

Coonie and Uppie should be made joint Ministers of Transportation, and recommendations to this effect will be made to the Prime Minister in case some more of his cabinet resigns. Their femmes really rode home in style from the Phi Rho party the other nite . . . on bikes. And at the same party Renee decided that her marriage ideal was not a trumpet. Music hath charms, Renee, so never underestimate its effects on the artistic soul of man.

Well folks, it looks as if the she-wolf has lost her second bet, and it seems that Alfie can run as well as he can croon. But apparently she hasn't given up hope yet. Did you notice who Alfie had the ninth dance with at the Hall Formal?

"Knowsey" Apologizes

Knowsey apologizes to you with utmost sincerity, Roslyn, for spelling your name wrongly last week. Knowsey just hates to tread on anyone's toes and doesn't want to offend anybody. For such sore grievance we are truly sorry, Rosy, and we won't let it happen again. And fellas, Rosy wants us to tell you that she likes variety in her men so all you various men had better be on the lookout, and if you want to date her up, just tell Roy at the gym store and he will see what he can do for you.

Our cat was not hygienic, So we kicked him off the place, Because he spat upon his feet And wiped 'em on his face.

Then there was a Freshman who, when asked by one of the girls to go to the Formal with her, parried with "Why don't you pick on someone your own size." And while I think of it, someone suggested that the perfect match and the couple of the week is Julia and Choppy. If you have any suggestions for next weeks Couple of the Week, drop it into a sealed enveloped addressed to Knowsey and leave it at the Gazette Office.

We've been told that the reason why Bobby and Claire spend so much time in the library at nite of late is because they like the life at Peregrin.

Hi, Yo Silver

We also hear that all ties have been broken between the Hall love-bird Miriam and her ardent paramour Ronnie. Youth has had its fling etc., etc.

So Miss McKeen has strongly implied that Connie, Renee and Joyce will not be going to any more Supper Dances at the Nova Scotian for some time. After all you can't blame Miss McKeen when she sees Navy-men riding into the Hall on horse-back at midnight. That is carrying things a little too far. Riding horses into the Hall is not too bad in itself, but Miss McKeen must have decided that she'd had enough when they started whooping at the top of their voices like Tonto and the Lone Ranger and Little Redwing.

French-Can. Problem Discussed By Round Table Members

Conflicting Opinions Aired

National Unity and the French Canadian Problem were the problems under hectic discussion last Thursday night at the meeting of that increasingly powerful society, the Dalhousie Round Table. Enthusiasm among the fifty or sixty students present was at a high pitch. We did not find a solution for the perennial problem, but that was not our main objective. Our main purpose is to get students thinking about our major problems, whether international, national or local, and to give them, through their own efforts, a basic understanding of the facts and essentials of the problems.

On Thursday night Captain Grenier, Army Education officer, spoke to us on the differences between French and English speaking Canadians and said that the main source of the strife was the differences in our way of life and trends of thought. Discussion was very lively, in fact at times got so hot that the Chairman actually fell out of his seat in an attempt to keep it from exploding. The sore point with most students was the Overseas Conscription issue and Capt. Grenier suggested that it was the difference in basic ideologies which kept English speaking Canadians from understanding why the French speaking Canadians voted against conscription for overseas.

Spirited Discussions

The general feeling of most students was that the discussion was one of the most interesting and spirited held on the campus for a long time. After the meeting was officially declared over, most students stayed behind and got into many heated discussions of their own. It was close to twelve before the last ones had left the building.

Next Thursday night, Nov. 16, the Round Table will have another discussion and there will probably be a speaker. The subject will be "What shall we do with Germany and the Germans after the war?" and promises to be just as interesting and lively as last week's discussion. All students are invited to attend, and refreshments will be provided if the exigencies of war will permit. Don't forget, Thursday night, the sixteenth at 7.30 p.m. in the Arts Bldg. This is a vital subject and we want the opinions of all students. This is your organization, and we want you to make the most of it.

Why Football is Out of Fashion At The Medical School

A short time ago a brief article was published in the Gazette which seemed a challenge to medical students to turn out for football. A large number of medical students believe that the story will be more complete if other aspects of the matter are brought forth. Herein it is intended to set forth the opinion of these men.

