They All Do It.

Some of the pre-Socratic philosophers used to amuse themselves by compiling statistics concerning the comparative number of lies for which the different species of fish were respectively responsible, and Thales, Anaximenes and Heraclitus were agreed that trout led as an object of mendacity, that black bass came next, and catfish occupied the third place, while few falsehoods were related of the catch of suckers or devilfish. Aristotle made some investigations showing that perjury was not the only crime to which persons afflicted with the disease are liable. He mentions the case of an eminent Athenian—whose name is withheld for the sake of his relatives—who, after sitting for an entire day upon the banks of the Cephissus fishing for brook trout with a pickerel spoon without getting even so much as a mosquito bite, murdered a Dacian slave on his way home to steal a string of fish he was carrying, and discovered upon reaching his palace that they were salt mackerel, which his unfortunate victim had just purchased at a market in the Piræus. Another philosopher, pursuing the same line of investigation 500 years later, discovered that Caligulo had once burned a Christian for remarking "Bosh" when the Emperor told of having hooked a codfish eight feet long while fishing in the Tiber, which fell off the hook before it could be hauled in.

A Surprising Sermon.

Says the New York Sun: The Methodist camp meeting on Martha's Vineyard this summer has been somewhat disquieted by a remarkable sermon which was preached the other day by Bishop R. S. Foster. The occasion was the dedication of a chapel at a quarter past 8 in the morning. The text was the question "What shall be the character of the services held here in years to come?" The answer was in substance, "Not a camp meeting revival service at all events."

No wonder this answer, coming from such a source, has excited surprise and critical comment among the Methodists.

The Rev. Dr. Foster, according to the report of his discourse before us, takes the broad ground that modern religious revivals for the most part do more harm than good. People go to a great summer resort like Martha's Vineyard because they find it a pleasant and healthful place for their families and themselves, rather than because a camp meeting is held there. They seek rest and recreation, rather than the excitement of a religious revival. "Our tabernacle services," he says, "must be adapted to the level of the thoughts and spirit of the people while here. They may be such as will elevate, broaden, and strengthen men and women, and so make them worth more to the church, without attempting revival work. Thus he frowns on revivals, denounces "noisy services and religious crudities," and asks his fellow Christians to cease calling a man a sinner because he does not shout.

If some outsider should say all this, there would be nothing surprising in it, but it is indeed noteworthy in view of the position of the speaker in the Church itself.

It would seem to indicate that something akin to what is called "reform within the party," is going on in the Methodist Church.

SALMON FISHING on the Tay, Scotland, shows little sign of falling off, and within the six days to Aug. 20 as many as 10,000 salmon and grilse had been taken below Perth. Tacksmen were at a loss what to do with them, and they lay piled in heaps on the banks of the river. Sixty of the fish weighed were found to average 45 lbs. each.

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS

Sir Charles Dilks is a widower who was married to an Irish lady of great beauty and sterling accomplishments. He was profoundly attached to her. She died in the child-birth of her first child. Dilke has since her death suffered from a grief so profound that many of his friends thought his reason would become unhinged. He used to be seen wandering by night around the railings of the park which is opposite his house, hatless raving, hysteric. His grief was intensified, perhaps by the fact that he could not visit her grave. She was a woman of strong mind and advanced opinions, and she left it as a solemn testament that her body should be cremated. Cremation was illegal in England and her body had to be transported across the continent to Germany where the dried ceremony took place. The boy survived the mother, and Chamberlain has brought up the lad with his own children.

Poisoned.

Scarcely a family exists but that some member is suffering with bad blood and poisoned secretions from constipation, giving rise to Rheumatism, Scrofula, Eruptions, Catarrh and other complaints indicating lurking blood poison which a few bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters would eradicate from the system.

Children troubled with Worms will find sure relief by using that pleasant and efficient remedy McLean's Vegetable Worm Syrup. Sold by all dealers. Price 25 cents.

A Sure Thing.

A SURE CURE FOR SUMMER COMPLAINTS.—Procure from your druggist one 37½-cent bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and use according to directions. It is infallible for Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Canker of the Stomach and Bowels, and Cholera Infantum.

Baird's French Ointment will cure the Itch in a few days, cures Salt Rheum, Chapped Hands, Scald Head, Obstinate Sores and wounds.—Sold by dealers.

