Sordid Tale Of Dishonor In Baseball Is Told By Maharg

ARE CONCERNED OVER REPRISALS BY BLACK AND TAN

English Newspapers Anxious About Situation

Call for Government to Check Proceedings—Appeal Made by Archbishop of Canterbury — More Trouble in Belfast.

London, Sept. 28—Serious anxiety over the recurrence of the "Black and Tan" reprisals in Ireland is reflected by English newspapers, which sharply call for the government to halt what is described by the London Times as "Semi-official lynch law." Earlier occurrences in Ireland passed without much notice here, but recent raids, especially those of Balbriggan and Trim and the lukewarm criticism of the "Black and Tan" police forces by General Sir C. F. N. MacCready, military commander of Ireland, are causing considerable disquiet.

Condemnation of recent disorders is not confined to newspapers which are avowedly sympathizers with the Irish Nationalist movement, the Conservative Graphic, which is an unsparing critic of the Sinn Feiners, declaring:

"This is not calm and orderly justice and punishment according to British ideas. It must be stopped."

Charges that hte government is following the methods of its opponents are made by the Times, which continues: 'Presumably there is a hope that Irend will be ground to docility between the upper and nether millstones. The government should be warned of the harvest it may reap."

The Archbishop of Canterbury has issued an appeal to Christians to make national troubles the subject of prayer.

"Endeavors on either side of Ireland," he declares," have been thwarted by prejudice, inflamed by passion, and liberty travested while capable men are striving eagerly, but vainly, to find a reasonable pathway through the darkening turmoil."

The standing committee of the Irish peace conference has passed a resolution recording its conviction that the reprisals "constitute an almost insuperable barrier to the success of the committee's efforts in the cause of peace."

More to Come?

In the meantime there are reports from Ireland of numerous threats of further reprisals, circulated verbally or by posters. Warnings are alleged to have been given several towns in West Clare that they would be burned unless Captain Lendrums, resident magistrate of Kilrush, who has been missing since last Wednesday and who is believed to have been kidnapped, is not returned within forty eight hours. The town of St. Ney suffered from a raid early on Monday. Shots were fired into houses, some of the inhabitants were roughly handled, but no one was seriously hurt.

There is reason to believe that Dublin Castle is now seriously investigating the reprisals. Special officers have been sent to Trim and have reported on occurrences there. The chief secretary for Ireland is now conferring on the whole subject with the military and civil authorities in Dublin and elsewhere with the view to stopping the raids, and the cabinet in London is also taking the matter in hand.

It is explained there are two forces called "Black and Tan"—one composed of English recruits and the other largely consists of demobilized army officers who were engaged to arrange for the defence of threatened barracks in disturbed districts in Ireland. Both wear mixed uniforms of khaki and black, owing to a shortage of full uniform. Despatches do not disclose which element has been responsible for raids.

More Belfast Trouble.

Belfast, Sept. 28—There was a recurrence last night of the rioting and shooting which have been in progress here at intervals since the week-end. The outbreak occurred in the old Lodge road district where shipyard workers were attacked by armed men.

Seven persons were wounded by revolver firing. The military dispersed the rioters by bayonet charges. There were seventeen arrests for violation of the Curfew law.

The 47th Day.

London, Sept. 28—Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork passed a better night last night and was, in consequence, a little more refreshed this morning, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League this afternoon. He was very weak and exhausted, however, and in some pain, the bulletin declared. This is the 47th day of the lord mayor's hunger strike. In his report to the home office, the physician at Brixton prison, said: "He is slightly thinner, but otherwise no marked change from yesterday. The prisoner is unquestionably growing weaker daily."

Archbishop Mannix.

London, Sept. 28—Archbishop Mannix of Australia, called on Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork yesterday afternoon. "I find him to be a veritable miracle," he said, "to me it is a miracle."

Says Three of World Series Thrown by the White Sox

EIGHT OF TEAM IN IT

In Sensational Story Sporting Man Blames Abe Attell for Double Cross by Which He Says Ball Players Lost $90,000 in Crooked Deal to Lose Games.

Philadelphia, Sept. 28—The first, second and final games of last year's world series were "thrown" to Cincinnati by eight members of the Chicago Americans, according to revelations said to have been made last night by Billy Maharg, former boxer and well known in local sporting circles. Maharg's story was printed yesterday in the Philadelphia North American. Maharg today declined to say whether he would go to Chicago to present his evidence to the Cook county grand jury.

