SAVE YOUR GOALJ. W. ELLIOT'S PATENT SAVER.

The First Object—is to produce the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and is gained by an arrangement of the three way draft passage and some twelve feet of flue pipe, which is bent down and around the base, and the heat is absorbed by the atmosphere through direct radiation from every part of the stove. Another object of the invention is to secure for heating purposes the greatest possible benefit of the fire contained in the stove, and is accomplished by placing around the body of the stove a series of internally projecting pockets overlapping the fire pot, and so formed that the air of the room is admitted into the lower end of the pockets, and, after passing through them, re-enters the room, having become intensely heated through contact with the inner sides of the said pockets, which are immediately over the hottest part of the fire, thereby producing far greater results from a given amount of fuel than any other stove. Second Object—An evaporator which is a part of the stove. The cover becomes a water tank, and is an effective evaporator; the pivot on which it turns is an iron tube screwed into the base of the tank, while the lower end is closed and rests in a pocket inside the dome, thereby producing a greater or less amount of vapor in proportion to the intensity of the heat. Third Object—There is a double heater, by means of which heat can be conveyed to an apartment above, and supplied with sufficient vapor from the tank. Fourth Object—A combined hot air and steam bath can be obtained by closing the lamp in the water tank, and causing all the vapor to mingle with the ascending heat. Fifth Object—The Stove becomes Simplified and easy to Control.

All things done and objectionable fittings are abandoned, and are replaced by mica lights with metal tips attached, by means of which the mica may be sprung into place, or removed and cleaned with a dry cloth, or replaced when the stove is red hot, without burning one's fingers. At the base of the mica lights eyelets are placed, through which a constant flow of air causes all the gas or smoke to be consumed or to pass off. Sixth Object—A base plate of cast iron in the place of zinc or other perishable material. The base plate is raised sufficient for the cold air on the floor to pass up through its raised and hollow cone-shape to the stove, and is raised, and by this means a constant circulation is continued until an even summer heat is obtained. The circulation above described causes the floor to remain cool underneath the stove. The stoves are altogether cast iron; and the slow consumption of fuel, the direct radiation from all its heated surface, ensures them to last any number of years and to produce no clinkers or waste.

There are two grates, similar in form to the base of a circular basket; the centre grate is rotated to the right or left by the lever a short distance, and by moving the lever still further to the right or left both grates are worked. To light a fire close all the drafts in the base of the stove open a direct draft in the smoke flue; fill up to the base a ne feeder with fine coal, leaving sufficient space for draft, on the coal place the lightwood, leave the tank open over slightly for draft, until the fire has taken, close the tank cover and open the draft in front.

THE CHRISTIAN REPORTER.

A NON-DENOMINATIONAL MONTHLY

PUBLISHED ON THE 15th OF EACH MONTH

SUBSCRIPTION:

75 CENTS PER ANNUM.

A journal purely evangelical and unsectarian in its nature, which as a medium for the best thought of thinkers, and as a record of the various Christian work-ers, and is one in which Christians may and should take an active part.

The secular year necessarily furnishes only meagre statistics of addresses full of rich thought, the reading of which is in many instances necessary to a proper appreciation of their real value as expositions of truth; the denominational journals, though eminently useful in their several spheres, cannot, in the circumstances of the case, secure circulation outside of those bodies of Christians under whose auspices they are issued; but a publication which enters the broad fields of Christian thought and work in which Christians of every evangelical denomination are labouring in common, is, we believe, an excellent aid in the promotion of that unity which all Christians desire. Such a journal the REPORTER aims to be.
