LOCAL NEWS

SOAP DEARER
The prices of soap are still on the advance and the indications are that soap will have to be retailed at seven cents a cake. Today the wholesalers of the city were advised that Gold soap and naphtha had advanced from $5.50 to $5.75 a box. Ivory soap advanced from $4.50 to $4.80 a box.

A NEW SPEEDWAY
It does not take the auto speeder very long to locate a new piece of good pavement. The new paving in Mocklenburg street, from Westwick to the bridge, was completed only last week but already there are complaints from the residents of the district that drivers are sending their cars along this stretch at the rate of forty miles an hour—and going out of their way to travel over the new pavement.

MRS. GEORGE JONES
Mrs. George Jones, of Musquash, died at her home on May 26, following an illness of a year. She was seventy-five years of age and leaves her husband, two step-daughters, Mrs. H. Amos and Mrs. H. Melanson, both of this city, and one step-son, George Jones, now overseas. Mrs. Jones was a native of Musquash and was well known and respected in the community. Her death removes one of its oldest residents. Burial took place on Sunday at Musquash.

NOVELTY SHOWER
The young ladies of the "Room For One More Class" of the Central Baptist Church, met on Friday evening at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Helen Dowrie, in Harding street, and tendered a novelty shower to one of their members, Miss Nettie Thorne, in honor of an interesting event of the near future. During the evening she was made the recipient of many useful and valuable gifts. Refreshments were served and the gathering broke up, offering the guests many good wishes.

THE ANTI-CONSCRIPTIONISTS
That the agitation against conscription in Montreal is confined chiefly to the rougher element and that the present opposition is not receiving the support of the better class of French-Canadians is the impression gained in Montreal by H. B. Short, general manager of the Canadian Fish Corporation, who returned yesterday from upper Canada. Mr. Short said that the opposition seeming to come largely from men who were looking for excitement rather than from persons who were defending a principle.

JOHN MCGILL BATTERY
Howard B. Bustin, late president arts 30 McGill University, having completed one year at that institution, enlisted on May 9 as a gunner in the 1st Battalion, 1st Brigade, 2nd Division, Canadian Expeditionary Force. Mr. Bustin has a high record of achievement on the field of honor and the present draft contains several officers who recognized their commissions, enlisting as privates in order more quickly to reach the front. At the time of the publication of the McGill Annual of '18, 185 of its students had, in foreign lands, laid down their lives for humanity. The young recruit is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Bustin of this city.

HOME TO ENLIST
A clean cut apt looking chap stepped smartly off a train at the Union Depot yesterday at noon. He was dressed in civilian clothes. His striking figure and manly carriage attracted much attention as he walked through the train shed. "Where can I see a recruiting sergeant?" queried the stranger. "Come with me," said an officer from whom the information was elicited, "and I will sign you." The two walked soldierly-like out of the station and on the way to the recruiting headquarters the young man told the officer that he was about to be "taken in" in the states and, seeing that it was a case of fight, he came back to the land of his birth, as he preferred to fight under the flag of his own land. He has been absent from Canada since a boy.

The funeral of the late Whalen took place this morning from his late residence, 274 Waterloo street, to the Cathedral, where high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. William Duke. Interment was made in the new Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Thomas Reed took place this afternoon from his late residence, Prospect street, Fairville, to the Church of the Good Shepherd, where services were conducted by Rev. Walter P. Dunham. Interment was made in Greenwood.

CASE GOES TO TRIAL
John Jones was committed for trial in the police court this morning on charge of obtaining money under false pretences. Jones, it is charged, posed as a representative of a Canadian publication and collected the sum of $216 from Mrs. B. H. Cochrane, 19 Murray street, and also secured money from several other people. The general manager of the circulation department of the publication said that at one time Jones was connected with the concern but towards the latter part of November, 1916, he was dismissed. Cross-examined by the defendant, the witness said that Jones had worked for the publication in Halifax some four years ago, and had given general satisfaction there. He was prompt and full. Asked by the court why the defendant was dismissed, the witness said that about two weeks previous to the time he was discharged he had failed to make his returns, had become careless and was irregular in communicating with the head office. The defendant in answer to the charge said that his orders were always taken straight-forwardly and the premiums he held out were legitimate offerings of aid allowed by the committee.

