QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS—FINANCIAL REPORTS.

1. Does the law allow one man to hold the offices of Clerk and Treasurer of one thickly-settled township, receiving salary in both cases?

2. Does the law allow the Council and Clerk to hand out a financial report to the ratepayers all in a lump sum without showing Clerk, Treasurer, or Council salaries?

3. Can a ratepayer demand a financial report of the township with each individual name, and the money he has received, and what he received it for, in report?

RATEPAYER.

Ontario.

Ans.—1. It does not appear to be prohibited.

2. Such is not legally to be regarded as a proper or sufficient statement.

3. Probably not, but he is entitled to inspect the Auditors' reports, and personally, or by agent, take a copy thereof or extracts therefrom.

SALE OF BEANS—SOUNDNESS OF HORSE.

1. During the fall of 1909 and the winter of 1910, A sold part of his bean crop to B for so much per bushel, and they picked 2 lbs. per bushel. Again, in August, 1910, A sold the balance of his beans to B for a certain price, B to take dirt and all. B asked A if beans were the same as he got from A before. A says, yes; that the beans were all threshed out of the same mow, and there was no difference so far as A knew, but when A delivered the beans to B, they picked from 2 to 4 lbs. per bushel. A did not guarantee the quality of the beans, and did not know that they were any different from the others until they were tested at B's elevator. Should A have received the price sold for or not?

2. If a man buys a horse for a sum of money, will the price guarantee the horse sound?

J. G.

Ontario.

Ans.—1. We think so.

2. No.

GOSSIP.

A. W. Smith, M.P., Maple Lodge, Ont., writes: The young Shorthorn bulls I am offering for sale are very desirable from the standpoint of the man who wants to produce first-class beef animals, and at the same time retain the high milking qualities of his herd. They are from excellent strains for milk, and are deep-bodied, thick-fleshed, mossy-coated, handsome calves, just ready for service, and are choicely bred.

When in his system of rotation the farmer is ready to plow up his alfalfa, he has another inestimable contribution to the land's fertility in the stubble and roots. It is not recommended to plow under any considerable growth as a green manure, as the hay crop is too valuable. Its market value would buy more fertilizers than the same growth is worth for humus. After a field has stood for five or six years, the roots have added largely to the humus content. Prof. W. P. Headen, of Colorado, estimated that the fertilizing value of the stubble and 64 inches of roots plowed under, is about $20 per acre, while the value of the stubble and entire root system is not less than $35 per acre. From Coburn's "The Book of Alfalfa."

IDEALS FOR WORKING.

The last forty years has witnessed great economic changes in farm practice. Water has been placed in many homes and barns, which call for the use of either windmills or engines, tanks both inside and out, and water boxes in the stalls, cream grinders are on most every farm, farmers mix their own concrete and make their own cement blocks, which has called into use in communities, concrete mixers. All such equipment with gasoline engine to supply the power for the doing of much of the work can be had at right prices from Goold, Shapley & Muir Co., Ltd., Brantford, Ont., whose advertisement is given in this issue and which all farmers should consult for their own advantage.
