28TH YEAR

FINDS A PROCESS TO MAKE METAL THRU CHEMICALS

Fire Department Engineer May Emulate the Feats Accredited to Chicago Scientist.

Robert Copeland, engineer at the Brockton fire station, is credited by his friends with the discovery of a process rivaling that said to be in the possession of Reinhard D. Fuchs of Chicago. The announcement in a despatch that Mr. Fuchs is preparing to conduct an experiment in the metallization of a human body was probably been received with wonderment. Not so, however, with the friends of the Torontonians, who have been let in on the inside of the results of his electro-chemical researches. They say that his discoveries are to the full as marvelous as those of the Chicago scientist.

Mr. Copeland is modest in his claims, yet when spoken to by a World reporter in his snug quarters in the fire hall he did not hesitate to express an opinion that he could convert human organisms by chemical change into enduring metal of copperish bronze.

For the past 13 years he has been a seeker after chemical truths, utilizing all his spare time in his well-equipped private laboratory. It has been his life's hobby, and only recently has the commercial aspect of the case been given consideration by him. In his room is an array of test tubes, retorts and bottles and vials containing various colored liquids.

Busts Made Bronze. Mr. Copeland answered an enquiry about his process by taking from a shelf a small bust of Mozart. To the eye it appeared to be of bronze and the weight carried out the impression. "That was a plaster of paris bust," he explained. "No, it hasn't turned into solid metal, but the outer portion has, and if the process were carried far enough it would become metal clear thru."

Mr. Copeland showed busts of Wagner, Mozart, Dickens, King Edward and Queen Alexandra, all of bronze seemingly, but originally common everyday plaster. He also exhibited other specimens of his skill. A thin plaster medallion that had become converted apparently into copper was one of these. An article upon which he obviously prided himself was a small vase which looked as though it were fashioned out of bronze, but which a glance into the interior showed to be of porcelain. But most striking of all was a metallic pear, the one-time tempting fruit, converted a la King Midas into hard, uncompressible metal.

While perfectly assured of his abilities as a transformer, Mr. Copeland does not fancy cadavers as materials. However, it is in his intention to practise his subtle arts on some such living organism as a snake or a frog. He says he has worked the process successfully on lace, wood and leaves. In addition to glass, plaster and porcelain, and has yet to meet a reverse.

As to details of the process itself, he is discreetly silent. All he will divulge is that he places the article to be locally transformed into a solution of certain chemicals, after which he treats it to a current of electricity. He says his discovery has been made at the attention of the School of Practical Science and that he has been asked to give some enlightenment on its nature.

Several cash offers have been made him for the formula, but he has declined to consider them. He has made careful enquiries of the patent offices of Great Britain and the United States and has satisfied himself that his knowledge is not shared by any other inventor.

Mr. Copeland's experiments have attracted attention outside of the immediate circle of his friends. A prominent dentist of the city, hearing of the process whereby a metallic surface could be given to glass, has commissioned the chemist to supply the coating in fine shape and the newer device that the heat stored in the bulb is used in heating water. Mr. Copeland showed the reporter a bulb partially encased in which a hot water heater, and expressed confidence that he would be enabled to revolutionize the methods of warming water for dental or surgical operations.

His recent activities, he says, have been turned in the direction of extracting ore from minerals, and he has been successful with copper and other deposits.

INCREASE IN ACREAGE. C. N. R. Reports Place It at 25 to 100 Per Cent.

WINNIPEG, April 19.—The Canadian Northern Railway issued their first crop report for the season yesterday, covering the entire country tributary to its lines. All reports say the land is in fine shape and the newer devices indicate a great increase in acreage, which will run anywhere from 25 to 100 per cent.

Arrangements for the organization and opening of the Winnipeg Stock Exchange are proceeding quickly, the membership being restricted to 25 seats. The price of seats has been fixed at $50, and there are already 60 applications.

MAN FINED FOR BRINGING POLICE INTO "DISREPUTE" LONDON, April 19.—John McAllister, who admitted that he had walked out of a cell in the police station when he found the door unlocked, because he was innocent of the charge, yesterday in court was fined $5 for "bringing the police into disrepute," by Magistrate Love Sunday morning.

