(To the Editor of the True Witness.)

PERTH, Sept. 30th, 1867.

Believing that a brief account of a few Ecclesiastical Events which lately have taken place in this Mission may prove agreeable to some of your readers, I respectfully ask of you to make room in your columns for the following communication:—

His Lordship Bishop Horan, according to announcement arrived at Perth on Thursday, the 19th inst., to hold Confirmation in the several Churches of this Mission. For the information of distent readers, it is necessary to state that this Mission comprises an extensive territory with a scattered Catholic population. There are three Churches to be served, one in Perth, the second in North Burgess, eight miles south of Perth, the third at Ferguson's Falls, thirteen miles North East of Perth, besides several stations which are occasionally visited during the year. The duties of the Parish Priest are consequently many and arduous so much so that the Bishop deemed it necessary to give Mr. Chisholm, the Pastor, an assistant.

His Lordship confirmed 128 persons in the Church on Friday, the 20th instant. On Sunday, the 22nd, he confirmed 223 in the Church of Perth, and on Tuesday the 24th, he confirmed 70 in the Church at Ferguson's Falls, making a total in the Mission of 421 persons confirmed.

It was no small labour for the Rev. Mr. Chisholm and his assistant, the Rev. Mr. O'Donohoe, to prepare for first Communion and Confirmation this large number of persons; many of whom reside at a considerable distance from Perth. It was necessary for the Priests to visit them in their respective localities in order to prepare them and to instruct them: 263 of this number made their First Communion last summer, and seventy made their First on the day of Confirmation.

Great credit is due to the parents who cheerfully went to considerable expenses to provide their children with dresses suitable for such occasions as the First Communion and Confirmation.

The girls were clothed in white with wreaths and veils on their heads. The boys being neatly dressed, wore white rosettes on their breasts and broad white ribbons on their left arms. The children went in procession to and from the Churches to their respective places of rendezvous, followed by crowds.

It was a gratifying sight, and one which gave delight to every true Catholic to see so many receive the Sacraments of the Blessed Eucharist and Confirmation The countenances both of children and parents gave unmistakable signs of the inward joy and happiness which they experienced.

His Lordship spoke in touching language to the children on Confirmation and other Sacraments, and to the parents on their duties towards children. His exhortations were listened to with attention, and the good effects and impression of his discourses may learned from the following remark which I heard from the lips of more than one of the Congregation: 'The Bishop preached a good sermon to-day.'

On Wednesday the 25th instant, an anniversary High Mass celebrated for the repose of the soul of the late Very Rev. J. H. McDonagh, V. G., and Pastor of this Mission. His Lordship Bishop Horan and the undermentioned clergymen were present, viz., the Rev. Mr. Vaughan, of North Huntly; the Rev. Mr. O'Connell, of Richmond; Rev. Mr. O'Brien, of Gloucester; the Rev. Dr. Madden, nephew to the deceased; Rev. Mr. O'Brien, of Brockville; Rev. Mr. Clune, of Smiths Falls; the Rev. Mr. McCarthy, of Williamstown; Rev. Mr. Graham, of Westport; the Rev. Mr. Chisholm, and Rev. Mr. O'Donohoe.

His Lordship sang High Mass; Messrs. O'Connell and Clune acted as Deacon and sub-Deacon. At the end of the Mass the Rev. Mr. O'Brien, of Brockville, preached a sermon on praying for the dead, taking for his text the words: "It is a holy and a wholesome thought to pray for the dead that they may be loosed from sins." Mark 12c. 43v. He was listened to with marked attention, for he handled his subject well and spoke eloquently. After alluding to the merits of the deceased, he made a feeling appeal to the people to perform this sacred duty of praying for their late Pastor, who, for 29 years, had faithfully discharged the sacred duties of the ministry among them.

There was a large number of the parishoners present, who shewed that the memory of their late Pastor, was by them held in dear remembrance.

A month ago, the ordination of young Mr. Gauthier, of Glengary, and Mr. Leonard, of Peterboro, took place in the Church of this town. As the ceremony is very seldom performed in the parishes, it is locally considered as an extraordinary event. There was a brief mention of it in your newspaper, many were therefore disappointed at not seeing a more detailed account of it. I had hoped that another more competent than your humble servant would have undertaken the task of furnishing you with a full description, but as no other has undertaken it, I'll do the best I can.

The Rev. Mr. Chisholm being aware that these two gentlemen were to be shortly promoted to the order of priesthood, asked of His Lordship as a favour to ordain them in this Church. The desired request was readily granted, and Wednesday, the 28th August, was appointed for the purpose.

The ceremony of ordination is one of the many imposing ceremonies of the Church. To give it full effect and to render it more imposing, the Rev. Mr. Chisholm spared no expense to decorate the Altar and the Sanctuary. The Parishoners were agreeably surprised on entering the Church on Wednesday morning, at seeing the neat and exquisite decorations in the Sanctuary.

