MORE HOLDUPS AND BURGLARIES

REPORTED FROM ALL PARTS OF PENNSYLVANIA

The Authorities Appear Unable to Hold the Lawless Element in Check.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 14.—Despite the efforts of city officials and the police department to put an end to the burglaries and hold-ups in this city, and notwithstanding the veritable drag-net that has been thrown out by the public protectors, reports of hold-ups and burglaries continue to reach the public.

In the fashionable east end section of the city, where most of the recent crimes have been committed, the house of W. A. Forman, a prominent engineer, was entered by burglars between midnight and daylight this morning. The burglars had forced a side window with a jimmy and ransacked the house, among the articles taken being an automatic revolver recently purchased by Forman to protect himself against any occasion of this kind. The house was robbed while Mr. and Mrs. Forman were visiting, and the burglary was discovered upon their return. The Forman residence was entered several months ago and several hundred dollars' worth of goods were taken. Mrs. Forman is prostrated by nervousness, brought on by the shock of the burglary.

Dispatches to the Associated Press from points in Allegheny county, outside of this city, and also towns in neighborhood, continue to recount serious crimes of violence. From Bradock it was reported last night that John F. Edwards, night employee of the Pennsylvania railroad, was knocked down and robbed. Hold-up men are active in McKeesport. Gus Messinger, a huckster, was attacked by five men, but escaped with his money after a fight. George Hallet, a night employee of a steel mill, was attacked by three negroes who secured but 25c.

At Sharon, in Mercer county, Michael Rocci is in a serious condition with a wound in his head. He cannot speak, but the police say he was beaten with knuckles.

Jos. Caninie, an Italian employed by the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad at Newell, Washington county, was attacked by another Italian while at work yesterday and his throat was cut. The assailant stood off his pursuers with two revolvers, and escaped to the hills. Caninie is not expected to live. In Fayette an attempt was made to break into the store of H. R. Lovell. The burglars had prepared bundles of clothing to take away when Mr. Lovell opened fire on them.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 12.—Pittsburg terrorized and likened to a mining camp of a few years ago, by the fact of all this morning's issues of the papers. Three murders, a number of robberies on highways, accompanied by violence and an attempt at crucifixion in twenty-four hours are added to a large number of crimes that have been committed during the last two weeks.

The record for twenty-four hours besides the murder of Henry F. Smith, a young business man of the fashionable East End, who was shot by burglars who entered the Smith home, is extended by the robbery of Charles R. Lawrence early yesterday at Fifth avenue and Brady streets, almost in the heart of the city. Sharpshooter, a few miles from the city, was beaten and robbed, and did not recover consciousness for several hours. Raymond White of Duquesne, was also found early yesterday badly injured, with several ribs broken. He had been robbed, and could give no description of his assailants.

The crucifixion case was brought to light by the screams of a woman in a tenement on Forbes street, near the Jones and Laughlin steel mills. Neighbors rushed in and found Mrs. Jean Mitchell, nineteen years old, in the kitchen, huddled in a kneeling position on the floor, with both hands nailed to the draining board, and with the blood running down her arms. Near her lay a hatchet, the weapon with which the nails had been driven, and which was then used to draw them out. The woman was unconscious and was taken to a hospital. When she recovered she merely said that when she entered her flat that morning something struck her on the back of the head and she felt herself drawn toward the sink, her hands pressed down against the board, and two nails driven in. The police are looking for William Kneely, known as William Mitchell, and the husband of the woman.

The day's series of violent deaths was further augmented by a killing among railroad laborers in a boarding-house. Three others were badly cut up with stilettos and razors. Peter Nazidenc, an Italian, died in the Allegheny hospital from a bullet fired by Peter Fedora. Nazidenc was playing a mandolin, to which Fedora objected, and threatened to shoot Nazidenc's thumb. A very great was carried out and in addition to carrying away the thumb, the bullet penetrated Nazidenc's abdomen. Fedora is under arrest.

More Holdups. Pittsburg, Nov. 12.—Holdups on the streets of this city continue to come to light. Early to-day E. H. McMurray, a restaurant keeper, was accosted by two men on the morning previous and been held up. McMurray had been had armed himself and when he drew his pistol the men fled, dropping a club. Later the dwelling of Mrs. Sarah Bassett, colored, in Second avenue, was entered by a burglar. Mrs. Bassett was a shot at the man as he thumbed over a side fence. Miss Mary McCaughey, who had been visiting in the east end, was attacked and partly strangled on Centre avenue to-day. She screamed for help and soon several policemen chased the assailant, who es-

London, Nov. 14.—The Lord Mayor of London, Sir Wm. Treloar, and the corporation of the city, gave a luncheon at the historic Guildhall to-day in honor of King Haakon and Queen Maude of Norway.

Upon the measure came from the House of Commons it was un denominational, but the House of Lords fostered and bolstered up denominationalism. COUNTERFEIT NOTE.

Discovered by United States Secret Service Men. Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—The United States secret service announces the discovery of a new counterfeit $10 "Buffalo" United States note. This counterfeit is apparently a photo-lithographic production printed on two pieces of paper with silk fibre distributed between them. The face of the note is grayish blue, the numbering, seal and large "X" are of good color and workmanship. This counterfeit is apt to deceive, but when handled with genuine notes the marked difference in the color of the back should lead to its immediate detection.

HICKMAN NOT GUILTY.

Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 12.—Dr. R. E. Edge, of Edge & Ramsey, has stopped work on the dredge for the winter. The company has been operating most successfully during the summer a few miles west of Prince Albert, and the output of gold has far exceeded their expectations. The doctor will spend the winter in San Francisco, Seattle and other coast cities in the interest of gold dredging generally, returning to Prince Albert about March to be in building three other larger dredges than that now operating. It is the company's purpose to erect next season a large building in which the final stages of extracting the pure gold from the concentrates will be carried on. Not only gold, but platinum and precious stone are found, and the result of this season's work more than justify the judgment which led to the building of the first dredge. The first shipment of concentrate of gold in commercial quantity was made to-day from Prince Albert.

ONTARIO BANK CASE.

He declared that the bank would have collapsed in 1885 had it not been supported by brokers. He also declared that speculation on margins was begun to improve the condition of the bank, that operations on the stock market were carried on by McGill for the bank and not for himself personally. There was absolutely no doubt about this. Up to 1901 over $20,000 profits had been made in this way. As for "tickers," other banks used them as well as the Ontario Bank.

DUMONT'S AIRSHIP.

Sailed at Height of Fifteen Feet and Speed of Thirty Miles an Hour. Paris, Nov. 12.—Santos Dumont made another series of experiments with his aeroplane in the Bois de Boulogne to-day. He made two flights of between five and six seconds, covering between fifty and sixty metres with better success, and was only prevented by the immense crowds which surged on the field from accomplishing a sensational flight. He skimmed along at a height of fifteen feet and at a speed of thirty miles an hour for a distance of 215 metres, when, fearing that his whirling propeller would strike the cheering people, he decided to descend. The next trial will take place at the Long Champs race course, from which the crowd can be excluded.

The principal change in the aeroplane to-day was that the side runner reins were attached to the shoulders of M. Santos Dumont, who operated them with instinctive movements of the body. He was completely successful in preventing the rolling motion of the machine.
