

General issues to Indians should be explained

2. That the Agent's conduct
-ness in looking after the articles in his charge has been observed with regret by the Department; and unless there is a decided improvement in the future the question of retaining him in its service will have to be seriously considered.

Your obedient servant.

H. M. H. H. H.
Deputy of the Sup<sup>d</sup> Genl of Indian Affairs.