The canopy over the Bishop's throne was much admired by all for its beauty. It was made of crimson velvet, ornamented with gold fringe and lace. The model was taken from a stereoscopic view of the canopy over the throne in the Pope's Audience Room.

On Tuesday evening, the 27th, His Lordship accompanied by a large number of priests, was escorted from the Railway station by the St. Patrick's brass band to the Priest's residence.

At 9 A.M. Wednesday, was appointed for the commencement of the ceremonies of the day. As might be expected the Church was completely filled with people, many of whom were Protestants; many came from a distance to witness a ceremony so unusual.

At the hour mentioned above His Lordship took his seat on the throne prepared for him in the Sanctuary. Among the Clergy present, the Rev. Mr. Oualette, S. J., Chatham, Ontario; Rev. Mr. Hay, St. Andrews, Cornwall; Rev. Mr. Kelly, Peterboro; Rev. Mr. O'Brien, Brockville; Rev. Mr. McCarthy, Williamstown; Rev Mr Clune, Smith's Falls; Rev Mr. Brown, Napanee; Rev. Mr. O'Connor, Gannanoque; Rev. Mr. Barret, Kingston; Rev. Mr. Murray, Kingston; Rev. Mr. Chisholm and Mr. Donahoe, of Perth; and the two Candidates for the Priesthood.

A few minutes after nine, His Lordship robed in richly embroidered vestments began High Mass. Rev. Mr. Hay acted as assistant Priest; Messrs. O'Brien and O'Connor as Deacon and sub Deacon of Honor, and Messrs. McCarthy and Brown Deacon and sub Deacon of Office.

After reading the lesson of the day, the Bishop being seated on the platform in front of the Altar, the Assistant Priest called on the Candidates to approach to be ordained. He certified to the Bishop as to their good moral character, and he called on any of the audience who might be cognizant of any crime or defect which might prevent them from being ordained to make it known to His Lordship. None having come forward, the Bishop addressed the Candidates on the duties of the Priesthood, and exhorted them to the faithful discharge of these duties. During the recitation of the Litanies, the Candidates lay prostrated at the post of the Altar, then followed the imposition of hands by the Bishop and all the Clergy present. After this the Candidates were invested with the stole and chausible part of the insignia of the Priesthood; and their hands were anointed. These are the principal ceremonies of ordination. There are others which for brevity sake we omit to mention. After the Gospel, the Rev. Mr. Oualette preached the sermon, the subject of which was the importance of the Priesthood, its duties and functions.

The richness of the vestments worn by the Bishop and the Priests attending, the exquisite decorations about the Altar and the fine singing of the choir, all combined to render the ceremony solem and impressive, and one that will be long remembered with pleasure by all who were present.

Everything passed off well, and all seemed pleased. A venerable looking parishoner advanced in years apparently highly delighted exclaimed at the Church door: "I am an old man now, and I never saw such a fine sight," he seemed disposed to say in the words of the Canticle of Simeon, "Now do thou dismiss thy servant, O Lord."

His Lordship and the Revs. gentlemen returned to their respective homes on Thursday the 29th. Before leaving, His Lordship spoke to the Rev. Mr. Chisholm in complimentary terms, of the preparations made for the ceremonies of ordination, and of the hospitable manner in which he himself and the other guests were entertained.

A PARISHONER.

(To the Editor of the True Witness.)

