

- "Fixed Idea," 29
Free Will, 155
- Gall*, 22
Galton, Sir F., 90, 106
Garfield, President, 108
Gauss, 101
General Innate Tendencies. See Modes of Mental Interaction.
Genius, 81-107
Goldsmith, 109
Good, Idea of the, 144
Green, T. H., 89, 227, 230, 232, 266
Gregariousness, instinct of, 86, 267
- Hales*, Lord, 187
Hardy, 205, 210
Hartmann, E. von, 69, 210, 222, 248, 254, 276
Harvey, 5
Hedonism, psychological, 211 ff.
Hegel, 14, 141-2, 146, 158-9, 163, 174, 246
Heracleitos, 153, 246
Hereditry, 89-91, 188, 217
Hobbes, 245
Humanism, 139-40
Hume, 8, 163, 240
Huxley, T. H., 218, 272
Hypnotism, 18, 28, 63-6, 70 ff., 118-9
- IDEA, ambiguity of, 165-6
Idea(s), Platonic, 144-5, 152-3; in Hegel, 158-9
Idealism, 47. (Berkeleyan idealism. See Berkeley.)
Identity, law of, 171
Ideo-Motor Action, 29, 30
Imitation, a mode of mental interaction, 115; indirectly affects judgment, 127; chief safeguard of nationality, 127; forms the "Coke of Custom," 128; a barrier to social change, 129-30
Immortality, 173, 246-250
Independence of Ethics, 225-253
Indeterminate Sentence: rejected in principle by Parliament, 192; how distinguished from "preventive detention, 193; how administered in American States, 194; reasonableness of, 194-5; what its introduction would involve, 195
Instinct, 86, 124
Intellectualism: Makes feeling an inference from cognition, 123; rationalizes instinct, 124; its conception of truth and how truth is reached, 140 ff.; in Ethics, 228
"Intellectualist Fallacy": exaggeration of reason, 31; misrepresents animal life, 32-4; and child-life, 43-4; vitiates the reply to pessimism, 210. See also Intellectualism.
Introspection. See Method.
Intuitionism, 233-4
- James*, W., 3, 4, 19, 34, 44, 70, 136, 150, 161-2, 165, 168, 212
Janet, M., 59, 62, 73 n., 77
Joachim, Mr. H. H., 159
Johnson, Dr., 30, 109
Jones, Sir Henry, 142 n.
Jürgen-Meyer, 94
- "Juvenile offender," 198-200
- Kant*, 55, 87, 141, 163, 207-8, 228-9, 246-7, 257, 271
Kelvin, Lord, 12, 14
Krohne, Herr, 190
- Leves*, G. H., 140
Liddon, Canon, 119
Lindsay, Mr. A. D., 150
Locke, 8, 50, 133
Lombroso, Prof. C., 91-96, 182-184
- Macaulay*, 124-5, 205
Maguire, Dr. W. J., 105
Malpighi, 5
Mansfield, Lord, 187
Master-Morality, in Nietzsche, 264-5
Materialism, 10, 48-9
McDougall, Dr. W., 22, 37, 115, 120, 127
Melancholia, 93
Memory, 25-7; visual memory, 100; illustrated, 105-107
Mental interaction, modes of, 37; (a) logical, 112-4; (b) non-logical, 114 ff.
Mental chemistry, 51
Method, in psychology:
(a) Introspection, used by Faculty Psychologists, 6; its limited value, 20-1; its relation to comparison and experimentation, 52-3, 55
(b) Comparison, between child and adult or between animal and human intelligence, 31; value of, 31; difficulties of, 32-4; importance for social science, 36; corrects exaggerated intellectualism, 41; application to ethics, 228-9
(c) Experimentation, characteristic of recent psychology, 5; chief instrument in natural sciences, 20-1; its introduction into psychology, 22; why so long delayed, 22-3; examples of, 23-7; logical basis of, 28
(d) Pathological, really a form of comparison, 27-8; logical value of, 29; illustrations of, 29-31. See also Essay on "Sub-consciousness," 68-75
- Mill*, J. S., 2, 9, 35, 38-9, 51, 92, 113, 169, 248
Morrison, Rev. W. D., 185, 187, 188, 190, 199
Müller, Johannes, 22