According to the story, he said he and "Bill" Burns, a business partner and former American League pitcher, were approached by Eddie Cicotte, Chicago pitcher, who told them that a group of prominent Chicago players would be willing to "throw" the series if they were given $100,000.

Says Attell is the One.

Maharg said the White Sox players were "double crossed" by Abe Attell, former featherweight boxing champion, who acted as the "fixer" and "go between," and that they received only $10,000. "Attell is the man the Chicago grand jury wants," so Maharg's story says. "He made the bets, turned over $10,000 to Burns for the Sox players, and double crossed them out of $90,000."

"I received a wire from Burns from New York in the middle of last September ,inviting me to take a hunting trip with him down on his ranch in New Mexico," said Maharg. "We were to take Bill James, one of the White Sox pitchers with us. James had nothing to do with subsequent events, but while we were there in the room talking, Cicotte came in and started to talk in a low voice to Burns.

"I heard enough to know that he said that a group of prominent players of the White Sox would be willing to 'throw' the coming world's series if a syndicate of gamblers would give them $100,000 on the morning of the first game.

"When Cicotte left, Burns turned to me and repeated Cicotte's conversation, part of which I had heard. Burns said, 'do you know any gamblers who would be interested in this proposition?'

"I said I would go to Philadelphia and see what I could do. Burns said he would have to go to Montreal to close an oil deal and that he would wire me about the progress of the deal.

"I then went to Philadelphia and saw some gamblers there. They told me it was to big a proposition for them to handle, and they recommended me to Arbold Rothstein, a well known and wealthy New York gambler."

Maharg then declared that they made an effort to interest Rothstein, but failed. Later, he said, Burns had arranged, through Attell, to put the thing over. He and Burns went to Cincinnati to meet Attell.

"Attell was in Cincinnati, quartered in a large suite in the Sinton," Maharg's statement continues, "and had a gang of about twenty-five New York gamblers with him. He said they were working for Rothstein.

Money Not Forthcoming.

"I had my first suspicion on the morning of the first game, when Burns and I visited Attell. We asked for the $100,000 to turn over to the White Sox players to carry out our part of the deal.

"Attell refused to turn over the $100,000, saying that they needed the money to make bets. He made a counter proposal that $25,000 would be handed the players at the end of each losing game. Burns went to the Sox players and they seemed satisfied with the new arrangement.

"We all betted on Cincinnati the first day, and won. The next morning Burns and I went around to Attell again at his hotel. I never saw so much money in my life. Stacks of bills were being counted on dressers and tables.

"Again Attell stalled us off. He said he wanted to keep the money to bet. We grew suspicious and asked Abe if Rothstein was really in the deal. Then Abe flashed a fake telegram. It read:

"'Abe Attell, Sinton hotel, Cincinnati:

"'Have wired you twenty grand and waived identification.'

"The wire was signed with the initials 'A. R.' We learned later that this was a fake telegram and that somebody had wired to New York to have it sent. The telegram used the expression 'grand' which is gamblers' lingo for a thousand. As a matter of fact, Rothstein was never involved. Attell was lying.

"Burns felt sore because he had no money for the White Sox and he told me that he would turn over $110,000 worth of oil leases to the players as security. I persuaded him not to take this step, and thereby saved him that money.

Gave One $10,000.

"After the second game we found Attell again and his confederates. Attell again made excuses about needing the coin to make further wagers, but did place $10,000 on the table. He said: 'Give that to the players.'

"Burns asked me to take the money, and I refused. He finally took it himself and turned it over to one of the players. Burns said he saw the players were restless and wanted the full amount and he was much afraid he would not keep up the agreement.

"The players, however, told Burns that if they lost behind Cicotte and Williams they would not win for Kerr. So we went to Chicago and bet all of our personal winnings of the first two days on Cincinnati to win the third game. As a matter of fact, the Sox got even with us by winning the game.

"Burns and I lost every cent we had in our clothes. The whole upshot of the matter was that Attell and his gang cleaned up a fortune and the Sox players were double crossed out of $90,000 that was coming to them."