DEAR SIR,—It affords me extreme pleasure to have the happiness of communicating to you, through this medium, the information respecting His Lordship the Bishop of Montreal's visit to Hemmingford. On the 29th ultimo, His Lordship accompanied by a few Rev. Gentlemen, came by train on the N. N. Railroad from Chateauguay, N. Y. to Moore's Junction where he was heartily greeted by quite a number of the Irish Catholics of Hemmingford, who went there in order to convey him to their Parish. Prominent amongst whom were Messrs Jeremiah and Edward Ryan, whose timely liberal and zealous assistance, both pecuniary and otherwise towards the sustenance of the Catholic Church and other charitable purposes (on every occasion) render them conspicuous not in Hemmingford alone, but in many of the adjacent Parishes. A great number of the parishioners, whom inconveniences prevented from meeting His Lordship, wishing to demonstrate the hearty welcome they had for him, awaited his arrival from an early hour in the afternoon, at and in the vicinity of the Presbytery, which place they had elegantly decorated with evergreens. Immediately after His Lordship arrived, he proceeded to the Church, accompanied by all present, where he implored the Almighty to sanctify the retreat about to commence. On the following morning at an early hour, His Lordship was escorted from the Presbytery to the Church, where he was to impart the Graces of his visit, by the Clergy and all the Faithful present, as well as by a large number of our separated brethern, who came to witness the sublimity of the ceremonies which were about to take place; great credit is due to them for the discreet manner in which they conducted themselves during their stay. The Church was filled to excess and a great number could not gain admittance. His Lordship on entering gave his benediction to all present after which he administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to about two hundred persons, most of whom were children. After Confirmation His Lordship, assisted by the other Ecclesiastics, chanted the "Requiem" for the dead and visited the Baptismal Fonts. He then delivered a very pathetic address in the French language, in which he alluded to the many sacrifices the Parishoners lately made in erecting a Convent and in contributing so generously to the various other demands of their Pastor. He also expressed how edified he was at the remarkably pious deportment of the Congregation, and how gratified he felt with the tidy appearance the Church, Presbytery and Cemetery had assumed. He hoped Hemmingford would continue to be in the future what it was in the past; thereby it would become as a model to all other Parishes. His Lordship's address was very eloquently interpreted to the Irish part of the Congregation by the Rev. Mr. Gagnier, of Huntingdon. After the address His Lordship gave a solemn benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, which ended the scene of his Episcopal labours at Hemmingford. After Vespers, which were sung at three o'clock, he took his departure for Sherrington, accompanied by Mr. Jeremiah Ryan and several others whom the inclemency of the weather (which had then become disagreeable) did not retain from testifying the love and veneration which they had for their dear Bishop, by conveying him to the place of his destination for that evening. The Catholics of Hemmingford were overjoyed at the salutary and vigorous appearance of His Lordship at this his third visit to their Parish. They will incessantly beseech Divine Providence to preserve him thus until he revisits them overburdened with those bountiful graces with which he always appears amongst them. Hoping you will find space for this in the columns of your truly valuable Catholic Journal!

I remain, Mr. Editor,
Yours, most repectfully,
P. L.

Hemmingford, Oct. 1st, 1867.

THE NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH AT STRATFORD.

LAYING THE CORNER STONE OF THE BUILDING.

On Sunday last, the interesting ceremony of laying the corner stone of the splendid Catholic Church now in course of erection in Stratford was performed in the presence of an immense concourse of persons, by the Very Rev Vicar General Bruyere, Administrator of the diocese of Sandwich. At half-past ten in the morning, high mass was celebrated in the church adjoining which was crowded in every part, and great numbers were assembled round the doors, unable to find even standing room within Among the congregation were many of the Protestant inhabitants of the town. The service was intoned by Rev. Father Schnyder, of Goderich, the other clergyman present, besides the Very Rev. Vicar General, being the Very Rev. Dean Crinnan pastor of the church, Rev Father Killroy of Sarnia, Rev. Father Ferguson, Professor, St. Michael's College, Toronto, and the Rev. Father Murphy, of Irishtown. The choral part of the service—principally from Mozart's Twelfth Mass—was conducted by Miss Lannon the organist, assisted by the church choir, and by Miss Lannon of Brantford, Miss Kate Macdonald, Miss Dunn, and Miss Cashen, of Irishtown.

Rev. Mr. Ferguson preached the sermon, which was an eloquent extemporoneous effort.

At the conclusion of the service in the church, a collection was taken up which realized the handsome of $378

A procession was then formed to the site of the new building, the clergy taking precedence. Arrived there, the usual ritual was proceeded with, the chief part of the sermony being conducted by the Vicar General, the other clergymen assisting. Before the stone was lowered into its resting place, a tin box was deposited in a cavity prepared for its reception, containing the coins of the realm, several medals, including that of the Sovereign Pontiff, the Stratford Beacon and the Herald, and a suitable inscription.

In the evening, vespers, were sung by the Very Rev. Vicar General Bruyere, and Rev. Father Killroy preached an excellent sermon. There was again a collection.

DESCRIPTION OF THE CHURCH.

