Montreal is to have a speed skating tournament on March 12. It is very probable that several of the New York amateur experts will go northward. Mitchell and Cleary are matched to spar with soft gloves. Cleary is to have two months to get ready for the contest and is to have half the receipts. The Maple Leaf baseball club of St. The maple Leaf baseban city of St. Thomas is organized for the season. It will include many of the old Atlantics, which has become defunct.

The March meeting at Croydon began Tuesday. The international hurdle race (handicap) was won by Mr. Gregory's Chicard, Mr. Carnon's Sachem second, Lord Howe's Frency third. Eleven started.

The entire receipts of the house will be given to Joe Pendergast at Turn hall, March 20, if he excels Mitchell in scientific points in four rounds. To any other pugilist who surpasses Mitchell $100 will

According to New York Truth the question of sending a United States lacrosse team to England is still being agitated, but it is more than probable that the project will be abandoned as there is very little money in the trip.

Mike Coburn states that he had no intention of claiming a forfeit of $260 from Mike Donovan due on account of failure to produce Hughes, the blacksmith, to fight Paddy Sullivan, and is willing to accept a better man as a substitute.

The National rifle association is arranging for five matches during the coming season at Creedmoor, to be known as the president's match, the governor's match, the merchants' match, the bankers and brokers' match and the manufacturers'

About forty sports of London held a cocking main Tuesday night in a vacant house beyond the city limits. The contest was kept up to a late hour, and considerable money changed hands. There were three battles fought at $10 a side, and the fourth battle at $25 a side.

There were five entries for the gold medal at the Richmond street rink, London, Tuesday night. The skaters were B. Screaton, A. Williams, F. Darvill, W. Martin, and H. Anderson. The prize was won by B. Screaton, who made the five miles in 27 minutes 15 seconds. A. Williams was half

At a sporting place in Meriden, Conn. Alfred Elson, a pedestrian, wagered $5 that he could run three and one-half miles in thirty minutes, giving the man who bet with him permission to choose the track. The track chosen was about the red hot stove in the place. Elson accepted. The draughts of the stove were opened and more coal put on. The course required 176 laps to the mile. Elson ran 400 laps and then fell insensible.

Trotting at Collingwood.

COLUNGWOOD, March 5.—The 3-minute trot and the colt trot, postponed yesterday, came off at 10 this morning. Lady Collins took one heat yesterday and Lottie H two. This morning Lady Collins got two more heats, winning the race, with Lottie H 2d and J. K. Leslie 3d. Colt trot-Little Fred 1st, Dot 2d, St.

-How Three Toronto Sports Fleeced Chum.

Picton, March 4. - Four Toronto "sports" arrived here last week and stayed over Sunday, intending to play a little game upon one of their chums. They worked up a 150 yard foot race on the ice tor a certain stake. One of their number was to run against one Reynolds of this place, and the former was to fall and allow Reynolds to win. Their dupe was told that Reynolds was no runner and the Picton sports would bet against him. The dupe accordingly risked his pile on Reynolds who lost the race just as the Toronto sports calculated. The "dupe" dropped about $600 most of which went into the hands or pockets of his chums.

Wrestling and Boxing at Montreal. A very large number of persons assembled in Union hall, Montreal, Monday evening, to see the wrestling match for the other two to the ground. $250 a side between Gus E. Lambert and Leopold Arnault. The match was under Græco-Roman rules, the best two in three. The first round was won by Arnault in nine minutes, but the second and third were minutes, but the second and third were taken by Lambert in five and three minutes respectively, the latter thus win-ning the match. Considerable banter passed between James Hurst, who boxed here a while ago, and James Cash, which ended in a boxing match, according to marquis of Queensbury rules, being arranged for between the two, to take place on March 13 in the same hall. Cash claims to be middle-weight champion of the United States. Huest offers to fight any man in States. Hurst offers to fight any man in Canada from 100 to 500 lbs.—Marquis of Queensbury rules. He weighs 135 lbs.

Toronto Canoe Club.

At the annual meeting of the Toronto canoe club Tuesday evening last, officers just seen some one pass who looked like were elected for 1884 as follows : Commodore, Hugh Neilson; vice-commodore, John T. R. Stinson; librarian, Frank N. Nicholson; secretary-treasurer, Robert Tyson. Three honorary members were also elected, Chas. W. Burk, Erastus Wi-man, John Hague. Some books and pho-ing, we have concluded to place it extenman, John Hague. Some books and photographs were presented to the club by Mr. Stinson and Mr. Neilson. The reports of the secretary-treasurer show a balance in hand of $11.75 over all liabilities and street in hand of $11.75 over all liabilities that the club is in a satisfactory condition. The Club's cances are in future to carry a distinguishing signal on the peak of the mainsail, which plan is gaining favor amongst cance clubs, as it enables canceists to recognize one another at a considerable distance. The smaller cances of the club, which are principally without centreboards, will have a much better show in the club's races during the coming season, as a large challenge cup has been provided especially for their benefit. It is to be offered for "reaching and running" races so that large cances with centre-boards which go well to windward cannot beat the little ones every time. The combined paddling and sailing races will be run on the same principle. As most of the clubs attending the meeting of the American cance association have adopted plain fatigue-dress uniforms the Toronto club will do likewise, this year. They expect to The club's canoes are in future to carry will do likewise, this year. They expect to have a large contingent at the A.C.A. meet at Grindstone island next August.

The Power of a Silent Woman. One of the greatest instances of silence was Cordelia, the daughter of King Lear, writes Sir Stafford Northcote. I suppose there is no character in any of Shakspeare's plays that produces a more wonderful effect on the imagination and feelings of those who read or see his plays performed with so few touches or strokes or so few words spoken as Cordelia. I was looking at a comment upon the play, and I see it is noticed in the first act Cordelia has only forty-three lines assigned to her. She does not appear again until the fourth act, in the fourth scene of which she has twenty-four lines, and in the seventh thirty-seven. In the fifth act she has five lines. Yet during the whole progress of the play we can never forget her; and after its melan-choly close she lingers about our recollections as if we had seen some being more beautiful and purer than a thing of earth, inicated with us by a highmedium than that of words. beauty consists largely in her silence.
