Just like home.

"I work at CAMI Automotive in Ingersoll. I am impressed with Ingersoll and appreciative of the support of local government and business in making me feel at home.

My job is both productive and satisfying. I've lived in a number of countries and find Canada, in general, and this area in particular, good for me and my family."

S. Nakano

Sokichi Nakano
Executive Vice-President, CAMI Automotive

"People ask me about the cultural shock between Canada and my native Germany. Tillsonburg is special in that the community reaches out to make me and my family feel right at home. The workers are just as good and dedicated as back home. Everyone in the plant knows each other; it's like one big family."

Peter Legal

Peter Legal
General Manager, Sachs Automotive Components Inc.

"We have plants in seven countries including our U.K. headquarters. Our Woodstock plant is very efficient. The quality of our work force is second to none.

That, combined with its central location and the friendly attitude in the community, puts Woodstock right at the top of my list. I'm proud to call it my home."

Come home to Oxford County.

Oxford County has become home to many families from many countries. Like the Nakanos, the Legals and the Hinchleys, they all appreciate the warm community feeling. Ingersoll, Tillsonburg and Woodstock, the three communities in Oxford County, reach out to welcome new people. The friendliness, the amenities and the small town charm is surpassed only by the excellent working environment.

Enjoy quality family time. Experience job gratification. Relax with a game of golf or a walk in the countryside. Some people call this 'quality of life'...we call it Oxford County.
