FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. ABOUT IMPERIAL POLITICS. What a Scottish Relative Sent Mr. David Blain of This City. W. R. JONES, Mr. David Blain has handed to The World setter received from a cousin of his residing in Ayr. Scotland. The gentleman is well posted on Imperial politics and has a lot to say about the burning questions that are now before the British public. Below see British public. Below are some extracts from his letter:

We have had the Liberal party split in twain and irretrievably ruined. We have had harsh and bitter language huwed by friend at friend. We have seen life-long political opponents lasp such other's hands and vow the most constant attachment. We have seen Liberals supporting Tories and Tories Liberals substrated the Birmingham school check-by-lowl with the most fossilized Conservatives. A wondering public has beheld the quondam skeleton, as he dubbed Mr. Goschen, and with the whole body of "those who neither toil nor spin."

We have further had Mr. Dillon's "Plan of Campaign," formulated and put in force on some dozens of estates in Ireland. This remarkable method of fighting the agrarian battle is no doubt familiar to you. It consists to make deduction corresponding to what the tonauts held to be the fall in prices, and using these rents to fight the battle in the law courts. As you remember, it was just before a crucial division on the Grimes Bill that The Times published the famous, or infamous letter, aleged to have been written by Mr. Parnell had or had not any connection with that letter, there can be no doubt at all that the refusal of the Government to grant parliamentary inquiry into the whole of the relations of the Irish Constitutionalists with the party of dynamite and revolution, seriously prejudiced in the agree and revolution as a constant the reliability. ic. Below are some extracts from tees the rents from which the landlord refused to make deduction corresponding to what the tenants held to be the fall in priess, and using these rents to fight the battle in the law courts. As you remember, it was just before a crucial division on the Grimes Bill that The Times published the famous, or infamous letter, aleged to have been written by Mr. Parnell, giving a measure of approval to the Phemix Park assassinations. Whether Mr. Parnell had or had not any connection with that letter, Park assassinations. Whether Mr. Parnell had or had not any connection with that letter, there can be no doubt at all that the refusal of the Government to grant parliamentary inquiry into the whole of the relations of the Irish Constitutionalists with the party of dynamite and revolution, seriously prejudiced in the ayea of the country not merely the reliability of The Times, but the integrity and sincerity of ministers in persistently levelling these charges against Irish representatives. Speaking not as a political partisan, but as the exponent of the plainest morality, there are a good many persons in this country who believe, and I think justly, that the reckless zeal of The Times has done more to weaken the Unionist Government and break up the great Unionist party than all its official blunders, and all the onslaughts of its enemics. ment and break up the great Unionist party than all its official bunders, and all the onslaughts of its enemies.

That the Imperial Parliament sovercrowded, that it can only overtake the work which properly belongs to it by delegating local business to local bodies, that every session makes the dead-lock worse, and prompts Government to the application of harsh, summary and dangerous remedies, is universally admitted. The only question is, by what mathod of devolution or delegation shall the hand of Parliament be forced for the transaction of Imperial business? County boards will do much good, no doubt. The costly system of private bill legislation will thus by done away with, and many of the petty matters which occupy much valuable time at Westminster will be settled elsewhere. But there is a deeper and stronger motive at the bettom of this aritation than the saving of a few pounds over gas and water bills. There is an impression throughout. Scotland, at least, which has long been gathering force and vividness, that the distinctive nationality of our native land is but scantily recognized by the Legislature. Our clearly expressed wishes have been deliberately set aside on many occasions, as the clearly expressed wishes have been persistently set aside, by an overwhelming body of Englishmen, who knew little and cared less about our affairs. couragement, will discuss the same subject here on the evening of the same date. As Canada until lately has taken considerable Minneapolis four, our millers would doubtless be glad to see the duty of 50 cents per barrel now placed on flour removed, and would, therefore, take apecial interest in what these gentlemen have to say on the subject if they come to the city, which now seems probable." These millers, says The Canadian-American, with their vast resources, "broke the backs of the millers of Rochester, N. Y., and transferred the business of manufacturing to the Falls of St. Anthony." With the duty on flour abolished three great millers of the Northwest would "tie up their Ontario competitors and take the market from Montreal to the see." The destruction of Canadian manufactures, the diversion of trade from Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Kingston and other Canadian cities and from Canadian railways and waterways to New York, Boston, Rochester, Buffalo, Detroit and to American trade channels which would follow commercial union, would all tend to injure the business of Canada and thus reduce the farmers' home market. nt, will discuss the same sub-When used according to directions, Ayer's Ague Cure is warranted to eradicate from the system fever and ague, interpattent, remittent and billious fevers, and all malarial diseases.