McAllister explained that he had taken a pair of trousers from a bell-boy at the Teutonic House, and had returned them the next day. This led to the laying of a theft charge.

NEW YORK WOMEN GAMBLING CRAZED

Thousands of Them Said to Have Become Addicted to Poker Play Night and Day.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The World says: Thousands of the women of New York are gambling crazed. The World, for several weeks past, has conducted a quiet but thorough investigation, and the most astonishing facts were unearthed about the extent of the epidemic of gambling that now rages among women in this city. It is growing every day. There seems to be no check to its disastrous progress.

There are hundreds of poker games running nightly in New York, where saturnity is weakened and family plate hurried to pawnshops. No count can be taken of the calamity to domestic life which is attributed to the disposition of women to gamble with cards. Poker games and bridge whist parties are formed weeks in advance.

In many of the Broadway hotels there are organized day companies of men and women who indulge in draw poker and bridge, with a view to helping out household expenses, from a visitation of Dame Fortune. There are scores of women living off the profits of this passion in New York to-day. These same are the heads of establishments in apartment or brown stone front houses in quiet neighborhoods. Their percentage of the profits of the game enables them to live luxuriously.

AIR-FILLED COAT SAVES ITS WEARER FROM DROWNING

Elderly Man's Attempt at Suicide in Bay is Frustrated in Odd Fashion.

A deliberate attempt at suicide in the western channel at the foot of Bathurst-street, on Sunday morning, was foiled in a peculiar way.

An elderly man—perhaps 55 years of age—and well dressed, was observed walking along the pier. His gait indicated that he was intoxicated.

Reaching the eastern end, he removed his hat and carefully laid it on the wharf. Then going to the edge, he jumped to the water. Fortunately for himself he was wearing a long, loose coat and in leaping feet first, the air filled beneath the coat so that when he struck the water there was a sufficiency of air to buoy him up until Messrs. Alex. Bauckham and Sidney reached the spot and were able to drag him out.

At first he seemed inclined to repeat his jump, but finally he listened to their persuasions.

Before leaving he thanked his rescuers for their trouble.

FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY. Three Dead and One May Die—Inane Young Man Began It.

WARRENSBURG, Mo., April 19.—Three men are dead and another is probably fatally wounded as the result of an attempt of local peace officers to arrest F. O. Hawes to-night.

The dead are: James Ryan, city marshal; Night Watchman Babashan, F. O. Hawes, and the wounded, Nightwatchman R. P. Pollock. Hawes, who is 22 years of age, was returning home by train to-night and is believed to have suddenly lost his mind. City Marshal Ryan and two watchmen met Hawes as he got off the train and attempted to arrest him. Hawes drew a revolver and began shooting. At the first shot, Ryan fell dead, shot thru the head. Nightwatchman Babashan fell dead, shot thru the lungs. Nightwatchman Pollock was shot in the abdomen.

Hawes started to run from the station, but was shot and killed by a negro porter.

MISTAKEN FOR BURGLARS. Two Young Men Shot and Killed by Police.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 19.—Mistaken for burglars, John and William D. Frank, sons of R. O. Frank, a grocer, were shot and killed to-day by City Patrolmen Heinze and Casey. Shortly before the shooting burglars were discovered by neighbors in Frank's grocery store. The owner of the store and the police were informed about the same time of the burglary. The two young men, who were later shot, another brother, Albert Frank, and Wm. Yoeger, hastily armed themselves and ran to the grocery. Patrolman Heinze and Casey were watching in the shadows of the building when the fourth young man arrived, and each party mistook the other for the burglars.

According to Yoeger, "W. D. Frank" fired a rifle four times at Patrolman Heinze who threw a revolver, and fatally wounded the young man. Patrolman Casey ordered the other three young men to throw up their hands, and they did so, the survivors say. Patrolman Casey declares, however, that John Frank did not throw up his hands, but aimed a revolver at the patrolman. Casey then shot John Frank.

His World Was Small. CATSKILL, N.Y., April 19.—John Post, one of the wealthiest retired farmers in Greene County, died to-day at his home here, aged 88 years. Every year of his long life had been spent within a radius of four miles.