WEAKNESS ON THE MONTREAL STOCK MARKET

Montreal, Sept. 28—The local stock market during the first half hour this morning displayed a weakness which has not been apparent for many days, and many declines, ranging between one and two points, were registered. The merger stocks, Dominion Steel and Canada Steamships, have not yet done anything to merit alarm, although the former went down two points overnight to 50. It is now steady, however, between 50 and 51, while the latter has not yet appeared on the tape. Abitibi lost a point and a half overnight to 77½. Brompton went down two points to 15½. Atlantic Sugar closed at 136½ and opened this morning at 135. Spanish River, both preferred and common, registered declines, the former going down two points to 123 and the latter one an da half to 116½. Laurentide is now 113, after closing at 114 1-4. Other stocks remained unchanged.

This morning Dominion Steel had a turnover of 1,114 shares, making it the second most active issue. It is quoted at 53 7-8, a rise of 3 7-8 points from earlier today, while Canada Steamships remains steady and unchanged around 58½.

HIS ADVICE TO CANADA ABOUT NAVAL MATTERS

Toronto, Sept. 28—The submarine as a weapon of war has no future, having been rendered ineffective by the perfection of the depth charge, said Captain Donald Munro, C.M.G., R.N., in a speech here last night, under the auspices of the navy league.

Captain Munro was advisor on port defence to the admiralty during the war. His advice to Canada on naval matters was summed up in the dictum that the building of Canadian warships might be left to a later date, all efforts being concentrated meantime on the training of men.

The sending of boys to sea on training ships with the express purpose of making seamen of them he advocated as the only effective method of raising sailors. Apprenticeships to the merchant marine he did not consider advisable or efficacious.

MOTHER OF A CANDIDATE IS BADLY HURT

Aged Mrs. Hunter Falls Down Stairs with Lighted Lamp, Which Fortunately Rests Upright on Floor.

Fredericton, Sept. 28—Mrs. Mary Jane Hunter, mother of S. B. Hunter, one of the members of York in the last legislature and a member of the opposition ticket, is in a precarious condition at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Davis, at Harvey Station, as the result of an accident.

With a lighted lamp in her hand she fell down stairs and sustained injuries which made necessary four stitches to close cuts in her forehead.

When other members of the household went to her aid they found the lighted lamp standing up on the floor alongside her at the foot of the stairs.

Mrs. Hunter is ninety-one years old, and it is feared the injuries she sustained combined with the shock will prove fatal.

Following the report of Mr. Hendry, the government will name a royal commission to investigate the situation which recently resulted in the proffered resignations of the entire personnel of the highways board.

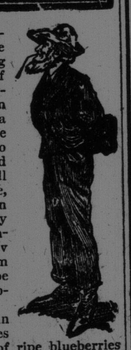
As Hiram Sees It



"Here," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, laying on his desk a bunch of raspberry branches,bearing rich, ripe fruit, green berries and blossoms, "a feller from Fairvale give me these this mornin' to give to you. He said they hed fresh fruit all winter out to Fairvale, an' a lot o' the town folks was goin' to stay in their cottages all winter. I s'pose you'll hev some feller in from Pamdenec with ripe lemons or somethin' tomorra."

"I had Tom Dyer in last week with samples of quarts and quarts of ripe blueberries he found out the Sandy Point road where he picks mayflowers in March," said the reporter. "Oh, we have the finest climate in the world."

"I wish you could see the woods now," said Hiram. "I kin hardly tell one color from another, Hanner says, when she's talkin' about hats an' dry goods, but I kin feast my eyes on the woods this time o' year an' git jist as much good out of it as if I knowed all the colors in a catalogue—yes, sir."

"Tell me," said the reporter, "are you a tory farmer, a grit farmer, a United Farmer, or a farmer?"

"Now, see here," said Hiram, "you stop that laughin'. It's gonto take a little while to sort 'em out, but you'll see—you'll see. Everybody's out courtin' the farmer now, and mebbe it's got him a little mixed up, but he's a-comin'—yes, sir—he's a-comin'."

STRENGTHEN THE FORCE AFTER BOOTLEGGERS

More American Agents on the Border to Check Smuggling from Canada.

New York, Sept. 28.—(Canadian Press)—An increased force of prohibition agents was dispatched to the New York-Canadian boundary yesterday as the result of the publication of a statement that at last 100 cases a day of Canadian whiskey and gin were being smuggled by bootleggers into New York state via Plattsburg.

