took his little hands in hers and taught him to say "Our Father who art in Heaven."

Realizing all this, it is not natural that all mothers should have an ideal motherhood ever before them, and strive to reach, as near as possible, its standard. There are so many apparently conflicting demands upon the time of the average mother, that there must be some planning and persistent loyalty to it, together with considerable independence of the opinions of our neighbors, if we would find time to attend to the inspiring, as well as the disciplining, of our children.

I think a mother's duty to her little children comes first. Certainly her duty to her home is greater than that to the community, and grownups in the home are able to be more independent than the child, and are less seriously affected by neglect than children.

Then, as to the ideal mother. First of all, I would have her serene, able to meet emergencies to deal with, and four things at a time without becoming cross and able to steady and help a petulant and unreasonable child without losing her self control. It takes grace to be serene and it also takes something more, for serenity rests upon a physical as well as a spiritual basis. It requires fresh air and sleep and wholesome meals to produce it.

Next, I would have her so affectionate that her children might always feel certain of her love, even when weak and naughty. But this affection should never interfere with absolute justice, else the children would grow up with the idea that wrong doing is atoned for and forgiven by caresses.

Third, I would have her a ruler. Reverent obedience of the child to parents is the preparation for reverent obedience of the man to God. Authority is not tyranny. As the authority of God is not tyranny, neither is the authority of a mother when rightly used. If it is rightly used it will be used under the feeling of tender love and affectionate interest. The children themselves will more and more come to feel that, and feeling it to render a cheerful and willing obedience to it. We mothers should rule in love, in Christian love. But, we should rule.

Fourth, I would have her sympathetic, taking an interest in all her children's affairs. The mother who is never too tired or busy to bend a sympathetic ear to listen to her little one's childish griefs, is quite sure to obtain and hold her child's full confidence through childhood and young womanhood or manhood, as the case may be.

Fifth, I would have her thrifty, of course, but I should be afraid of having her too fine a house keeper. Some how excessive devotion to an immaculate home does not seem to create the best sort of atmosphere for active boys and girls. It is apt to make them think that some other child's mother is not so fussy as theirs, and therefore they can have a better time in some other place. And when children once get the idea into their heads that their mother and their home are not the best in the world, the very foundations of society are endangered.

Too many injunctions, not to touch this, and not to get that onto the floor, is down right perilous. If it results in nothing more, it is quite certain to provoke a distaste for over-aidness, which generally ends in slovenliness.

Virtues carried to excess in the parents generally produce the balancing faults in the next generation, and so the average is maintained.

Sixth, I would have her give a portion of her time to outside interests, those interests which would be of benefit to her family as well as herself. I think she should take an interest in the schools her children attend, and let them know that she is interested in their studies. She should endeavour to get a little time for reading. As her children grow older, she does not seem to have time to read and it is then that she really needs to read and be interested in the literature she wishes her children to read.

Then, I think, every mother owes it

CRIPPLED BY RHEUMATISM

34 N.Y. Ave., White Plains, N.Y. 10610. "Will you please send me a box of GIN PILLS? When I sent for the last box, I was all crippled up with Rheumatism and my face was so badly swollen, that I could hardly see out of my eyes, but after taking about six of the pills, I felt some better, and after a few days I had no more pain. I have recommended GIN PILLS to some of my friends who are troubled in the same way. I never intend to be without them as I have tried so many other pills and got no result."

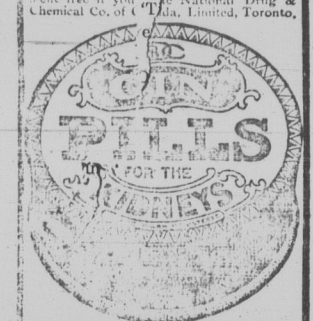

Mrs. ED. DEAN.

GIN PILLS

FOR THE KIDNEYS

You can readily tell if your kidneys or bladder is affected. You will have pains in the small of the back, groin or hips, your urine will be heavily colored, brick dust or mucus deposits will be in the morning, your wrists and ankles may swell, all due to impure blood, which GIN PILLS will soon purify.

GIN PILLS are "MILK PILLS," 50c. a box, 5 for $2.50. Sold in U.S. under the name "KIDNEY PILLS." Trial treatment free at your National Drug & Chemical Co., 171 N. LaSalle, Chicago, Ill.

to her children, and to be neat in her appearance. It is a good thing for a child to be proud of its mother. There is always hope for a boy when he admires his mother and mothers should want to be adaptable in the eyes of their children, both as far as character and physical appearance is concerned. A little extra thought about our appearance is worth while, when we regard it as a means of retaining an influence over a soul, that the world is spreading in many spheres for on every side.

And lastly and above all things, an ideal mother needs faith in her children, and genuine, hearty, loving trust in God. A Christian life lived daily through years in the presence of children, is an immense power. They never can get away from the memory that Christ was their mother's friend. There is a reality to it which no false reasoning can persuade them to regard as an invention of the imagination.

A PERIOD OF REST.

In the fall of 1914 many dairy cows dried off somewhat earlier than usual on account of scarcity of feed. Others stopped milking because their owners have left them the habit of putting up their shutters at the same time that the cheese factory boarded up its windows. However long the period of rest may have been, six weeks or four months, cows will soon be ready for business as usual during 1915. Now the point arises, can the period of work be extended? That means careful preparation in a variety of ways.

One item may be well noted by the dairyman who has not yet endeavored to shorten that rest-period. It does not follow that a cow giving 1,200 pounds of milk or so during her first month will give as much during the whole season as the cow that gives only 800 pounds the first month. The first one may be dry in a little over seven months and then settle down to extended repose, while the second cow will be producing for ten months, enabling her owner to take advantage of good prices in fall and winter. Obviously, therefore, correct judgment as to a cow's production is to be based on a knowledge of the total weight for the season, not for the best month or two only, for that period of rest is a very variable factor.

Keeping track of the weight given by each cow is simplified by using the forms supplied free by the government. Write to the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa, for samples of the record forms for three days
