

MASKETTE WINS THE FUTURE

Sheephead Bay Opens With Betting—Sir Martin Is Second and Helmet Third—Simon Pure Wins Jump.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—With both the law and the management of the Coney Island Jockey Club frowning sternly on betting, and the racing public knowing it only too well, there was, in comparison with former years, only a corporal's guard in attendance this afternoon, at the twenty-first running of the Futurity race at Sheephead Bay to see James R. Keene's brilly Maskette easily capture the classic.

The spectators numbered about 10,000, while the record for the attendance on this fixture is close to 50,000, and it has been an ordinary thing for 40,000 persons to witness the great contest of thoroughbred which marks the opening of the fall racing season in New York.

But an entirely different impression was created by a view of the great three-decker field stand devoted to a single spectator, where on former occasions there have been such enthusiastic thousands, and of the immense grand stands and the spacious lawns in front of it in reality only sprinkled with devotees of the sport, for the 12,000 or so that were present were hardly enough even to give the appearance of filling the great place.

Everybody agreed that the character of the attendance was very high also, and it was held universally that the glorious weather ably supplemented the magnificent field that was entered for the race in attracting as many as attended.

There was absolutely no betting. The Futurity was the fourth race on the card, and it is said some attempt was made to play some wagers on the first race, but, quite quietly, it not mysteriously, the quietus was put upon it, and the program, the most powerful searchlight would have been unable to unfold any betting of the professional sort. The Jockey Club had drawn up as drastically as the stewards could make it, and the program, the most powerful searchlight would have been unable to unfold any betting of the professional sort.

A striking fact in connection with the Futurity this year was the absence of any very wealthy men and horses considered enough to strive for the rich prize were entered. Of the nine starters, James R. Keene owned two, Helmet, Whiskey two, August Belmont, Herman B. Duryea and P. S. Randolph, one each, and John E. Madden two.