"Sarah Bernhardt," says Mr. Labouchere, "is not the actress she was. Hard work and adulation have ruined her. She is as careless in her 'make up' as she is in her acting; some kind friend should really tell her what a strange effect is produced by dabbing black about her eyes anyhow, and smearing the back of her neck with whitening in order to fascinate. What a difference between the Sarah Bernhardt of the Francais and the Sarah Bernhardt of the frowsy Porte St. Martin! That untidy and dirty theatre has taken every vestige of earnestness out of the gifted woman. She seems to care for nothing so long as she can get through with the play. Her love-making, once so charming, is now affected and unnatural, and all the tragic scenes are spoiled by a worn, weak voice."

To the Rescue.

"When all other remedies fail" for Bowel Complaint, Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, etc., "then Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry comes to the rescue." Thus writes W. H. Crocker, druggist, Waterdown, and adds that "its sales are large and increasing."

Women with pale, colorless faces, who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills, which are made for the blood, nerves and complexion.

A Dangerous Condition.

One of the most dangerous conditions is a neglected Kidney complaint. When you suffer from weary aching back, weakness and other urinary troubles, apply to the back a Burdock Porous Plaster, and take Burdock Blood Bitters, the best system regulator known for the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Bowels.

A N. Y. despatch of 31st ult. says,—"Tan Davis," the backer of Fitzgerald, the pedestrian, and one of the best known sporting men in America, was shot this afternoon by James B. Holland of Colorado City and Avelin, Tex., in the second story of M. Purcell's saloon and sporting house, corner of Reade street and Broadway. Johnson was arrested immediately. According to the confession of one of the parties concerned in the affair, Holland came to New York for the purpose of obtaining a large quantity of counterfeit money from Davis and his brother. The latter two tried to cheat the Texan by showing him $10,000 in genuine greenbacks and then by legerdemain substituting bundles of worthless paper. Holland caught them in the trick and got the drop on Tom Davis at once and fired. He also attempted to kill Theodore Davis, but failed.

A Fruitful Season.

The fruitful season of the year is prolific with many forms of Bowel Complaints, such as Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, &c. As a safe-guard and positive cure for those distressing and often sudden and dangerous attacks nothing can surpass that old and reliable medicine Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea and constipation, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed by those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One pill a dose. 25c.

There is No Excuse.

There is no excuse for the many pale, sallow, weary looking females throughout our land, when Burdock Blood Bitters will regulate their troubles and renew their health, strength and vigor at so small a cost.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Its Great Value in Children's Diseases.

Dr. T. B. CRANDALL, Sterling, Ills., says: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with very satisfactory results especially with children. It is doubtless the best combination of Cod Liver Oil.

The Maxwell case bids fair to take its place in the foremost rank of causes celebres. Though when the body was found in the St. Louis hotel its identification as Preller's seemed to be complete, there are now strong reasons for believing that Preller is still alive. Two men, with no motive apparently but to tell the truth, testify positively that they have seen Preller alive since the body was found in St. Louis, and now a letter has been received which is either in his handwriting or is a remarkably fine counterfeit.

Did She Die?

"No!

"She lingered and suffered long, pining away all the time for years;

"The doctors doing her no good;"

"And at last was cured by this Hop Bitters the papers say so much about."

"Indeed! Indeed!"

"How thankful we should be for that medicine."

A Daughter's Misery.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery,

"From a complication of kidney, rheumatic trouble and Nervous debility,

"Under the care of the best physicians,

"Who gave her disease various names,

"But no relief,

"And now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had shunned for years without using it."—THE PARENTS.

Father is Getting Well.

"My daughters say:

"How much better father is since he used Hop Bitters."

"He is getting well after his long suffering from a disease declared incurable."

"And we are so glad that he used your Bitters."—A LADY of Utica, N. Y.

The blighting effects of impure blood are sad to behold in those we meet day by day. This ought not and need not be so. Parson's Purgative Pills make new rich blood, taken one a night for twelve weeks will change the blood in the entire system.

A gentleman in a neighboring town who had suffered two years with chronic diarrhœa and was so reduced that he could not walk, was cured and restored to sound health by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. This Liniment is worth its weight in gold.