The building will be a very handsome, spacious, and substantial structive of Guelph cut stone and Brantford white brick. The style of architecture is the pure Gothic, and most beautiful, perhaps, of all others, with its points and gables, for a large and expensive ecclesiastical building. The shape is cruciform. The main body of the church is 150 feet in depth, by 60 in breadth, and at the transepts it is 76 feet wide. The height of the side walls is 38 feet, and the graceful tower and spire spring to a height of 170 feet The foundations are of great thickness, that portion supporting the tower being not less than six feet at the base. The copings, gables, and capestones, are of the best cut stone, and the tower is richly ornamated with three courses of cut stone Provision is made in the tower for a ring of bells and a clock On each of the five gables there will be a cross of cut stone, and a cross of the same material surmounts the spire The roof, which rests upon seven oak pillars will be covered with colored slate, and the spire will be made to correspond The windows will be filled in with stained glass, and that over the altar is intended to be of a very large size and rich in tone and character. There are three doors by which the church is reached from the front—the principal being in the centre under the tower. These are approached by flights of stone steps. The doors are of oak. There are three chapels within—besides the large and commodious main chapel in the centre, two side chapels: There is also a vestry, to the right. The only gallery is a small one for the organ and choir. In the basement story is a winter chapel 60 feet by 25 feet. The furnaces for supplying the hot air by which the building is heated are in an apartment adjoining. Mr. John Turner of Brantford, is the architect of the church. Mr John Holmes, of Stratford has the contract for the masonry at $11,200, exclusive of the stone. The principal carpenter work is let to Messrs. Wright & Durand, of London, at $5,000, but this merely includes the roof and frames for windows and doors, and joists for the flooring. It is not difficult to see that before the church is complete, it will cost from $26 000 to $30,000. But then it will be one of the finest buildings in the Province. The merit is chiefly due the zeal and energy of the respected pastor, the Very Rev. Mr. Crinnan, Dean of the Diocese.—Stratford Beacon.

ARREST OF SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER AT KINGSTON.—A suspicious character named John Warren was arrested at Kingston on Thursday. Detective Serjt. McAuley was introduced to him in the afternoon, and was not long in winning his way into his confidence He then admitted having known Saxie, who is now awaiting his trial for the murder of Driscoll, for the past fifteen years having sailed with him on the Lakes. He said that he had just come from Montreal, where he had done a little in the way of easing some persons in a crowd of the contents of their purses: and avowed that he would run the risk of his neck to liberate Saxie. Not long after having made this admission he was arrested, and policeman Hoyle swore on Friday morning that when he searched him he had found on him the burglar's tools produced before the court. These were several tools for picking locks, a forceps for turning keys in doors, a number of punches, a loaded pistol, and a box of percussion caps. When brought before the Magistrate on Saturday morning (Mr. Creighton) he said that he came from Montreal by train on Monday morning, at which place he had arrived on board a vessel on which he was employed as a sailor; that he did not know Saxie, and never said he would like to liberate him; that some of the tools had been given to him by the carpenter of the ship, others he had made himself (the punches) and used them for the purpose of making hearts, stars, etc., for rings; that he had been in Kingston eight years ago, and was four months upon the lakes; and that he had seen Saxie once in a 'dance house' in Chicago, fighting. The picklock produced he said was picked up on the street on Friday. He offered to leave the country in twelve hours if liberated and thought it extremely cruel that an innocent man should be so hardly dealt with. He was quite cool and pleasant over his arrest There is nothing in his appearence which would warrant the conclusion that he is a sailor by profession He was remanded until Friday, so that the County Attorney could be consulted.

From intelligence received at Kingston, it is supposed that the prisoner is an escaped convict from the Clinton State prison at Dannemora, N.Y., two men having recently succeeded in making their escape from that institution.

ASSAULT.—On Friday night a storeman of Mr Mussen's Notre Dame Street was attacked near the Priest farm by four Canadians. Fortunately a carter passed and came to his rescue or he would have fared badly He was carrying a parcel of valuable goods, of which it was supposed to have been the intention of his assailants to rob him.

Advices from New Brunswick states that the weather has been most favourable for gathering in the crops. The buckwheat and potatoes yet remain to be housed. The rot set in early on the latter, but the richness of other products makes up in a large degree for the failure of this.

ARREST OF A BURGLAR.—On the 19th ult., a burglary was committed at Cornwall, the store of Mr. McFarlane there being broken open and about $1600 carried off. Word was sent to the Chief of Police here, who despatched Detective Cullen, but there he was baffled as no trace of the burglar could be found. A few days ago Cullen discovered that a man named William Condon, who has known to have had no money a short time ago, was now spending freely and have invested in the good will of two saloons paying down the cash. Cullen arrested him on suspicion, and the chief telegraphed to Cornwall for Mr. McFarlane who gave a description of the money lost, that found on Condon answering to it in every particular. Besides the genuine bank bills, there was one forged note of $5 and several defaced coins.

LEGAL.—The Council of the Bar for this section passed sentence on Saturday upon Theophile Gauthier a practising advocate, adjudging him to be guilty of fraud toward a client, and condemning him to deprivation for the space of two years, of all his privileges as a Barrister, Advocate, Solicitor, and Attorney-at-Law. We commend the prompt action which the Council have in this instance taken upon the charge laid before them. It will conduce to the dignity of the profession, and increase the general respect which it commands, if signal examples be thus made of all who may be proven to have worn the gown unworthily.—Montreal Daily News.

We find the following in the St. John morning Journal and merely give it as a rumour:—It is said that New Brunswick will give a Governor to Ontario, in the person of a distinguished Judge, and it is known that General Doyle will be Governor of Nova Scotia.