It is fundamental to recognize that the medical course has not changed greatly in the past few years; it has improved but not become much harder, and it is relevant here to deal with changes only in terms of the difficulty of the studies. But in the present classes of medicine there are not many who play football. It is perfectly clear that if a man has not played football before he begins his medical course, he is unlikely to take up the game afterward.

There is moreover the spectacle of the third year class of whose fifty-two original members only twenty-five remain. It is a matter of statistics that casualties have been higher among those who played football

Commerce Society Completes Plans For Millionaires Ball

The Commerce Society got off to a flying start last Monday evening, when plans were completed for their annual dance to take place on Nov. 24th in the Dal Gym. Three committees were chosen to look after advertising, decoration and overall supervision. Al Cunningham, on the advertisement committee, was very enthusiastic about the plans for the "Millionaire's Ball", when interviewed. He promised a good time to all who attend, the best band in town (Jerry Naugher's to you) and a lively and gala program. Tickets can be had next week at $1.00 per couple.

Sodales Trials Thursday

Sodales will hold its debating trials next Thursday noon in Room Three, the Arts building, to pick contestants for three major debates this year, with St. F. X. here late this month, and for Mount Allison here, Acadia away, after Christmas. Topic for the trials is on the "Zombie" problem, with a particular aspect to be picked by the entrant, and a short address to be given on the same. Entrants, however, will be allowed to speak on their own subject if they prefer.

The executive has announced that entries into a campus-wide inter-faculty competition should be in within the next two weeks to President McCleave, Vice-President Fred Thompson, Pine Hill, or Miss Rattee, Secretary, at Shirreff Hall.

Sparkling Frosh Show Has Women, Song

Under the genial management of Art Hartling, Dalhousie Glee Club presented one of the finest Frosh shows of recent years. Playing before a capacity house every Freshman star received his full share of encores. And after the final curtain rang down performers and audience crowded the gym floor together, for a dance as successful as the show that preceded it.

With commendable and unprecedented efficiency the curtains opened at almost the scheduled hour, unfolding Dals latest lyric star, Loretta Dickinson. The auburn-haired, golden voiced songstress lofted her lilt-ing lyrics through the dim cavernous spaces of the gym. During her two songs thirteen ushers, it is rumored were kept busy reviving the hordes of swooning engineers.

A touch of old time minstrelsy spiced the program in the second number, when a sextet of charcoal-faced comedians gave the audience an inside view of old New Orleans. Unidentified voices whispered that the coffee colored collection of light footed entertainers might be, Nancy Colquhoun & Wilson, Marian Withrow, Elsie Cruickshank, Jessie Morrison and Peggy Darroch.

With a seductive flip of the hip, a wicked glint in her eye preceded by bobbing scarlet ostrich feathers, Libby Guy introduced herself to the howling mob of savage wolves, as the "Belle of Avenou A." Swaying off stage to the rafter shaking applause she was followed by Alfie 'Swoonatra' Cunningham who dripped his sugary overtones above the (Continued on page 2)

Archibald Elected To Student Council

The new representative of the Dalhousie Student's Medical Society to the Students' Council has been elected. This new representative is Dave Archibald, of the third year class. Dave comes from Glace Bay, and to the accomplishment of being a Cape Bretoner he has added the accomplishment of having been a Kingsman. Two years ago he received his B.Sc. from Dal. Dave is a member of Phi Rho medical fraternity and has always been very active in affairs of his class and the Medical Society. Throughout the years he has attended King's and Dal, he has combined high scholarship with a considerable mastery of the piano.

This year CAMSI meets in the City of Montreal at the University of Montreal. CAMSI, that is, the Canadian Association of Medical Students and Interns, now embraces all nine medical schools of Canada, Dalhousie, being the latest member, joined last year. This year's representatives from Dal are Ian Rusted of second year medicine, Peter Loder and Dave Archibald, both of third year. Ray Ghiberson, president of the Medical Society, was at first elected to attend the conference, but he found that other duties would keep him in Halifax. His decision to remain in the city caused consternation in the third year class, for nobody was in any way expected to fill the gap. After a long and exceedingly verbose meeting—these sudden and completely unexpected difficulties often result in much talk—Dave Archibald was at length persuaded to attend in Ghiberson's place. The delegates left on Thursday for Montreal and will return next Monday.

