

IN FAIR CANADIE.

(Written in Scotland.)

O bonnie, bonnie mune in the lift sae hie,
 Wham saw ye in the Nor'land awa ayont the sea?
 Where stars lik' diamonds shine an' a fervid sun glows fine
 On the grapes that bend the vine in fair Canadie.

Wham saw ye on the prairie where flowers blaw free,
 'Till a' the land's like sunset on a rainbow rippled sea?
 Where nicht's but gentler day on river, wood an' bay,
 An' wild things daff and play in fair Canadie.

Wham saw ye, bonnie mune? 'au what said he?
 What message sent my ain love to me frae ower the sea?
 Said he ne'er a word ava?—will he no come when the snaw
 Fa's deep an' covers a' in fair Canadie?

O mune that winna tell, tak this kiss frae me,
 An' when his sleep ye smile on ower there ayont the sea,
 Looe to my love fu' fain, be kind an' dinna hain,
 Till he dreams o' me again in fair Canadie.

STUDENTS' TEN COMMANDMENTS.

- Thou shalt study ten hours a day.
 Thou shalt always be a gentleman or a lady.
 Thou shalt take daily some vigorous exercise.
 Thou shalt sleep eight hours out of the twenty-four.
 Thou shalt make thy calls short upon thy fellow students.
 Thou shalt seek widely for other knowledge than that of text books.
 Thou shalt pay close attention to thy books and be penurious of thy movements.
 Thou shalt not use tobacco or strong drinks; neither liquor, nor tea nor coffee.
 Thou shalt not study when thy head aches, or when thou art sick, but shalt rest for better feelings.
 Thou shalt turn thine eyes from bright sunlight by day, and double shade them from lamplight by night.—Ex.

Once a freshman was wrecked on an African shore,
 Where a cannibal monarch held sway,
 And they served up that freshman in slices on toast,
 On the eve of that very same day.

But the vengeance of Heaven followed swift on the act,
 And before the next morning was seen,
 By cholera morbus that tribe was attacked,
 For that freshman was terribly green.—Ex.