Sudden Death Fever. WILHELMSTADT, April 19.—The Dutch consul at La Guaira reports that pernicious fever, causing very sudden death, is prevalent there.

PRINCE WILL BE ACCOMPANIED BY BRILLIANT STAFF

But His Royal Highness' Visit to Canada Will Be Confined to the Quebec Celebration Only.

LONDON, April 19.—Arrangements have been completed for the visit of the Prince of Wales to Quebec in July to attend the tercentenary celebrations and inaugurate the monument on the Plains of Abraham to Wolfe and Montcalm and the men who fought under them for possession of what is now the Dominion of Canada.

This will be the prince's second visit to Canada, the first having been nearly two years ago, when returning from his world tour he visited all the Canadian provinces and also spent some time fishing and hunting in the Northwest.

This time, however, he will go no farther than Quebec and his secretary will not be extended over a fortnight. The prince will cross the Atlantic on a fast cruiser, probably the Minotaur, which will be accompanied by another cruiser as an escort. He will leave Portsmouth July 16, and reach Quebec July 22.

Fleet Comes on Ahead. The British Atlantic fleet will go over in advance of the Minotaur and her escort to take part in the celebration and give a fitting welcome to the heir to the throne.

His royal highness will be accompanied by a brilliant staff, so that some of the pomp and ceremony of the British court will be missing.

Among the staff will be Sir Francis Hopwood, permanent under secretary for the colonies, who, of all men in England, knows more about the colonies, and upon whom the prince will at least rely when dealing with the mother country.

French and American squadrons also will be at Quebec, and invitations have been sent to France and to all the colonies to send delegations to take part in the celebrations. Australia has accepted and will be represented by Lord Dudley, the new governor-general of the commonwealth.

Brouages, in the Charente Inferieure, the birthplace of the explorer, Champlain, has been asked to send a representative, as also have the families of Gen. Wolfe and Montcalm, Gen. J. Murray, Guy Carleton and Simon Fraser, who performed deeds of valor in the taking of Quebec.

Program in Brief. The prince on landing July 22 will be received by the governor-general, and will be presented with an address by the Dominion Parliament.

On the 23rd the scene of the landing of Champlain will be re-constituted, and the old navigators' arrival with a crew in a replica of his ship. The fetes will then be formally opened by the prince in a speech, to which Sir Wilfrid Laurier will respond.

The program for the following days: July 24—Dedication of the battlefield, military and naval review. July 25—Review of the fleets. July 26—Thanksgiving day; services in the Roman Catholic and English cathedrals.

July 27—Naval display ashore by 10,000 sailors; representation of the bombardment of Quebec by the fleet and army under Saunders and Wolfe.

July 28—Prince of Wales leaves Quebec.

B. C. TO BOSS FISHERIES. Breaks Loose From Federal Control—Modus Vivendi Terminated.

VANCOUVER, April 19.—No settlement has been reached between the Dominion and the provincial governments in disputed fishery questions in British Columbia, as a result of the visit of S. T. Bastedo, who was sent from Ottawa to consult with Hon. W. J. Bowser, British Columbia's commissioner of fisheries, along this line.

The modus vivendi hitherto existing between the governments, and whose chief financial terms Mr. Bowser declares have never been carried out, is being terminated.

The provincial government will at once assert its jurisdiction under a decision of the privy council, and inaugurate a restrictive administration of fishery affairs.

CATHOLIC THANKSGIVING. Million in New York Will Celebrate Centenary.

NEW YORK, April 19.—More than a million Catholics in Greater New York will join in a parochial thanksgiving next Sunday in all the Catholic churches throughout the archdiocese, and the general Te Deum will be the first of the week's rejoicing in commemoration of a hundred years of Catholic activity.

The entire American hierarchy, headed by Cardinal Gibbons; numerous Canadian prelates; Cardinal Logue, Archbishop of Armagh and prelate of all Ireland, will participate in the ceremonies. The Irish cardinal probably will arrive in New York Saturday morning.

