

Furthermore, the sample was computer weighted by region in order that each region's contribution to the total sample properly reflected its overall population contribution to the country as a whole.

IV. REFERENCE PERSPECTIVE ON REPORTING

This report presents the summary of the data collected, with implications drawn based on analysis of the overall data and the relevant geographic and demographic sub-breaks.