DEATH OF "CARIBBO" BROWN.

A Highly Respected Pioneer of the Province Died This Morning.

The many old timers in Victoria who are acquainted with the events and personages that made the early history of the province, will learn with especial regret of the death at his residence, Beacon Hill, this morning, of Robert Heywood Brown.

The deceased was born in Yorkshire, England, in 1832, when he spent his childhood and early youth. His first acquaintance with British Columbia was in the days of the Fraser river mining excitement, when, in 1858, he made one of the crowd of miners then on the river.

Later on he went into Cariboo, having claims at different times on Grouse creek and Stout's Gulch, about '65 or '66. He was also manager of the Lane & Knits Mining Co., taking charge of the day shift, while J. P. Burgess, of this city, took the night shift. Here he remained till 1870, when he left for Southern Oregon, having attained interests there that kept him for some time in that part.

About 13 or 14 years ago he returned to Victoria and took up his residence at Beacon Hill, where he has lived ever since.

Mr. Brown was one of the J. P.'s of the province, and occupied that position, though never active, until the recent changes of the present government.

The many friends who knew him in the early days agree in speaking of Mr. Brown as a sober, industrious, quiet and highly estimable person. He was of a quiet mode of life, and retiring in disposition. He never engaged in politics, civic or provincial, but preferred rather the quiet and employment of the home about which he was ever busy, and which he made so artistic and beautiful in its exterior surrounding.

As one old timer said: "All esteem him who knew him."

Mr. Brown had no children of his own, but he and his wife adopted the child of one of the old Cariboo friends, to whom they have been in every respect a father and mother.

The funeral will take place on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. from the residence at Beacon Hill, and from Christ Church Cathedral at 3 o'clock.

TO-DAY'S GAZETTE. Another Important Issue of the Provincial Government's Organ.

The announcements in the Provincial Gazette this week are few and uninteresting. No appointments are announced, and but few companies certified as incorporated.

The following constitutes the substance of the Gazette for to-day: The incorporation of the Yale Hotel Company, Ltd., with a capital of $50,000, divided into 500 shares of $100 each.

The registered office of the company will be situate at Grand Forks, and the objects are to acquire by purchase or otherwise, such lands in Grand Forks and in the Osoyoos division of the district of Yale as the company may require, and build on, improve such land, to erect and furnish a hotel and such other buildings as may be necessary for the purposes of the company, and to obtain a license for and to carry on a hotel business generally.

A license is issued authorizing as an extra-provincial company to carry on business, The London and Pacific Goldfields, Limited. The head office of the company is at 32, Pall Mall, London, England. The capital is £30,000 divided into 120,000 shares of 5 shillings each.

The head office of the company is at Vancouver. Elijah John Ender, mining engineer, is the attorney of the company. The objects of the company are those of a general mining company.

Notice is given that a special general meeting of the Vancouver Smelting & Mining Company, Ltd. will be held at the company's office, at the Molson's Bank building, Hastings street, Vancouver, on Friday, 15th of August, at 3 p.m., for the purpose of passing a resolution authorizing the sale of the whole or such portion of the company's assets as the meeting may deem expedient.

WHILE YET A BRIDE. Mrs. Cecil H. Cookson Died This Morning in the Jubilee Hospital.

Even before the chime of the wedding bells has become but a memory and while the recollection of the pretty ceremony which made two persons supremely happy is still fresh in the minds of this morning, died Estelle H. Cookson, the bride of but a few months of Mr. Cecil H. Cookson, an employee in the Lands & Works Department.
