THOS. MILLMAN, M.D.

Thomas Millman, M.D., was born near Woodstock, Ont., on the 14th of February, 1850, his father being Thos. Millman, of Devonshire, Eng., and his mother Maria Taylor, of Norfolk, Eng. Dr. Millman was as a boy under the pastoral care of the late Bishop of Algoma (Bishop Fauquier), which no doubt accounts for the deep interest he has since manifested in S. school and church work, as scholar, teacher and superintendent and as churchwarden in no less than three places: St. John's Church, Portsmouth, Ont., St. Philip's and Church of the Redeemer, Toronto, which latter place we hope he may continue to fill for some time.

He was educated in the Woodstock grammar school until 1869, when he entered Trinity Medical College, Toronto, where he graduated in 1873. He then received the appointment as assistant surgeon to the B.N.A. Boundary Commission of 1873-75. He then went to Europe and spent two years in London and Edinburgh, passing the examination for membership in the Royal College of Surgeons, England, and became a licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh. He was also appointed resident accoucheur of St. Thomas' Hospital, London, and was elected a Fellow of the Obstetrical Society, London. Returning to Canada he began to practice in Woodstock, and in 1879 received the appointment of assistant physician at the Asylum for the Insane, London, Ont., and in 1885 the position of assistant medical superintendent of Asylum for the Insane, Kingston, Ont., which position he resigned in 1889, having decided to remove to Toronto.

He has devoted considerable time to botany and has a fine collection of the Canadian flora. He has been connected for many years with prominent organizations for the good of his fellowmen. At present he occupies the honorable and very responsible position of Supreme Physician of I.O.F.

Dr. Millman married in 1881 Helen D. Craig, daughter of John Craig, Edinburgh, Scotland.
