Treat the Inside Nerves
There is one sure way to get well. That is to restore the inside nerves. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the only treatment that in any way affects the inside nerves. It is a remedy which acts safely and positively, not on any specific organ, but on the very inside nerves themselves, and, by restoring them power, and strength and reinforcement, that repairs the very mainspring of life, that vitalizes every organ. Queer Greetings.
The Chinese, when saluting each other, will say: "How is your stomach? Have you eaten your rice?"
The Pole's greeting is: "How do you have yourself?"
The Russians meet on the street with: "How do you live on?"
The Persian's friendly recognition of a friend is: "May your shadow never grow less."
The French gaily call out in passing acquaintances: "How do you find yourself?"
The Italian's greeting is: "How do you prosper?"
The Egyptian's greeting is: "How do you prosper?"
The Dutch say: "How do you fare?"
The Swedes cry out merrily: "How can you today?"
The English and Americans nod quickly and in passing say: "Howdy do?"

Proper Medicine For The Blood.
Drives Away That Tired Feeling: Makes You Feel Brisk.

To everyone is sure to come that tired, exhausted feeling.
When the blood is weak, thin and debilitated, circulation is slow, and in consequence the system is congested with poisons and wastes that should be driven off.
The sensible person acts on the teachings of experience and cleanses his system with a course of Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Man-drake and Butternut.
No medicine can be more certain to quicken cure. Convenient to take, just one pill at bedtime: safe, because entirely vegetable and unaltered by thousands that Dr. Hamilton's Pills set you up in a few days.
From Chebogue Pt., N. S., comes the following from Mrs. W. A. Reynolds: "A year ago my health began to fail, I lost my appetite, became nervous and sleepless. My weight ran down, I became thin, hollow, checked, and had black rings under my eyes. I really felt as if the chain of life had left me and when spring time left I was in the 'Blues.' I read of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and got five boxes at once.
"Within a month my appetite and color were good. I gained strength and felt like a new woman. New life and vigor returned and my friends scarcely knew me. A medicine that will do this should be in every home."
Good health means much to you. Success and happiness depend upon it. The maintenance and source of health is found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25¢ per box, or five boxes for $1.00, all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Pelton and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A. and Kingston, Ont.

Sillyisms.
Read the following quickly and your listeners will be amused:
Simple Simpkins sang a song of six pence as the sun shone gently on the shoe shop sign.
Sarah seller sea shells shewn up in a sheet.
Sheak seller's sixth sheep is sick.
Silent Samboe slumbered safely on the shifting sea sand.
Break the bands that blind you blindly before breakfast.
A peck of pickled pears put into a pale pink pitcher.
Peter Plump, the pessimist, pestered portly Pat Perkins.

A LINIMENT FOR THE LOGGER.—Loggers lead a life which exposes them to many perils. Wounds, cuts and bruises cannot be altogether avoided in preparing timber for the drive and in river work, where wet and cold combined are of daily experience coughs and colds and muscular pains cannot but ensue. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, when applied to the injured or administered to the ailing, works wonders.
While picking berries near Brigidon one day last week Mrs. Thos. Rogers came across a nest of five rattlers. Mrs. Rogers showed wonderful pluck and succeeded in dispatching four of the number.

THE BLUEFISH BRIGADE.

What Happens When the Blues Make a Charge Upon Menhaden.

"When menhaden or herring are driven upon the beach by bluefish, as they often are, so that they can be carried off by the cart load," said a fisherman, "there is very seldom found among them one of their pursuers, and if one is found it is likely to be a fish that is diseased or that has been hurt in some way. The bluefish follows to the very verge of the water, but there it stops, and it is so powerful and alert a swimmer that, close as it is, it still easily keeps clear of the land. The menhaden or herring are no mean swimmers. They could come as close and keep off the shore as easily as the bluefish do, but not when the bluefish are after them. Then they are like men pursued to the edge of a precipice. It is almost certain death to jump, but they must do that or turn and take the chances of breaking through the pursuing line.

