

The lady, addressing the woman, said,—

“Is this your little girl?”

“Yes.”

“Does she go to school?”

“No ; she has no other clothes than what you see.”

“Does she go to Sunday School?”

“Sunday School—in these rags ? oh no !”

“If I furnish her with suitable clothes, can she go?”

“It’s no use giving her clothes,” said the woman. “He would steal them and sell them
