Met on Firing Line

Lieut. Theo Barker, who is with B Battery of the Royal Field Artillery at the front, has written to his father, R. S. Barker, of the department of lands and mines, telling of meeting Sergt. Drury Allen, son of E. H. Allen of Fredericton on the firing line in France.

Will Command Platoon

Lance Corp. Ray L. Brewer, who is now at the front with the 26th Battalion is to command the Sunbury county platoon of the 26th Battalion. He is a son of Sergt. Major H. T. Brewer, and has been at the front for eleven months. Some time ago it was announced that Corp. Charles Wilmot Parke of the P. C. L. I., had been applied for by the O. C. 26th Battalion to command the Sunbury county platoon, but a few days after his application went forward, word was received that he was missing.

The 36th Gassed

Bombardier Ralph McKenna, writing to his parents in Fredericton states that the 86th Battery were holding a position where the Germans launched a violent attack on the Canadian lines, using the poisonous gas and other means to break through. When the word was given that the gas attack had been started there was a great rush for the gas helmets. The gas had little effect on the members of the 86th Battery, as no casualties were reported. Up to date the battery has not lost a man.

Fatally Ill at Valcartier

A telegram from Valcartier Camp received Wednesday conveyed the intelligence that Private Addison Clark, 140th Battalion, was fatally ill with appendicitis and complications, and that his death was expected in a short time. He is a son of George E. Clark of Fredericton. Private Clark was on leave last week and left only last Friday for Valcartier.

With the Killies

Private William L. Delaney, who was wounded at Festubert while fighting in the ranks of the 14th Battalion, Royal Montreal Regiment, has joined the 26th Battalion. He has arrived in Fredericton from his home in Kensington, P. E. I. Besides Private Delaney four other volunteers joined the 26th Battalion on Thursday. One of that number, Trevion Hovey, 18, of Ladlow, enlisted in Fredericton, and the other three, Walter Lasker, 18, of St. John, James A. Clime, 18, of Sussex, and David J. Arsenau, 18, of St. John, reported for duty.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning, six prisoners were fined $8 or two months in jail for drunkenness. John Boer, a deaf mute, was before the court on vagrancy charge. He was ordered to be sent to the Municipal Home.

Bernard Barry was charged with drunkenness and interfering with ladies and children at the corner of Union and Waterloo street yesterday afternoon. John Watters gave evidence. The court imposed a sentence of six months in jail without a fine and $50 or three months.

Tony Rose, who was allowed out only a day or so ago and given a chance to go west, occupied a seat in court today again. The court was bound he would leave the city this time and he was sent below in the care of a policeman, who will see that he gets out of town today.

Frank Colman, who appeared in court recently on charges of theft of a watch, drunkenness and acting disgracefully, was this morning allowed to go with the strongest warning that has been handed out to a man for some time. He was told that if he is seen again in the court he will likely get two years in Dorchester, or else a long term in jail here. Kenneth J. McEne appeared for the prisoner.

Harry Crossman, taken into custody about a week ago by Sergt. Baxter, on charges of drunkenness and going about hitting people in King street, was this morning given a chance to start anew and was allowed his freedom, so that he might enlist in 26th Kiltie regiment.

WELL DONE

Yesterday afternoon at Murray's mills four little girls held a bazaar to raise money for soldiers' comforts. They did excellently, realizing $15.27 with which to secure Christmas cheer for the men at the front. Those who carried out the idea are Gladys and Winifred Morrison and Dorothy and Marjorie Turner.

SGT. OF 26TH KILLED WHILE TENDING COMRADE. Was Bandaging Wounds When Shell Burst Near Them—Tribute From Lieutenant

How Sergt. Harry Sparc, of the 26th Battalion, was killed while fighting with the 26th Battalion at the front is told in a letter forwarded to Sergt. Shoemaker R. W. Gregory, of the 26th Battalion, Fredericton. Sergt. Sparc was a resident of Fredericton for several years previous to enlisting for overseas service. Lieut. J. Ward, in writing of this gallant soldier's death, says:—

"You will, I am sure, like to know that Sergt. Sparc's death occurred during one of the very heaviest bombardments ever this war has seen. The last time I saw him alive was when he was bandaging a wounded man, who was lying on the trench, just above the trench, and there, exposed to the flying shrapnel, Sergt. Sparc was carrying on his work as calmly and unobtrusively as possible. I stayed with him a few minutes, and then passed on up the trench in the course of my duty."

"When I re-passed the spot again about an hour later, the body of Sergt. Sparc and that of his comrades, who had been killed, were lying on the raised bag I mentioned earlier. His face was very quiet and peaceful, without a sign of pain or worry. From the nature of his wounds it was evident that his death had been instantaneous, and he never could have known that he was hurt. It appears that after dressing the wounded man with whom I saw him busy, he came down into the bottom of the trench, where the men were crouching, and a little while later, a shell bursting in the trench, killed him and two of his companions. He had such a death that a soldier would choose if death must come."