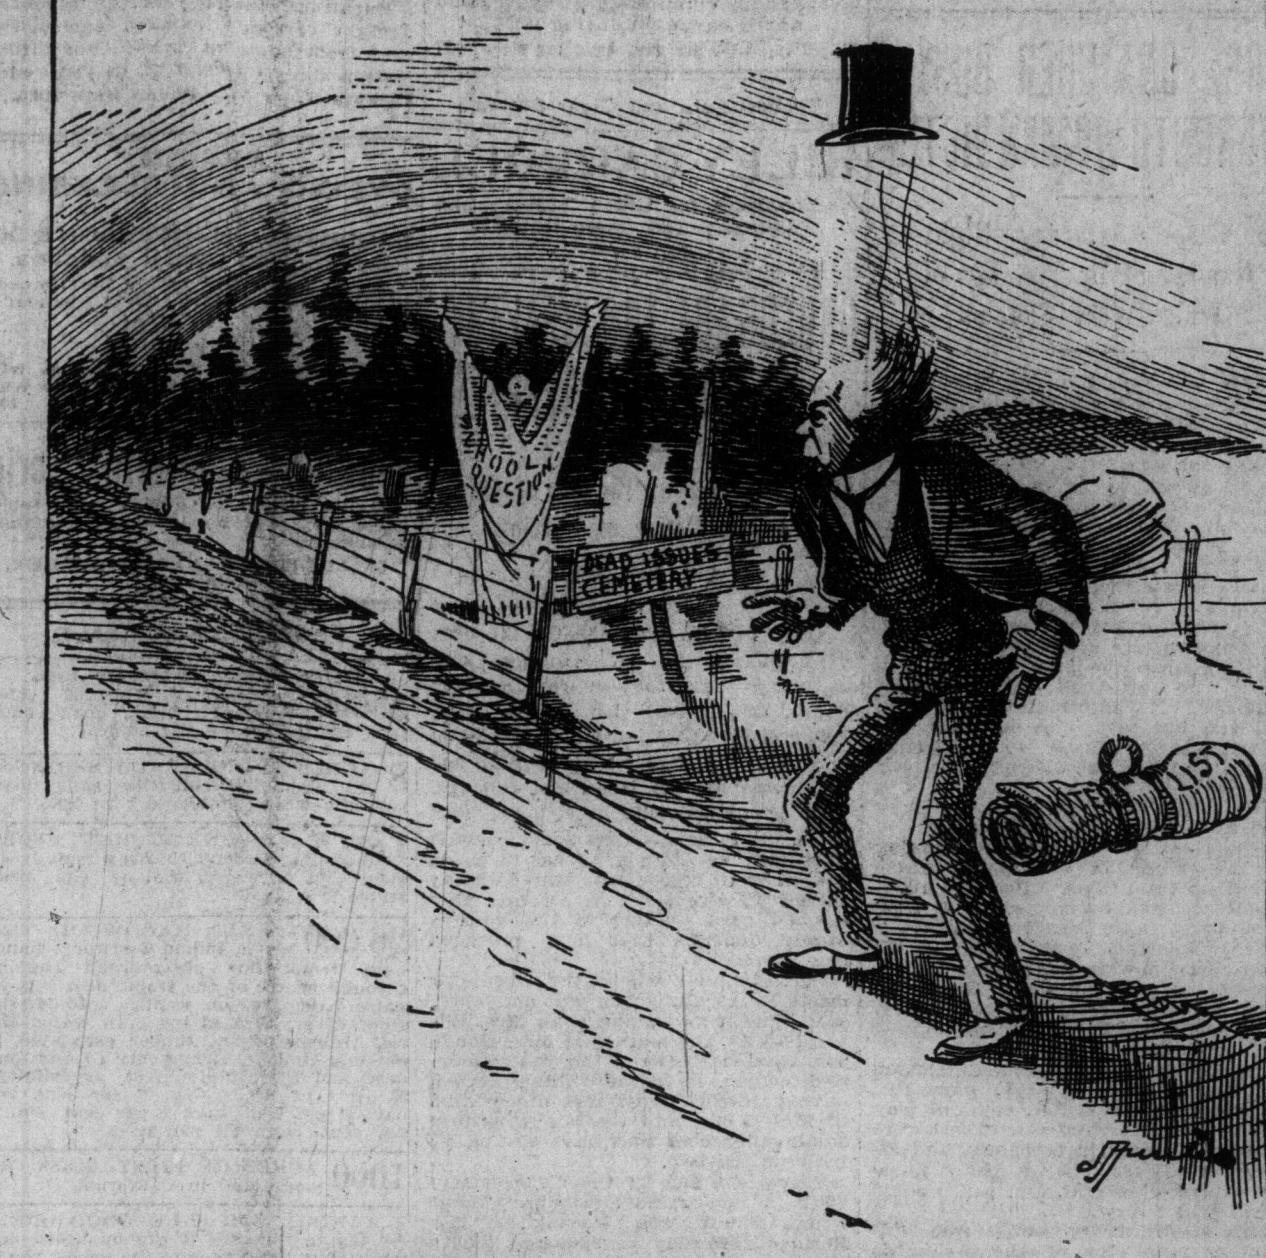

According to the present arrangement, Cardinal Logue will return to Ireland the first week in May.

NO JEWS FOR RUSSIAN ARMY. ST. PETERSBURG, April 19.—The next debate in the Duma will be in regard to the annual contingent of recruits for the army. The Extreme Right will propose that Jews shall be exempt from military service.

The idea of the Rightists is that this will keep out of the army what they regard as a pernicious, revolutionary element.

TO MARRY TRENTON PASTOR. TRENTON, N.J., April 19.—(Special.)—The announcement was made here to-day of the wedding next Thursday in Trenton, Ont., of Rev. Robert W. Trenton, pastor of Christ (P.E.) Church of this city, and a prominent eastern clergyman, to Miss Alice Stockton of St. John, N.E., daughter of the late Alfred A. Stockton, M.P. of St. John.

BURGLARS FIRE 5 SHOTS WHEATLEY MAN ESCAPES

James Reynolds Disturbs Two Marauders and Volley of Bullets is Result.

LONDON, April 18.—(Special.)—For several weeks a gang of bold burglars have infested western Ontario. Banks, postoffices and railway stations have been their especial prey, but they have also entered stores and dwellings. They are armed, and do not hesitate to use their weapons.

They have succeeded in terrorizing the southwestern part of the province and seemingly are showing their sneering contempt at the apparently halfhearted and certainly ineffectual efforts of the attorney-general's department to hit their trail.

Three days ago they used explosives on the safe in the Leamington post-office, but were scared away. During Friday night two men, supposed to be in the condition, and declared that he would be reported to the commanding officer in the morning for being improperly dressed. Moir became very argumentative, and somewhat abusive, and Lloyd allowed him to see his quarters without further protest.

