HERNIA.

I have a steer or working ox five years old. About four weeks ago he got a swelling under stomach, back of naval about eight inches; at first it was quite soft but has grown harder and more in a lump. I have examined it for sore or hurt but have found none. Does not pain him any even when touching it. Has been running out all winter on prairie and in straw piles. What is the cause and remedy?

Alta. N. N.

Ans.—The steer is ruptured, and the only method of cure would be by the application of a clam, as followed in naval rupture (hernia) in foals and calves.

BLACK LEG.

I have lost three yearlings, and I opened them all. The only place that shows to be effected is next to the back, about the centre; it seems to start on the right side on the outside and works in, and to the left. The flesh looks like it had been pounded all black, and seems to be rotten, so you can take handfuls of the meat right out. It works quick. One day they will eat and drink all right; the next morning they act as if their back was hurt and can't get up, and before night they are dead. Those that died were effected on both sides of the back bone and in through the ribs, but, one I killed after it was effected and the disease was on the right side. They are in ordinary flesh, have had plenty of good hay and water, and under shelter nights.

Red Deer. U. S. M.

Ans.—The disease, which you have partly described, is not a new disease; but a very old and, amongst young cattle, a very fatal one. It is known by various names, i.e., black leg, quarter evil, synstomatic anthrax, etc. This disease runs its course so quickly and is often not noticed until far advanced, that all remedial measures and treatment are usually futile. The carcasses of cattle dying from this disease should be immediately burned or deeply buried. It is a disease of which it may be emphatically said, that "one ounce of prevention is worth fifty pounds of cure." Would advise you to send to The Pasteur Vaccine Company for a sufficient supply of lymph, called "Blacklegine," to vaccinate all your young cattle. Mention the number of cattle to be vaccinated and the company will send you the necessary quantity of vaccine with full instructions how to use it.

PROBABLY GLANDERS.

I have a young mare coming three years old that I caught on the prairie about three weeks ago. She had a cough and small lumps between the jaw bones and now I can see small sores about the size of a five cent piece in one nostril; they seem to have an offensive smell. She is in good condition and has got lots of life.

Sask. SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—The symptoms you have mentioned would lead me to suspect that the mare is effected with glanders. I would strongly advise you to have the animal examined by a qualified veterinary practitioner, who, if deemed necessary, would apply the mallein test. In the meantime it is advisable to isolate the mare from all other horses or mules.

RE SPAVIN LAMENESS.

After detailing the history of a case of spavin the following questions are asked.

1. What caused the horse to appear well for a time and then get lame?
2. How should a blistered or killed spavin act? Should all lameness and weakness disappear in four or five weeks?
3. Does it take time for the different bones, sinews, or whatever has been interfered with on account of the spavin, to find themselves free from all remains of inflammation connected with the spavin? Or, in short, how does spavin effect the hock joint?
4. Was the blistering too severe or not severe enough?
5. Is the present weakness and lameness due to the blistering or to the spavin itself, tenderness being present

HOW I CURE WEAK, PUNY MEN

WITHOUT COST UNTIL CURED

Give me men broken down from hard work or worry; from any cause which has sapped their vitality. Let them follow my advice for three months and I will make them as vigorous in every respect as any one of their age.

I will not promise to make a Hercules out of a person who was never intended by nature to be strong and sturdy. Even that person I can make stronger, but the person who has been strong and has lost strength I can make as good as they ever were.

A man who is nervous, whose brain and body are weak, who sleeps badly, awakes more tired than when he went to bed, who is easily discouraged, inclined to brood over imaginary troubles, who has lost ambition and energy to tackle hard problems, lacks the animal electricity which Dr. McLaughlin's Belt supplies. The whole force of vitality in your body is dependent upon your animal electricity. When you lose it in any manner my Belt will replace it, and cure you.

Dr. McLaughlin.—Dear Sir: When I purchased the Electric Belt from you about six years ago, I was then suffering very much with sciatica in the hip. When I began to wear the Belt it acted like a charm. The Sciatica left me, and to-day I am entirely free from it. I also suffered with costiveness, and had for years been taking medicine to keep my bowels right. Since wearing the Belt I have scarcely ever taken any medicine for that cause, and I can confidently recommend your Belt to any one suffering as I was.—D. F. KNIGHT, Central Kingsclear, York Co., N.B.

Letters like that tell a story which means a great deal to a sufferer. They are a beacon light to the person who has become discouraged from useless doctoring. I get such letters every day.

My Belt has a wonderful influence upon tired, weak nerves. It braces and invigorates them, and stirs up a great force of energy.

I make the best electrical body appliance in the world, having devoted twenty years in perfecting it. I know my trade. My cures after everything else has failed are my best arguments.

Give me a person with pains in the back, a dull ache in the muscles or joints, "come and go" pains in the shoulders, chest and side, Sciatica in the hip, Lumbago, Rheumatism or any ache or pain, and my Belt will pour the oil of life into the aching body and drive out every sign of pain. No pain can exist where my Belt is worn.

Dr. McLaughlin.—Dear Sir: I take this opportunity of letting you know the benefit your Belt has given me. I was a poor cripple before I got it; now I can stoop and pick up a pin with ease. It was worth a great amount of money the good it has done me. My advice is that no home should be without one. I thank you for the benefit it has done me.—Yours truly, PHILIP MCGAHEY, Riviere aux Pins, St. Gabriel P.O., Que.

They come every day, from everywhere. There is not a town or hamlet in the country which has not cures by Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt.

The confidence I have in my remedy enables me to make the offer I do, and any man who will give me reasonable security while he uses my Belt need not pay a cent until he is cured.

Now, what does this mean to you, dear reader? If you are not what you ought to be, can you ask any better proof to make you try it? If there is a remedy which is as simple, as easy to use, as sure to cure, and as cheap as Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt, I have not seen one. You must try it. In justice to yourself and to those who look to you for their future happiness, try it now. Act this minute. Such a matter ought not to be delayed.

It's as good for women as for men. Worn while you sleep, it causes no trouble. You feel the gentle, flowing heat from it constantly, but no sting, no burning, as with old style belts.