"Sergt. Sparc I can say that his life was one of self-sacrifice and devotion to duty. He carried self-forgetfulness to a degree which is rare. In the last seven months I have seen him at work under all conditions and my admiration for his character has grown steadily with greater knowledge. His patience, self-control and utter self-abnegation were remarkable. On working parties, where hours of waiting in the rain, followed by long marches through blackness and mud in the trenches, when things were warmest in camp, when he gave his time to instructional work, in such and every case he gave of his best. More than this no man can do and at last he gave his life. Greater love than this hath no man. It was my duty to look through the books found in Sergt. Sparc's pockets and you may care to know that he had kept many letters from his mother and yourself. All these I destroyed, as is customary. Please accept this assurance of the sympathy of his comrades."

A WASTE OF WATER

Commissioner to Put Inspectors at Work on Monday to Caver City—Using 11,000,000 Gallons a Day

It is doubtful if there are a dozen people in St. John who realize that more than 11,000,000 gallons of water are used some wasted—daily. These figures were given out this morning by Commissioner Wignome of the Water and Sewerage Department, who, in company with Engineer Goldsmith, hydraulic expert from New York, has been making tests for the last week.

At a check last night Commissioner Wignome and Engineer Goldsmith went to the Marsh bridge, and although at that time the supply used should have been at its minimum, they found it was still averaging about 11,000,000 gallons. Commissioner Wignome said that this would mean 300 gallons are being used for every man, woman and child in the city, which is the largest consumption on record. In London, he said, the per capita is about twenty-four gallons, and in Boston less than 100 gallons.

Prior to the installation of meters in Boston, the average per capita was 300 gallons, which was diminished one hundred per cent, and as a result saved the city an expenditure of $400,000 for at least thirty years.

Commissioner Wignome is convinced that there is a large waste in the city and hopes to put a stop to it. He said there were between 6,000 and 7,000 service pipes in the city, and attached to these are, on an average, 5% or seven taps. Many of these are either left open or the water allowed to run at full force, or else there is defective plumbing. Commencing on Monday morning he intends to put inspectors at work examining pipes, taps, etc., and will force landlords and owners of private residences to put them in good order.

"It is the citizens' money which is being expended, and they should co-operate with me," said the commissioner, "in an endeavor to diminish this waste. If this large consumption continues, it will mean additional expenditure and the city is not in a position at the present time to make it."

He explained that an inch stream of water at thirty pounds pressure would consume 8,225 gallons an hour, and as there is nearly 100 pounds pressure in the city, the amount would be much greater. A stream the sixteenth part of an inch would give sixteen gallons an hour, and a stream the sixty-fourth part of an inch, two and a half gallons.

These figures, said Commissioner Wignome, should make the citizens realize that there is a large waste. The consumption must be reduced, he said, and he was determined that it should be before winter sets in.

NEW BRUNSWICKER WINS THE WAR CROSS

Douglas McMonagle, Son of Former Sussex Resident, Gains Distinguished Honors in France

The following, taken from The Bulletin of August 23, a paper published in San Francisco, California, will be read with interest here. Douglas McMonagle referred to is a nephew of Hugh McMonagle of Upper Corner, Kings County. His father, the late Doctor Beverly McMonagle, practised for years at Upper Corner, and will be remembered by many.

The dispatch in The Bulletin reads as follows:—

"Paris, Aug. 2.—Douglas McMonagle of San Francisco, a graduate of the University of California, and now a member of the American Ambulance Field Service, has been decorated with the War Cross."

"The general commanding the sixteenth division in his citation of McMonagle's services, writes: 'Although a bomb burst in the midst of his ambulance section, McMonagle remained calmly at work and succeeded in carrying away three seriously wounded men while a terrific bombardment continued.'

The Bulletin further says: "Douglas McMonagle, mentioned in the above dispatch, is the son of Mrs. Beverly McMonagle, of 200 Broadway. He left here accompanied by his mother last December for France. Arriving there early in January, he immediately enlisted in American Ambulance Corps and has been in continuous service at the front ever since."

"Mrs. McMonagle is at present in Paris. The young man's father was Dr. Beverly McMonagle, a prominent surgeon of this city, who died several years ago."

BYE-LAW MATTERS IN THE POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning the usual number of Friday bye-law reports were before the police magistrate. Dr. G. O. Baxter was reported for not sounding horn of his automobile when approaching the corner of Union street from Mill street. There was a collision at the corner with a team that had just come down Union. Dr. Baxter said that it was about 10 o'clock at night, and that when coming by the T. Rankin's building he sounded his horn. The team he struck was coming down Union into Mill street on the wrong side and this caused the accident. The magistrate struck a fine, but allowed it to stand, saying it was contributory negligence on the other person's part.

Richard McCrossin, reported for furiously driving and going on the wrong side of the street near the corner of Main and Mill streets, told the court that he did what the officer told him to do, and was reported for so doing. He said that Policeman Lucas told him to keep on the "right" side, which he did, but the defendant was told he should have been on the left, and then he would have been on the right side, and would have escaped being in court. The matter was allowed to stand.

Maurice Lang was before the court for furiously driving his horse in Main street and refusing to stop when told to do so by Policeman Lucas. He was fined $18.

Louis Foley was told to have his dog muzzled and leashed, especially when travelling through the old burying ground, and the animal seemed to "like" caretaker Babcock. The penalty was allowed to stand, as the dog will be leashed.