Shortly afterwards a noise like that of a rifle shot was heard, and Orderly Officer Lewis, Morris came to Sgt. Moir and asked him who was the last man in. As the shot appeared to come from the hospital section, Lieut. Morris then hurried down into the sleeping quarters of the orderlies.

The room was quite dark, but Moir was seen in the corner with a rifle in his hand. Lloyd asked him to lay down the rifle, and he went over towards Moir. The latter raised the rifle, Lloyd saw the movement and jumped towards Moir. There was a report, and Lloyd sank to the floor with a groan.

Moir is an old soldier, so it is said, and was a private in the old Gordon Highlanders. He fought with the regiment during the Boer war. He has also seen service on the frontier. He always carried firearms, and it is said, would shoot on provocation.

The revolver he carried was an army revolver. Moir also had another revolver which he borrowed from one of the other soldiers. Moir evidently determined to commit the deed after the reprimand administered by Sgt. Lloyd. He took down the rifle and loaded it with a steel-tripped cartridge. He then buckled on his bandolier belt, filled with cartridges and secured his revolver. He took a number of loose cartridges belonging to Pte. Brady.

"Moir used to drink some, but was not a heavy drinker," said one of the privates, who was well acquainted with Moir. "He used to be a cordite eater. That acts like dope, and it used to make him wild at times. He was particularly bad when he was drinking, as he seemed to be worse and more dangerous than any other soldier."

Lloyd was about 25 years of age, fair complexion with light mustache. His home is in Stratford, and he was attached to the 28th Battalion. For several years past he has been taking courses at the barracks.

