A DOUBLE-HEADER.

"Two heads are better than one," they say;
But it does not always work that way.
There's an instance, though, on which there's no quarrel—

Two heads are better than one in a barrel.

Ladies as a class are very proud; yet they will admit their husbands to be frequently tight, and never acknowledge the same state of affairs in regard to their shoes.

Doting Mother—"Tell me, professor, is my son a deep student?"

Professor (dryly)—"None deeper, ma'am;
he's always at the bottom."

SCANDALOUS.

Hojack—"Did you hear how Skidmore disgraced his family at church last Sunday?"

Tomdik—"No; how was it?"

Hojack—"The minister read two chapters
from the Acts, and he insisted on going out between them."

FROM TOMMY'S STANDPOINT.

Tommy—Say, ma, don't it make your hands
warm when you smack me?

His Mother—Why, yes, Tommy, it does.

Tommy—Then, wouldn't it do just as well
if you held them over the gas stove?
