was one of the speakers at a recent meeting of the American Institute of Instruction. Mr. Chase during his address stated that the society had made arrangements for sending women agents to meet every steamboat and train arriving from the maritime provinces. He said that many girls and young women coming from the prov-inces are led astray by persons who offer them what they claim to be good offer them what they claim to be good and respectable positions. In some cases men and women who pretend to be looking for domestics, nurse girls or other help, are nothing more than agents for houses of bad repute, and it is this evil that Mr. Chase says the society is endeavoring to guard against. FIRE AT ST. STEPHEN.

ST. STEPHEN, July 19.-The Love & McClure laundry was today the scene of the third fire within ten months. The building in which it is located and the adjoining building, occupied by Chase, Barker & Co., were considerably damaged. The stock of the latter firm was badly damaged by water, as was also the photograph stock of W. H. Edwards. The owners of the building have now decided to extend a chimney, supposed to be responsible for the fires, and to properly protect it. Only hard work by the firemen prevented the flames from spreading to adjoining

Macrae, a student of theology, for-merly certified by this presbytery. The application was received and the request granted. The presbytery's committee of examiners, as is the custom, met with the applicant, who submitted the exercises prescribed by the church and his degrees of Bache-lor of Arts (Dalhousie), and Doctor of lor of Arts (Dalhousle), and Doctor of Philosophy (Jena); also certificate of having successfully studied for two years in the divinity schools of Edinyears in the divinity schools of Edin-burgh and one year in the Protestant School of Theology in Paris. The com-mittee accordingly reported that the exercises of Mr. Macrae were satisfac-tory; that he had more than fulfilled the educational requirements of can-didates for the ministry, and recom-mended that he be licensed to preach the gospel. Mr. Macrae having inti-mated his desire to receive missionary appointments from the presbytery. It mated his desire to receive missionary appointments from the presbytery, it was resolved that his licensure to preach the gospel and his ordination to the office of the holy ministry should take pluce at the same time, and it was agreed with a propriety that will be appreciated by all that the service should be held in this church, where the father of the candidate had serv-ed with such distinguished ability for more than twenty years. It is for this more than twenty years. It is for this purpose that presbytery is now con-vened. Mr. Fraser asked the usual vened. SEVERE TEST OF FRIENDSHIP

(London Tit-Bits.) That there may be such a thing as carrying insurance too far is indi-cated by the case of Mr. Mulcahy and Mr. Mulhooly, two Irish gentlemen. Though they were known to be great triands they were one day observed friends, they were one day observed to pass each other in the street withut a greeting

"Why, Mulcahy," a friend asked in astenishment, "have you and Mul-hooly quarreled,"

"That we have not!" said Mr. Mul-

"There seemed to be a coolness be-tween you when you passed just low.'

"That's the insurance of our friend-

"I don't understand." "Whoy, thin, it's this way. Mul-hooly and I are that devoted to wan another that we can't bear the idea of a quarrel, an' as we are both moighty quick-tempered, we've resolved not to spake to wan another at all!"

BLACK-BRADSHAW.

The St. Martin's Baptist church was the scene of an interesting wedding Wednesday evening, July 5th, when Miss Mabel M. Bradshaw, daughter of Abram Bradshaw, was united in mar-riage to J. Black of Lawrence, Mass., formerly of St. Martins. Rev. S. H. Cornwall performed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a handsome gown of white cashmere, trimmed with face and ribbons, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Jessie Bradshaw, the bridesmaid, was attired in pink cashmere, and carried a bouquet of the bridesmaid, was attired in pink cashmere, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and ferns. The groom was supported by W. Gilchrist of St. Mar-tins. After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the bride's home, where a dainty collation was partaken of.

NEW CHURCH AT FREDERICTON JUNCTION.

The Chruch of England people at Fredericton Junction are to build a new church, and the contract has been awarded to Moses Mitchell. The edi-fice will be 25 by 75 feet in size upon the ground, will be of recoming pro-portions, having a spire 75 feet in height. The architect's plans show a very pretty little structure, well ad-apted in every way to the needs of that growing and influential congrega-tion. Work upon the church will be begun immediately.

TRAPPED.

"Well," he said to the bride's sister, "you are Miss Willington now, aren't you ."" "Yos," she answered with a sigh. "May I hope that it will not be for long ?" he playfully asked. "Oh, Alfred !" she exclaimed, "I never guessed it. If you had spoken two weeks earlier we might have made it a double wedding, mighta't we ?"

The bishops of the Church of England is convocation have welcomed the revised ver-sion of the Scriptures and sanctioned it use in the churches.

"Oh, yes, my lord," the lady answer-ed, "Mr. Justice —— is a very good lawyer, but my case requires so much