Chief Magistrate McAdoo of New York city, yesterday made public figures showing that there has been a great increase in drunkenness here since the dry laws came into effect. The statistics reveal a decrease in arrest for drunkenness during the latter half of 1919 and the first three months of 1920 but a tremendous increase in May and June of this year.

"People who use alcoholic drinks," he said, "are adapting themselves to the situation and finding means of getting intoxicants."

FRENCHMAN WINS AIR RACE

Etampes, Sept. 28—Sadi Lecointe, famous French aviator, today won the International airplane race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy.

He covered the course of 300 kilometres, or 186.3 miles, in one hour, six minutes, sixteen and one-fifth seconds.

After the race had been in progress less than an hour today, the contest had narrowed down to a possible three competitors, one of them Major R. W. Schroder, of the United States.

Major Schroder soon afterward also was eliminated, withdrawing after flying 100 kilometres because of ignition trouble.

Howard Rinehart, the other United States entrant, withdrew soon after starting because of difficulty with the steering gear.

De Romanet, one of the French competitors withdrew, after the second lap. Kirsch, a second Frenchman, withdrew after making 200 kilometres in forty-eight minutes and fifty-two seconds.

The only competitor remaining in flight then was Lecointe, who had made 200 kilometres in forty-three minutes, forty-two seconds, a new world's record.

There remained F. P. Raynham, the sole British competitir, who, with all entrants save Lecointe out of the running, was still waiting to start. He in turn withdrew after covering the first lap.

The Brethren

Now it came to pass while the Brethren sojourned in the wilderness that one came unto them saying: "Lo an evil spirit is abroad at Musquash and Shogomoc, and the people are sore afraid. This evil spirit doth make bright lights to shine in the houses of the people, maketh carts to move without oxen, and tools of every kind to work without hands. Other miracles likewise doth it perform, at which the people marvel exceedingly."

Then said the Leader of the Brethren: Go ye into all the highways and warn the people of the land. As for me, I will go forthwith to the city which is called St. John, where dwell those who have Power to exorcise this evil spirit, lest it go forth and do, even in that city, and in Gagetown and Moncton and the valleys between, all those things of which we are this day warned.

And the Brethren all did that which the Leader commanded them.

And great was the noise they made, for the fear of the evil spirit was upon them.

And it came to pass also that the Leader girded up his loins and journeyed to the city which is called St. John, and there tarried to take counsel with them who had Power to exorcise the evil spirit.

And he said unto them: Forasmuch as this evil spirit is abroad, and hath Power, ye must swallow it up, even as the serpents of old were swallowed up, or the Fosterites will build altars in its name, and ye shall be mocked in all the land from Musquash to Shogomoc and from the Tetagouche to Grand Falls.

And one of them which had the Power said: Lo, we have already sought to overcome the evil spirit, but it was warned by the Fosterites of whom thou hast spoken, and fled to the city which is called Fredericton. Peradventure we may find it there and destroy it, even as we cast out devils there in former times. Let us go thither.

And they all thereupon girded up their loins and set out upon the journey to the city which is called Fredericton, to wrestle with the evil spirit from Musquash and Shogomoc.

POSITION OF THE N. S. MINERS

Statement and Recommendations from Executive to the Local Unions.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 28—The Herald today publishes the text of a statement with which the executive of the United Mine Workers of America transmitted to the various locals the report of the royal commission which recently investigated mining conditions in the maritime provinces. It advises the rejection of the report on the ground that the proposed sliding wage scale system is unfair to the miners in as much as the commission found that decreased production was due mainly to living conditions and inferior machinery over which the miners themselves had no control, and that the permanent board of arbitration, which it was proposed to set up, was not in keeping with the provisions of the Industrial Disputes act. Recommendations are made as follows:

1. That we give up all claim to have the increase date from May 1, 1920, notwithstanding the provision of the McKinnon award, which this royal commission says still stands and provides such increase should date from; and we accept the increases as outlined by the royal commission, excepting all that part relating to the "partial advance and sliding scale."

2. That the increase date from July 1, 1920, and terminate April 31, 1922, on thirty days' notice from either party. That by giving thirty days' notice either party may reopen the contract for readjustment of rates, each six months period dating from the signing of this agreement.

