

MONKEY FOR PRESIDENT

How the Big Papers view the Result of the Convention of Republicans at St. Louis, Mo.

British Journals Say That Jingoism is Not a Party Monopoly

And That a Better Feeling Towards Great Britain Need Not be Looked For From the Republicans—The Question of Recent Money Discussed—Hanna is Chairman of the Party's National Executive.

New York, June 19.—The Sun says: Clevelandism has been the dominant force in the reaction that has made no... The Democracy must purge and recreate itself. It must make itself again known and accepted as the party of sound ideas, of party government, of republican ideas and of political stability, and by just so long as the need of this regeneration falls to be recognized, the Democratic restoration will be delayed.

The Herald says: The brilliant and decisive victory won by the Republican champions of gold at St. Louis yesterday should be at once a warning and inspiration to true sound-money Democrats. With the Republican bearing aloft the gold standard it would be simply suicidal for the Democrats to surrender to silver and foolish as well as cowardly to ally themselves with the party of the battle thrown down by their political adversaries. That Chicago is to be the Waterloo of either the Democratic silverites or the Democratic party is not a question.

The People News: The people have won at St. Louis. William McKinley has been nominated for President of the United States because, to the popular reason and the popular sentiment, he represents more completely than any other citizen the great Republican policy which means the country, progress, protection of American industry, and the maintenance of the operation of the laws in which it is embodied, but the stupendous losses which have resulted from the operation of the party policy to destroy it were seemingly necessary to establish an overwhelming and permanent conviction of the truth.

The Journal says: By those who best know him, Major McKinley's personal characteristics are described as wholly admirable—even lovable. The somewhat that they dignify by the name of "public" is shown in private to be merely a man who, even amid the electric atmosphere of a political convention, does not deviate in any degree from the simple, plain and consistent habit of life which has characterized him. Against Major McKinley's political conduct may be arrayed the most brilliant of the Democrats at Chicago can deprive them of a splendid chance to elect the next President.

The Westerner says: The St. James Gazette this afternoon, discussing the effect of the possible Presidency of ex-Gov. McKinley and the United States, says: "It cannot be said that the Democrats under Messrs. Cleveland and Olney have shown a too friendly spirit, but we fear we must not hope for better things from a Republican. Jingoism is not a monopoly of one party, and we shall have to escape further causes of differences during McKinley's regime. We shall be lucky, too, if we succeed as speedily as possible in arranging for the permanent arbitration of which the Marquis of Salisbury spoke yesterday. The Gazette congratulates Great Britain on the fact that McKinley is elected the United States will continue to pay its obligations in honest money." The Globe says: "The installation of a Government pledged to both a gold standard and a monetary policy which suggests that President Cleveland might consolidate under gold the Democrats of the non-manufacturing States by proposing to continue the existing tariff with slight modification."

The Westerner says: The protection policy to which the party is committing will doubtless be very anxious to see before, but for the moment there will be a sense of relief that the Republican are against tampering with the currency. The Fall Mail Gazette asserts that "the hollowness of the silver fraud was shown at the St. Louis convention." Hanna is Chairman. St. Louis, June 19.—Mark A. Hanna has been nominated Chairman of the Republican National Committee to-day.
