to be paid into the Treasury,

41

In section 10, His Lordship to a reduction of salaries on t considers his duty imperative
a reduction would be a breach

a reduction would be a breach.
Section 12. He acknowlee
the House foreduce the salari officers; but advises that the thused so low as to afford tem
the highest ability.
Section 13th instructs the
that if the Legislature passe any judicial salary in perspegive his assent to it, but that with a suspending clause.
Section 14. His Lordship e ter of the Rolls as placed on with the other Judges, and salary to be reduced. He wil the salary of the Surveyor G
out for reduction, or to the im
of the office of Receiver Gen offices becoming vacant, he wa abolition of the latter, and the salary attached to the oth
Section 15. He recommend the salary attached to the oth Section 15. He recommend of public works, particularly timates that capitalists will an undertakings in the colonies any fear that the Colonial Lefulfil their pledges; and adbreach of the public faith, in a gagements entered into in 1838, Brunswick of the confidence of 18 Section 17. He will not ce tion of the Governor's salar advancing in population and Civil List capable of bearing the Section 18. He regards the Section 18. He regards the 1886 as "permanent and bind deavour as much as possible, occur, to meet the wishes of t pressed through their Repressed [N

-

REPORTING THE DEBATES.

Hon. Ma. PARTELOW said that to before the House, they might a versation upon two subjects, in some understanding in the prem mode of providing Stationery for House, and Reporting the Del to hear hon. members' opinion of Hon. Ma. HANNINGTON said paying Reporters, Papers contwere sent into the House, and well to refuse to pay for them.

Ma. TAYLOR was also in favouers. He hoped this House wou last House had done—pass commencement of the session ners, and reverse the decision at seasoin.

ers, and reverse the decision as esseion.

Ma. Williston hoped the H to a resolution at once to pay published debates contained inf people required; the money was but well expended. If Reports to be paid, he thought they wou selves to the utmost to issue ful ports.

Ma. Scoullar said it was qui flouse to vote that they would as they would be sure to give it the session closed. He was found as once. He believed the the information.

the session closed. He was folution at once. He believed the the information.

Hon. Ma. Partelow then reached the information.

Hon. Ma. Partelow then reached the information.

Hon. Ma. Partelow then reached the information of the informatio omer purposes. The mount to waste if the Clerk provided a secount of it as he gave it out.

M. HATHEWAY contended impossible for the Clerk to Members would go to him for a paper, an envelope, or a sticl How could the Clerk, with his perform, keep an account of all considered 20s. quite sufficient, the amendment.

MR. TALOR was opposed the and amendment. Let the quest let the Clerk provide, and let what he actually required, and they might trust each other.

MR. BEARDSLEY differed from The experience of former Housthat every hon, member could moveld support the amendment member who wrote a great deal twenty shillings! the amount he out of his own pocket would be thought of.

MR. TILLEY considered 20s. et an hon, member could not constitute is, if he purchased his statumon rates, and did not pay for to 41s. per ream, as was charg Last year the stationery bill ame 155 to each member, which he agant.

Mr. CUTLER was of opinion.

Mr. CUTLER was of opinion.

agant.
Mr. CUTLER was of opinion procure their stationery through Hon. Ma. Partelow then w tion, and the speaker announce ham's amendment then stood as lution.

tion, and the epeaker announce hem's amendment then stood as intion.

Ma. NEEDHAM urged that a I as it had been the practice of m to former Houses to carry the stuse it for private purposes. Large bundles, and trunks full ried off. A year or two since o went astray, and was sold by at of St. John. This was consiftened it impossible for an as much as he would, could not worth during the session. If the go on the old way, other things p into the bill; perhaps an old tre down, and require propping up. pass, when every hon. member he is to get.—The resolution without division.

Ma. GLIERET then moved a provision be made for Reporting ing the present session. If its of resolution thus early was becau Reporters in the gallery, who no House would pay them, & he whem and let them know they w? they were permitted to go on, & dud, and, suppose they would of the House would pay them, & he whem and let them know they will be the fattering unction to their so would pay? them, the therefopportunity to let them know the fattering unction to their so would pay? them.