SAID TEMPERANCE DRINK DID IT

One prisoner was before Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning charged with drunkenness. A feature of the case was that the man said he became intoxicated from drinking what is regarded as a temperance drink. Sub-inspector Crawford secured some information from the prisoner. The case will likely be investigated as nothing more than two per cent. is supposed to be intoxicating and therefore is allowed to be sold under the new act.

Detective McAlain said that he noticed the man in a team with two others. The defendant then showed signs of intoxication. The team came from the direction of Main street and continued along Mill, up Union and through some of the main thoroughfares. Two of the occupants got out, he said, and the defendant took the horse and wagon to a livery stable in Union street. The witness said that he then noticed the prisoner in the street and he was very much under the influence. He placed him under arrest.

The prisoner admitted to the court that he and the two men had been out driving and that he had secured the refreshment in the vicinity of Spruce Lake. He was remanded pending some enquiries.

TIMES MEN SPEED ANOTHER GALLANT ONE ON THE WAY TO WAR

Address and Presentation to S. H. Fry, Who Has Joined the Killies

Stephen H. Fry, a linotype operator for the Times, until he enlisted in the 80th Killies Battalion, was the central figure of an informal gathering in the composing room on Monday afternoon after the day's work was over. His former associates had taken advantage of his presence in the city on furlough to bid him farewell and extend their best wishes, accompanied by a more tangible token of their esteem. On behalf of the members of the Times' Chapel, F. W. Stanton presented to Mr. Fry a set of pipes and a stock of tobacco, accompanied by the following address:

Brother Stephen—

"We call you to join us today to be able once more to gaze upon a kind, genial and loving friend, one we no doubt will miss, but as duty has called you to arms to fight for your king and country, we feel it a great honor that we wish to leave our ranks to enter the ranks in the field of battle. And as you are about to leave us to join this great rank, we feel we cannot let you go without showing in some way our kind appreciation of your good fellowship and as a remembrance I here, on behalf of the Times' Chapel, present to you this little token, and in it are our best wishes that you will be spared through your trials and tribulations to meet and join us again. Our only wish is that when you come in contact with this little token you will not forget the members of the Times' Chapel. Smoke Up, Old Steve, Smoke Up!"

Mr. Fry made a suitable response, and the final handshake was preceded by complimentary remarks from other members of the staff and a few appropriate songs.

"Steve" will have the best wishes of a large circle of friends when he leaves for overseas duty.

TWO WOMEN WERE THROWN FROM CARRIAGE

Horse Became Frighteased by Locomotive And Ran Away

Residents of Hillyard street were horrified last evening to see a horse attached to a light driving carriage come dashing down the street at a mad clip and two women in the carriage thrown out into the street. They had been enjoying a drive when an engine came around the curve near the corner of Bentley street and frightened the animal. The women were unable to control the horse and it got the bit between its teeth and started away at a rapid rate. The carriage kept swerving from side to side and people thought that the women would be killed. As the horse neared the corner of Simonds street the carriage gave a lurch and both women were thrown to the street. They were picked up and assisted to their homes in Murray street and Dr. J. T. Dalton summoned. Although both had received a bad shaking up and several bruises, neither was seriously injured. It was later learned that the women were Mrs. Andrew Garnett and her mother-in-law, Mrs. James Garnett.

IMPORTANT MATTERS AT COUNCIL MEETING

Some important matters are to be dealt with at the meeting of the common council this afternoon. Commissioner Wigmore will present his recommendations for the renewal of the Lancaster water main at an estimated cost of $80,000, and will also submit his programme for other renewal work, the value of which is estimated at $19,000. Caledonian street improvements will be taken up again, Commissioner Fisher having promised to submit his recommendations today. It is possible that the council may be in a position today to deal also with the problem of paving Union street, West End, with or without the car rails being raised.

Several matters connected with city leases will be brought up by Commissioner Russell, and he will report on the progress of the city's public gardening operations in Lancaster.

IS IN MONCTON

Chas. Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, is in Moncton today attending the trial of a returned soldier who was arrested here a few days ago on a charge of bigamy.

Dear Mary:—

Well, George and Anna are going to get married, I've already decided what we are going to give them—it will be furniture.

I wish papa and mamma had given Frank and me furniture when we were married. I think furniture is such a sensible wedding gift. Young couples need it.

Let's buy our presents at the same time. Then we won't both give the same thing. I'll come for you and we'll go to the furniture store tomorrow. How about it?—HELEN