"When the bluefish—there may be 3,000 or 4,000 of them together—sight a school of menhaden, they go for it like a blinding of heavy cavalry, cutting and slashing, snapping and biting right and left. The menhaden are simply overborne by superior weight, and there is nothing for them to do but flee. If they are driven toward the shore, the land is to them what the precipice would be to the man. They must take it or they must turn and try to fight their way through. Many do turn and try to swim under or over or around the savage bluefish, and some escape in this way, and some are snapped up, and some are maimed and then cast ashore, and many of them, crowding together, are so closely pressed that they are practically forced ashore.

"Sometimes fish that are not cast up very far flop down into the water again. A high wave may set some free. A fish thus liberated may find its fins so damaged that it can't swim, and it is cast up again. Weakened by its rough experience, it may fall a prey to some of the bluefish yet lingering offshore. It may escape."

SERIES OF SHIPWRECKS.

The Most Singular Chain of Marine Accidents on Record.

The most singular series of shipwrecks on record began with the loss of the English merchantman Mermad, which was driven on the rocks of Tor-restraw in October, 1820. The officers and crew clung to the shattered vessel, which was held fast upon a sunken ledge, until, a few minutes before the doomed ship went to pieces, a passing frigate picked them up.

The Swiftsure, as the latter craft was called, resumed her northward course, to be foundered in a terrific gale three days later.
Her combined crews were saved by the warship Governor Ready, en voyage to India, May 18, 1830. The last named, overtaken by a storm, was stranded on a barren coast, her three crews to a man perished in reaching the shore.

After staying a week on the inhospitable island they were taken off by the revenue cutter Comet, which a few days later sprang a leak and sank in spite of all efforts to save her.

Fortunately a rescue ship was again on hand, the four crews being saved by the Jupiter.

Even then, however, the chain of disasters was not broken, for the Jupiter just as she was entering the harbor of Port Raffle turned turtle and went down with scarcely a moment's warning. Her crews barely escaped with their lives, to be picked up by boat sent to their aid.

Thus the crew of the Mermad was wrecked five times in one voyage, that of the Swiftsure four times, of the Governor Ready three times and the Comet twice.

The rescues had been purely accidental in every case, none of the ships having been sailing as a consort or even to the same port.

Though the weather had been tempestuous and the escapes barely made, not a life had been lost.

Resources of Genks.

The editor looked over the manuscript submitted by the village poet and frowned.

"Here is one line," he said, "in which you speak of the music of the elder press." How would you undertake to imitate the music of the elder press?"

"I should think it might be done with a juke harp," answered the poet.

The Soft Answer.

"If nature had made me an ostrich," said old Grouch "I suppose I could eat your cooking."

"Wouldn't that be nice?" answered his importunate spouse. "Then I could get some plumes for my hat."

LITTLE BELL BIOGRAPHIES
E. Grieg
EDVARD HAGERUP GRIEG, born 1843, is the most celebrated of Norwegian Composers. And he with MacDowell in America are the chief exponents of the Celtic spirit in modern music—the spirit that dwells on the mystic, weirdness, loneliness, ghostliness, sadness, and magic of hill and stream, forest and glen, mists and shadows, the night, the lover, the wanderer and deathless death.
Grieg received his first music lessons from his mother till he was 15 years old, when he was sent to Leipzig to study under the best masters in composition and pianoforte. He is celebrated as a conductor and pianist. As a composer he has written sonatas, concertos, choral and orchestral pieces, but his best and most popular works are his songs and pianoforte compositions. His music is as glowing and as brilliant as the Norwegian winter and summer; it is full of pathos and weirdness, and often dances with elfish movement.
Grieg's most popular songs are "I Love Thee," "Sunshine," "With a Violet," "With a Water Lily." He is best known by his two orchestral suites "Peer Gynt," originally written as a pianoforte duet. There are magical haunting harmonies in "Ase's Death," and an unearthly oriental quality in "Anitra's Dance." As arranged for the piano they require an instrument like which, with its greatest of modern improvements, THE ILLIMITABLE REPEATING ACTION, and its full, rich, resonant tone, renders perfectly every degree of musical shading, the Bell Art Piano is the ideal of the Master Musician.
The full series of "Little Bell Biographies" in booklet form, illustrated, will be mailed, free on request, by
