THE FOOTPRINTS THAT LEAD TO PRISON.

It is a scientific fact that Nature rever repeats herself. Take a couple of leaves from one branch of a tree, and you will discover that each one possesses a distinct personality. It is the same with the human race. Two men may have faces so similar that even the closest scrutiny will fail to distinguish one from another, though alike as far as farial appearance goes, cach has a difference in body and build, each peculiar formations of the ear, nose, feet, hands, etc.

By looking at a man's hand I can tell whether the owner is all that is desirable or a "crook." Experience has taught me that those who lack self-control make the majority of criminals. You see, a man without this quality is easily led astray, and soon "goes under." If there is nearly equal length beteen the first (or nail)joint of the thumb and the second, there is good will-power. If on the other hand, the first joint is considerably shorter than the second, there is an indication that the owner is weak-willed, and is to be easily influenced. As a rule, short, small thumbs indicate selfishness or cruelty, and you will find that the worst criminal in history had thumbs of this type.

Nature fixes the ridges of the skin of the fingers and thumbs before birth, and they are never altered by growth. None is ever destroyed except by accidental injuries, and therefore the surface of the skin is the same from the cradle to the grave.

Ridges and whorls are good signs of the same from the cradle to the grave.

Ridges and whorls are good signs of the carried they vary so much in form. They may be oval or round, short or long, possess a thin or thick outer rim, a broad or an elongated lobe. Give a detective a photograph of the ear of a criminal "wanted" and sooner or later he will track him Ridges and whorls are good signs of character. When the ridges are deeply arched the person is of a high nature. A spiral whorl indicates great force of character and considerable force of character and considerable ability, manly virtues, love of home and a desire to assist unfortunates. The circular whorl points to extreme and rare aspirations towards ambition. The loop whorl, as a rule, delineates nervous temperament, cynicism, a bad opinion of high society, and a contempt for hero-worship. One of the most daring anarchists of modern times were possessed of the loop whorl and it was his ambition to assassinate the monarchs of Europe.

The police of Paris, while investigating the committal of a crime, some time back, found that the man "wanted" had left behind footprints which not only showed the way he had taken, but indicated the pace he had travelled at.

The criminal neither wore boots nor stockings, and the footprints showed where he had stood, where he had commenced to walk, and where he had commenced to walk, and where he had been missing since the night of December 26th last, and was supposed to have fallen over one of the wharves in Georgetown Herbidge of December 26th last, and was supposed to have fallen over one of the wind was purposed to have fallen over one of the wind the missing since the high processing supposed to have fallen over one of the wind the missing since the high process of the same place, found that at the head of Georgetown Herbidge of Cerebacy on the shore of the Montague river, at the head of Georgetown Herbidge of Cerebacy on the shore of the Montague river, at the head of Georgetown Herbidge of Georgetown Herbidge of Georgetown Herbidge of Head been missing since the head travelled at.

No two human beings have thumbs which are identical, or even resemble each other in the formation of the whorls and capillary ridges of the skin. Thumb-marks are a better aid to the detection of criminals than finger-prints, though the set of finger-prints, including the thumb-mark, is sufficient evidence to secure a man's conviction.

So well established is the fact that thumb-marks and finger-prints are the surest methods of identification that thumb-marks and miger principles of identification that this system has been adopted by all European governments, United States are enabled to arrest "wanteds" even officials at San Francisco, acting under the Geary Law, take thumb-marks of Chingge folk leaving America and the surgest of the state of the surgest of the surgest of the state of the surgest of the state of the surgest of the state of the surgest of the surgest of the surgest of the surgest of the state of the surgest of the s

CHINESE SEAMEN ATTACKED WATCHMAN

Foreigners on Board a British Steamer

Let Them Ashore.

TACOMA, Wash., June 1—The refusal of James Gainsford, special watchman on board the British steamer Suveric, Captain William Shotton, loading lumber here for Manila, to allow her crew of seventy-two men to go ashore yes-terday, so maddened them that they attacked him with hatchets, marlin attacked him with hatchets, marlin spikes and other weapons, breaking one of his ribs and otherwise injuring him. But for the timely arrival of the ship's first mate and others of the white crew, the Chinese would have succeeded in lynching Gainesford with a rope that some attempted to put around his neck. The aged watchman fought them off with his revolver and shot one of his assailants in the wrist inflicting only a flesh wound. No arrests were made, but the incipient mutiny may be looked into by immigrant officials.

MABEL LOUISE WARD.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward, of 250 City Road, will sympathize deeply with them in the loss of their second daughter, Mabel Louise, at the age of thirteen. The cause of her death, which took place on Saturday, was spinal meningitis, and as she has been ill for several weeks the result was not unexpected. She is survived by her parents, three sisters and two brothers. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2.30 from her father's residence.