Emigrating to Canada. LONDON, April 19.—(C.A.F. Cable.)—Under the auspices of the Jewish Colonial Society, the headquarters of which are in Paris, emigration of Roumanian Jews to Canada is largely increasing.

It is expected that the demonstration will begin on Thursday. It has been decided, if it is deemed necessary, also to occupy a small island off that coast, but it is hoped here that Turkey may see the error of her way and give full satisfaction, so that more energetic measures may be avoided. The difficulty between the two nations arises out of the refusal of the Turkish government to permit the establishment of Italian postoffices in Turkish territory, while at the same time other foreign nations have established, and are conducting, postoffices there without interference.

SOLDIER-MURDERER STILL EVADES ARREST

Seen Near St. Mary's on Sunday—Shooting Was Deliberate Deed.

LONDON, April 20.—(Special.)—Private Moir, orderly at Wolsley Barracks, who at midnight Friday shot and fatally wounded Col.-Sergt. Henry Lloyd of Stratford, has not yet been captured, although he was heard of in the vicinity of Grove Post, and later on he was seen near St. Mary's, where he was seen to be carrying a man for food, but didn't get on a hand-car.

Moir is said to have a ugly disposition. He had been drinking during Good Friday, and on returning, Lloyd, who was in command of the guard, reprimanded Moir on his condition, and declared that he would be reported to the commanding officer in the morning for being improperly dressed. Moir became very argumentative, and somewhat abusive, and Lloyd allowed him to see his quarters without further protest.

Shortly afterwards a noise like that of a rifle shot was heard, and Orderly Officer Lewis, Morris came to Sgt. Moir and asked him who was the last man in. As the shot appeared to come from the hospital section, Lieut. Morris then hurried down into the sleeping quarters of the orderlies.

QUEBEC LEGISLATURE. Plans for a Redistribution—To Quadruple Hochelega.

MONTREAL, April 19.—(Special.)—Both the provincial leaders are in town to-day, and it is pretty well understood that the session of the legislature will be prorogued on Saturday next, to be followed by an early dissolution of the house.

It is said that the redistribution bill to be brought down this week will divide the County of Hochelega into four counties, instead of one, as to-day, and that the Counties of Pontiac and Labelle will also be given an additional member.

There will be no increase in the sessional indemnity this session, but it is said that an increase may be given after the elections.

DYNAMITE EXPLODES AND 9 MEN ARE KILLED

Premature Discharge in a Rock Cut on New Railway Has Horrible Result.

QUEBEC, April 18.—By the premature explosion of a dynamite mine in a rock cut on the Transcontinental Railway, at Armagh, in the County of Bellechasse, about 25 miles below Quebec, on the south shore, yesterday afternoon, nine men were instantly killed and three badly injured.

Three others were injured, one having his leg broken. The explosion occurred back some 20 miles from St. Valier Station, on the Intercolonial Railway, and only meagre details of the catastrophe have so far been received.

The names of the killed are: Angus Campbell of Iron Mines, N.S.A. Pinkston, a native of England; A. Bernard of France; Adelard Morrissette; Wilfrid Noel; Edouard Langlois; Onesime Gagnon.

Emile Charette, all natives of Armagh, and Joseph Roy of St. Philémon, County of Bellechasse. Many of the bodies of the unfortunate men were badly mutilated, some of their limbs being torn off. A coroner's inquest will be held to-morrow.

GOING AMONG ESQUIMOS. Stefansson, the Naturalist, to Resume Work in the North.

NEW YORK, April 18.—V. Stefansson, the naturalist, left to-night for the Arctic to continue his investigation among the Esquimaux. At Toronto he will meet Dr. R. M. Anderson, zoologist of the American Museum of Natural History, and the two will go together. They are going under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History. The 200-mile journey down the Mackenzie will be made in an open boat, and no supplies will be carried beyond those necessary to take the party to the mouth of the river.

Mr. Stefansson has friends in Toronto. The Toronto University formerly bore a share of Stefansson's expenses. He will take up meteorological work on this expedition.

GIRL BADLY HURT. Ruth Rumph Has Skull Fractured by Fall From Car.

