

Let the list of our schemes be looked over and the question of duty with reference to them be re-considered by any who have hitherto failed to contribute.

Discourses on the duty of giving have been delivered during the year, and 100 copies of the Synod's Tract on Systematic Beneficence have been circulated.

The Monthly Missionary Meetings have been held which have yielded $75.

A most interesting and encouraging Missionary Meeting (one of the Presbyterial series) was held on Sabbath-Eve, the 25th November, when addresses were delivered on Home Missions by the Rev. D. M. Gordon ; on Foreign Missions by the Rev. P. M. Morrison, and on our Educational Institutions by the Rev. Dr. Forrest. A Missionary Sermon was preached by the pastor, in the forenoon. The choir gave efficient aid.

Let us hope, as the result of these and such other suitable means, as may be employed, the duty and pleasure of contributing to those Missions, which are indeed the very mission of our Church, will be shared in by all, and the larger portion of our giving to them not be confined to a few. "Let every one lay by him in store as God as prospered him." "Everyone therefore, according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give, not grudgingly or of necessity, for the Lord loveth a cheerful giver."

Ladies' Association.

The Ladies' Association includes and co-operates with all other Ladies' Societies in the congregation, and is the medium through which they are organized. The Ladies' Missionary Society, Mission Band and Mite Society are offshoots from it.
