Tells How She Keeps Her Health — Happiness For Those Who Take

Her Advice.

Scottville, Mich. —"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Veg-etableCompound and etable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and haveworked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to your wonderful medicine."

A Constant Change

She fancied herself a young girl, unmarried and not long out of school. We loped that your presence and that of the children might restore her memory."

The husband, after his early grief had been quieted, sought other means to restore recollection of their marriage. He went about the neighborhood and brought to the hospital three or four persons who had been present at the wedding sixteen years ago.

ward Ireland of Bargaintown, a hamlet eight miles from this city, was admitted to a room in the City Hospital here today to see his wife, who about a month ago was knocked down by a Shore Line express near her home and sustained a fractured skull, there was a pathetic scene.

She hovered between life and death for three weeks, but several days ago began to improve.

"Who are you?" she inquired when her husband entered the room.

"Don't you know me?" inquired Mr. Ireland.

"No I don't recall having met you," said the woman. "Was it at the party last week—the one after school closed?"

Mr. Ireland did not answer, but stepped outside to the corridor and sent in their three children whose ages range from three years to fifteen.

The boys and girls clasped her hands and kissed her, but she looked at them with the eyes of a stranger. When they left and the father returned again to the toom she said:

"It was nice to see some young folks again. Whose children were they that just left here?"

Mr. Ireland said nothing, but, heart-broken, went outside and told one of the physicians that his wife did not seem to recegnize either him or her sons and daughters.

"We seem the fitten amonth ago them hand light weeks—the one after school frolics. Incidents of her about ther peopreted, with a laugh. "Not I."

In light hearted fashion she talked to them about events in the neighborhood in which they had lived; things that happened in 1894 and 1895 when they were all young; dances, parties, after-school frolics. Incidents of her own children's youth, little things that any mother should know, Mrs. Ireland had not the slightest memory of. And even when her husband tried to recall happenings of their courtship and honeymon she still did not remember.

Within a month or so, the doctors say, she will be able to leave the hospital and return to her home. But they hold forth no hope of her momoty coming back, and that raises the question will she go home or not?

PORT OF ST. JOHN.

"Our bodies." ays Huxley. "may be likened to an edd of the river, which retains its shape for while, though every instant each pan de of water is changing."

The tissues of the body, composed of millions of tiny cells, are being constantly broken down and wasted away by the process of life, and especially by overwork, worry and disease.

In order to reconstruct these wasted tissues there are necessary such elements as iyon, sulphur, magnesia, potash, etc., and when these are not supplied in sufficient quantities in the food we eat it is necessary to aid nature by the use of some restorative preparation.

Would you like to think that your oldest corns would be ended forever next week?

They can be ended in a simple way. A million corns mouthly are ended in this way.
Apply a little Bluejay plaster. That ends the pain, and from that time on you simply forget the corn.

In 48 hours take

The plaster off. Then lift out the corn. There will be no pain or soreness.

The B & B wax gently loosens the corn so it comes out root and all.
And that corn won't come if you still pinch your feet, but the corn that comes out is ended.

Millions believe this because they have done it. Millions of others still putter with corns.