3. That this organization pledges itself to co-operate in every way to increase the output by using all the air power made available by the coal companies for cutting and hauling coal, or in any other way such as by pointing out and seeking to remedy all defective and worn-out machinery, etc.

4. That we shall agree to a board as outlined by the commission providing such board and its findings have the same power and effect as a board under the Industrial Disputes Investigation act.

5. That we accept the findings of the royal commission on all other matters dealt with in the report.

THE SMALL CASE

Toronto, Sept. 28—Mrs. F. Lovatt, a sister of John Doughty, private secretary of the missing Ambrose J. Small, wealthy theatre owner, testified yesterday before a special examiner here that she believed her brother, John, was still alive, though she could not give any reason for so thinking.

Doughty disappeared on December 28 last, less than a month after the disappearance of Mr. Small.

Miss Jean Doughty, another sister of John Doughty, must appear for examination on the same matter on Thursday, according to an order of the court.

Reports that Chicago police had discovered a new trail which they expect to lead to the unravelment of the mystery within twenty-four hours was news to Toronto police officials who said they had received no notification from Chicago to this effect.

He had been in prison since December, after conviction for assault in New York city. The pardon was recommended by the prison physician because of Berman's illness from heart trouble.

CARUSO PUTS MONTREAL CITY INTO TURMOIL

Wild Scene in Rush at Concert — Receipts About $30,000.

(Canadian Press.)

Montreal, Sept. 28—Hats were broken and ladies' light clothing was torn in a mad rush of thousands to get into the Mount Royal Arena last night to hear Enrico Caruso. Automobiles were temporarily lost, stalled and turned aside, probably not fewer than 500 autos gathering all about the same time, each tooting and clamoring for right of way. Policemen were shouting in French and English, trying to get people steered out of danger and to the right entrances, and ushers in evening dress from the Arena were hurrying through the crowds in an effort to see that some sort of progressive order was made, so that the people could get in in time to allow the concert to start. No such rush has been seen for a concert here in a score of years.

It was figured at the box office later on that there were fully 7,500 people in the house, and that the financial results of the night's feast of melody would possibly run around $30,000, quite the biggest box office record for any concert in the history of Montreal.

ASTRIDE A LOG IN GULF; SAVED BY PASSING SHIP

Strange Predicament of Airman Who Got Into Trouble on Pacific Coast.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 28.—Paddling astride a log for several hours in an endeavor to get into the steamship traffic route and be picked up before he starved, Lieut. W. H. Brown, M. C., R. A. F., was picked up in the waters of Nalau Island, south of Bella Bella, by the steamer Hidden Inlet, bound from Alaska to Seattle, after having been adrift on his strange craft twenty-four hours in the icy waters of the gulf.

Brown was flying from Albert Bay to Prince Rupert, B. C., but after flying for an hour and a half he was forced to land to repair the engine of his seaplane. Before he could do this, the machine was swept ashore on Nalau Island and sunk and there was no other course for Brown to reach the steamship route. He was one day on the island.

NEW CANDIDATE IN RESTIGOUCHE

S. S. Harrison Replaces John C. McLean on the Government Ticket.

(Special to Times.)

Campbellton, N. B., Sept. 28—Because of the fact that John C. McLean, the candidate chosen at the convention of the friends of the Foster government last week has been found to be disqualified, a new candidate in the person of S. S. Harrison has been chosen and has entered the fight. He is a very successful business man, having a large store at Eel River Crossing, as well as large lumber interests. He is also the largest exporter of potatoes in this section. He is a thoroughly clean, honest business man and one who is a credit to any party.

Already the government candidates have held large and enthusiastic meetings at Balmoral and Upper Charlo. Things look exceedingly bright for Messrs. Leblanc and Harrison.

ALBERTA'S COAL PROBLEM

Calgary, Sept. 28—No word has been received in Calgary yet as to when W. A. Armstrong, dierctor of coal operations, will be here to discuss the new situation that has arisen over the demand for an increase of $1.15 a day for day wage workers in the coal mines in this province. Pending his arrival operators will not express any opinion. They will no doubt arrange to meet the officials of the United Mine Workers of America at a conference, but the outcome of this is highly problematical, as they have on the strength of the recently signed agreement, gone ahead making contracts for their coal.