"Gold D" Award for Cheer-Leading Debated at Student Forum

D.A.A.C., D.G.A.C. to Appoint Trio

Today, Thursday, at noon a very interesting student forum was held at the Chem Theatre, President Art Titus presiding. The meeting was called to discuss the King's agreement with Dal and also the subject as to whether cheer leading should be awarded by a gold "D".

Concerning the King's question, there seems to have been much controversy and bad feeling between the two campuses for the past two years or more. The present agreement, signed in 1939, was read at the meeting so that all could understand the position of the King's students on our campus. It was agreed that the agreement should be left as it now stands.

There then followed a very spirited discussion on cheer leading. The first point definitely decided upon was that cheer leading should definitely merit an award. This decided upon there came the question as to how the awards should be given. Some thought that the whole matter should be referred back to the Student Council, but the majority thought that it was a question which should be decided immediately. Three recommendations were made concerning the problem:

1. That a felt "D" should be awarded at the end of each year and a gold "D" at the end of the second.
2. That an intermediate "D" should be awarded at the end of each year and at the end of three years the candidate would be eligible for a silver "D".
3. That no felt "D's" be awarded, but 15 points be given to the cheer leader who has attended at least 75% of the games through the year. At the end of the second year with a total of 30 points the gold "D" be given.

Alec Farquhar then moved that we have three cheer leaders, two male and one female, which motion was seconded and carried.

Bill Mingo moved that the two male cheer leaders be chosen by D.A.A.C. and the girl by D.G.A.C. Other suggestions made were that they should show their worth at one of the dances and win by the amount of applause; also that they apply to the student council and be chosen there. Bill Mingo's motion was seconded by Larry Sutherland and carried by a majority vote.

Larry Sutherland then made the motion that it should be definitely decided that a felt "D" be given after the first year and a gold "D" after the second providing that said leaders be present at 75% of all the games.

It was moved by Ted King that it be left to the executives of D.A.A.C. and D.G.A.C. whether or not two sport felt "D's" may be combined with one cheer leading "D" to merit a gold "D".

Holding Second Blood Clinic, Tues., Nov. 14

"Last Tuesday's clinic was not as successful as had been anticipated," Chairman Larry Sutherland of the Dal Blood Donor Society, told the Gazette yesterday.

Approximately 55 donors attended he said, "considerably less than the number present at the first pre-Xmas clinic last year."

However, Sutherland believes the deficit was due to the absence of football players and the fact that 1st year med. students were busy writing examinations.

The second clinic is planned for Tuesday next when a "much larger attendance is hoped for."

DIPO DALHOUSIE INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

HOW DO YOU THINK WE SHOULD TREAT ACADIA?

60% of those questioned think that when Acadia comes down they should be given the cold shoulder, and thus they may get a taste of their own medicine. Some of our more belligerent fellow-students suggest that we should take a "forceful" attitude in regard to the visiting Acadians. Space does not permit (fortunately) a description of the ways and means suggested by the latter group. The remaining students think that we should give the visitors an object lesson as to the way a real University treats its guests when they come up for a game. They feel that the Acadians should be treated as the Dalhousians were not treated at the recent game at Acadia.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE RESIGNATION OF COLONEL RALSTON FROM THE CABINET?

40% of those questioned thought that this action was the only possible move for Colonel Ralston, considering the duty placed on him with regard to those active force men he had so recently visited on the various battlefronts. 30% think that considering the circumstances, Ralston did not do right to cause an upheaval in the cabinet at the very time when people need confidence in it. 20% of those queried think that the resignation of Colonel Ralston indicates that the King Government is on the way down, and that this will be very much against the Liberals in the next federal election. 10% were undecided.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE FACT THAT A STUDENT WAS PUT OUT FOR NON-COMPLIANCE WITH C.O.T.C. REGULATIONS?

75% of those queried think that the C.O.T.C. took too strict a view of the matter, and that a readjustment could easily have been effected. They consider that this step of the authorities was quite unnecessary under the circumstances. Of the remaining number, some had no opinion on the subject, and those who did, thought that since all other students in the University must comply with the C.O.T.C. regulations, the action was justified.
