DRIVER IS HIT BY CAR AND SKULL FRACTURED

Reuben Green, Crushed Between Freight Car and Gate—Five Minor Accidents.

Five minor accidents occurred in the city yesterday and the victims removed to various hospitals.

While crossing Sherbourne-street at Wilton-avenue yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Fred McCullough was thrown from the Eastern delivery rig which he was driving when it was struck by a Bell Line car. He hit upon his head and was attended by Dr. McCollum, who says that he has sustained a slight fracture of the skull. He was carried into Silvester's drug store and removed from there in his own rig to St. Michael's Hospital.

Working on a siding at the Massey-Harris Company, Reuben Greenbury, 181 Logan-avenue, a switchman on the G.T.R., was crushed between a freight car and a gate in the morning. He sustained a fractured collar bone and a wound on the side of his face. Greenbury was removed from there to Grace Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Riordan.

When crossing the street at Front and Bay-streets at eight o'clock in the morning, Arthur Edwards, living at Richmond and Duncan-streets, walked in front of a Bloor and McCollum car and he sustained a cut on the head and a few scratches. The police ambulance was summoned and he was taken to St. Michael's Hospital. While a nurse was making up a cot for him, he disappeared thru a side door.

George Bond, 354 Spadina-avenue, while working for White & Co., at the corner of Front and Church-streets, was struck by a crowbar, falling from the second story, in the foot. He was taken to the Western Hospital, where it was found that a large wound had been inflicted. After having it dressed by Dr. Cotton, he returned to his home.

Mrs. Annie Campbell, 27 Carlton-street, fell on the sidewalk on Yonge-street, in the vicinity of Carlton-street, and broke a bone in her right leg. She was taken to her home and from there to St. Michael's Hospital.

A "MAN HIGHER UP" INDICTED

Secretary-Treasurer of Sugar Trust Must Face a Judge.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—One of the men "higher up" has at last been named by the federal grand jury investigating the sugar frauds. Charles R. Helke, secretary and treasurer of the American Sugar Refining Co., was indicted to-day on charges of conspiracy to defraud and of making false entries.

Harry W. Walker, assistant superintendent of the Williamsburg docks of the American Sugar Company, was also indicted, with others, employees of the company, against which indictments have previously been found. The new indictment contains six counts, four of effecting false entry and two of conspiracy.

ALFONSO SHOWED HIS NERVE

Dealt Summarily With Military Followers of Trouble.

MADRID, Jan. 14.—King Alfonso, sitting as the president of the cabinet, ruled with an iron hand in an endeavor to straighten out the internal troubles threatened by revelations printed in a military newspaper, which had for their purpose the engendering of bad blood between the army and the government over the distribution of honors to the troops in Morocco.

This fact leaked out to-day, when it became known that his majesty had sanctioned the instant removal of Captain De Villar, captain-general of Valladolid, Coruna and Valencia, and ordered the arrest of other officers implicated in the affair.

The newspapers justify the methods taken to put down the conspiracy, which it is believed had broader ramifications than the mere resignation of the ministry and extended even so far as an attempt to foment a Carlist uprising under Don Jaime, the pretender.

ALAS, POOR MONK!

Now He's Debarred From the Ottawa By-Election Oratory.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Some supporters of Dr. Chabot, the Conservative candidate here, invited F. D. M.P. to speak on his behalf during the by-election campaign, whereupon P. D. Ross, of The Evening Journal, president of the Conservative Association, declared that he would not go on the platform.

Negotiations were then abruptly terminated.

Fire in St. Lawrence Market. Fire at 1:30 this morning did $100 damage to the top floor of Park Thompson's provision store in St. Lawrence Market, and about $400 damage was caused by water.

BALFOUR FINALE IS TARIFF REFORM

tion of the Liberals to concentrate the attention of the people on the constitutional struggle involved in the attempt of the peers to control the public purse, and the quick realization by the Conservatives that the rejection of the budget had been a mistake.

Every effort was then made by the opposition to change the issue. This is seen in the introduction into the campaign of the new issue of a weak navy and the danger of a German invasion, which led the Unionists to take up the prominent socialist, Robert Balfour, to help in their attack on the Liberals.

While under the influence of Joseph Chamberlain, tariff reform was pushed forward as the Unionist's leading plank. On this question the party presents a very divided front. Austen Chamberlain and many unofficial influences in the party going bodily out for the taxation of foot and Mr. Balfour declining to commit himself beyond the vague pledge that tariff reform should not have the effect of enhancing the cost of living to the working classes.

Balfour has not given the slightest indication of the details of his intended tariff, except that he committed himself to the assurance that no duty would be placed on raw cotton.

The campaign has been notable for the enormous use of picture posters and similar devices. The tariff reformers even opened shops in different districts in order to display samples of foreign imports "dumped" into England. This led to amusing incidents—the discovery of one case where the alleged American chair really had been made in London.

Germany's Food. The question of the cost of food in the United States and Germany also was illustrated in a similar manner. There were displays of British and German bread as object lessons, and there was much trouble over the Liberator's allegations that the German poor subsisted on unpalatable black bread and horseflesh. Then a German baker in London came forward to testify that the alleged black rye bread was a luxury, and that he had a contract to supply it regularly to Buckingham Palace.

The Liberals tried hard to avoid one of their greatest dangers, triangular contests due to the intrusion of Laborites; but despite their efforts, there still are fifty seats where there is a possibility of the Liberal constituencies returning Unionist members thru this cause.

LIBERAL FREE TRADER IS OPPOSED TO BOUNTIES

Clark of Red Deer Clashes With Fielding's Policy—T.W. Crothers Sails Into the Premier.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—(Special.)—That rare avist to-day, an undiluted Liberal free trader, cropped up in parliament this afternoon in the person of Michael Clark of Red Deer, Alberta, an Englishman, who settled in the west nine years ago. It led him into an uncompromising disagreement with the minister of finance upon the question of bounties. Mr. Fielding, in the budget speech, drew analogies between bounties to iron and steel and bounties or subsidies to railways. Dr. Clark repudiated this analogy, pointing out that giving bounties to iron and steel was giving bounties to articles which could be imported, whereas ready-made railroads could not be imported. Subsidies to railroads might be right, for the whole people paid for what was given bounties to articles which could be imported, whereas ready-made railroads could not be imported. Subsidies to railroads might be right, for the whole people paid for what was given bounties to articles which could be imported, whereas ready-made railroads could not be imported.

Dr. Clark also condemned Mr. Fielding's attitude regarding the German surtax. He described it as the unwise policy of retaliation, a weapon with a blunt point and a sharp handle.

T.W. Crothers, West-Union, suggested that Dr. Clark should hold a series of revival meetings to get his Liberal friends back to the principles of 1896, from which they had departed. If the people had accepted the principles of the Liberal party, Canada would have been an annex of the United States to-day.