Miss Ruth Rumph of 23 Grange-avenue had her skull fractured in a fall from a Belt Line car at 9:30 o'clock last night. The car was going north on Spadina-avenue and stopped at Grange, but started up before she had alighted. She was taken to her father's home in A. M. Miles' private ambulance, where Dr. J. H. Cotton attended her. The young lady's condition is very critical.

Found Dead. LONDON, Ont., April 19.—(Special.)—C. R. Babeu, travelling salesman for the Oliver Typewriter Co., was found dead in his room at the Tecumseth House at 7:45 o'clock to-night by Proprietor O'Neil and the night clerk. He had been missed around the hotel all day, and upon the chambermaid stating that his room had not been unlocked the door was broken in and he was found stretched out on the floor in his night robe. Suicide is suspected.

Armed Guards at Postoffices. On April 14 the Porte replied, declaring peremptorily the categorical orders had been given to prevent the opening of the offices. The Marquis Imperiale, in reply, stated that he had received official information to the effect that these orders consisted in directing that armed guards be placed

ITALIAN FLEET TO IMPESS TURKEY

Battleship and Destroyer to Enforce Treaty Rights in Regard to Postoffice Privileges.

ROME, April 19.—An Italian squadron, under command of Admiral F. Grenet, will set sail probably to-morrow for the purpose of making a demonstration in Turkish waters. The squadron comprises eleven warships, and includes the battleship Regina Elena, commanded by the Duke of the Abruzzi. Altogether the vessels will carry 5000 men, and their objective point will be Asia Minor, some seven hundred miles away.

It was learned to-night that eight destroyers will join the squadron, bringing the number of men in the fleet up to nearly 7000, with about 500 big guns.

It is expected that the demonstration will begin on Thursday. It has been decided, if it is deemed necessary, also to occupy a small island off that coast, but it is hoped here that Turkey may see the error of her way and give full satisfaction, so that more energetic measures may be avoided.

The difficulty between the two nations arises out of the refusal of the Turkish government to permit the establishment of Italian postoffices in Turkish territory, while at the same time other foreign nations have established, and are conducting, postoffices there without interference.

Missionary Murdered. Considerable irritation has been felt here also over the murder of an Italian missionary in Tripoli, and the persecution by the Ottoman authorities of natives who have sold land to Italians, but the present action of the Italian government is based primarily on the postoffice question. With regard to this, however, the Turkish ambassador in Rome has pointed out in an interview that this government has no instance granted to the countries in question such privileges, although it has "tolerated" the postoffices which they have maintained.

Turkey's Mistake. Apparently Turkey came to the conclusion that the Italian government would never resort to extreme measures in view of the fact that the Macedonian problem is pending for the solution of which the accord of the powers is indispensable, and she went so far as to order detachments of troops to guard the Italian postoffices, and thus prevent the work from being carried on.

To this provocation the Italian administration felt that it could only reply with coercive measures in order to protect the dignity of Italy and safeguard her rights. In issuing orders for a demonstration of Italian warships in Turkish waters, Italy desired clearly to show that she did not wish to take advantage of the situation for the purpose of occupying any territory. Thus the demonstration will not occur off Tripoli, nor is it intended to increase the Balkan problems by directing the fleet towards Albania or Macedonia. The squadron will go direct to Asia Minor.

Supported by Powers. Great satisfaction is felt here, and it is stated that all the powers have approved Italy's decision to have recourse to force if necessary to protect her interests, which is an indication that they believe that Italy has no intention of permanent territorial occupation.

A semi-official note sent out by the Italian Government describes how for a long time past Italians residing in several towns in Turkey have been endeavoring to secure the opening of Italian postoffices. Signor Titton, the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs, decided to open postoffices at Constantinople, Salonica, Avlona, Smyrna and Jerusalem, and at the end of March the Italian ambassador informed the Porte of Italy's intention.

The sultan had been aware of Italy's intention in this respect for several years. On March 20 the Porte replied that the opening of these offices would not be allowed.

The Italian ambassador sent another note to the Porte on April 9, in which he indicated that Italy's rights were not to be allowed.

On April 14 the Porte replied, declaring peremptorily the categorical orders had been given to prevent the opening of the offices. The Marquis Imperiale, in reply, stated that he had received official information to the effect that these orders consisted in directing that armed guards be placed
