LORETTO ABBEY. TORONTO

RECEPTION TO HIS GRACE ARCH-BISHOP MCNEIL

Loretto Abbey's formal reception of welcome to His Grace Archbishop McNeil on Thursday afternoon last, was a function which no words can more happily describe than those so felicitously chosen by His Grace himand culmination of his caree self, when at the close of the brilliant programme he assured the unfortunately the Lyons Medical School is bitterly anti-clerical, and pupils that their entertainment was here was a young aspirant to its highest honors whose rare abilities "One of rare prettiness: as pleas-ing to the ear as it was to the eye." Certainly the imposing concert hall, gay with brilliant lights and tall palms, and tiers of girl choristers ranged like rows of great lilies across the entire stage, was, as one came in from the rain and gloom outside, an altogether lovely spectacle ; and the short effective programme arranged with much delicate deliberation to specially suit the interest-ing occasion was carried out with a skill and sympathy by the clever young pupils, which made the ear if ssible, happier than the eye.

To the large audience of Torontonians present, such an entertainment was a most satisfying exhibition of what a prominent, progressive, local, educational institution can do, in competition with the best schools of apy country. It may approximately appr any country. It was more than a peep into a busy hive of many high educational activities, presided over by a band of keen, capable, scholarly Canadian women, directing a little army of bright, clever, ambitious Canadian girls into every useful and honorable career our splendid young country affords.

But to one interested on-looker it was something over and above even all this, for only a few short months ago the present writer was strolling through the vineyards of a rose-hedged wills on the lovely Via Nomentana, under a heavenly Roman sky, where another group of these very ladies of Loretto (the English ladies as they are always called abroad) are doing for the ambitious Italian girl just what Loretto Abbey is so busily, and with erates who are sadly waiting for the such ever growing success, accomplishing here for her competitors in our Northern clime. And under the known better, came back from there ilex-tree in that Roman garden on with a lot of rash judgments about that lovely mid-summer day, the the religious life of the people. thing most eagerly talked about was cording to him the Catholic Church the work of the Sister Abbey away has "lost its hold on the conscience and thought of the best spirits." in far-off Toronto; near the house, in the shade of the brilliant flower would like to know, however, just bordered with the rolling campagna what his idea of "best spirits" is stretching out before them to Frascati and the further line of velvet hills, a physical-culture instructess John Barret. DR. ALEXIS CARREL

When Dr. Carrel, the medical wizard who has been startling the world by the marvellous manner in which he manipulates the nerves and organs of the human anatomy arrived in New York the other day with the Nobel Prize in his hand, the representatives of the press crowded around him and discharged at him the usual fire of questions, more or less pertinent, some of them very impertinent: "Had you an idea at one time of becoming a priest?" "Did you propose to take out your papers as an American citizen?' "Do you intend to return to France?" "How did they treat you when you were there?" etc. The Doctor mere-ly shrugged his shoulders in Galic fashion, smiled and said nothing.

Meantime, in Paris, the well known journalist, Arthur Loth, of Univers, is asking the question: Who is this famous savant, Alexis Carrel, now making such a stir as Professor of the Rockefeller Institute of New York and to whom such honor accorded both in Europe and ica? His name betrays his But if he is a Frenchman why America ? did he go abroad in quest of glory Why did he not devote his great abilities to the benefit of the land of his birth, which has a right to the talents, the labors, and the fame of its children? Is he indifferent to it or did he emigrate merely in the \forall ulgar quest of lucre? Who can tell what was his motive? Nobody seems to know.

However, continues the writer, news has just come from Lyons that news has just come from Lyons that Garrel was virtually expelled from his country. Why so? Had he com-mitted some political offence? Was he an object of suspicion? Had he been concerned in some criminal transaction? Yes; all this is true. He was not only a suspect, but a criminal, and what was worse, he ventions of yesterday; the man or woman who progresses is keeping abreast of the times. Encyclopaedias that served you well within the last decade are now practically obsolete. It is the inevitable defect of all bound reference works. But with

NELSON'S LOOSE-LEAF PERPETUAL ENCYCLOPAEDIA AND RESEARCH BUREAU FOR SPECIAL INFORMATION

The problem has been solved. Nelson's patent loose-leaf device guarantees this wonderful Encyclopaedia to be just as new and up-to-date 50 years hence as it is to-day.

In 1907 Thomas Nelson and Sons, established for over a hundred years in Edinburgh. Scotland, perfected and patented a Loose-Leaf Binder, a volume so practicable that by simply turning a nut the pages are loosened, when the old, obsolete pages can be easily removed and the new pages substituted. The publishers issue to subscribers, twice a year, not less than 250 revised pages each, in March and in October, thereby making Nelson's Encyclopaedia always new and abreast of the time.

JUST FACTS! Nelson's Has Nearly 500,000 Subscribers

The Authorities With Authorities. Nelson's Perpetual Loose-Leaf Encyclopaedia and Research Bureau for special Information is an authority in all parts of the civilized world. It is used by the King of England, President of the United States, Emperor of China, Mikado of Japan, Viceroy of India, Premier of Canada, Departments of the Canadian Government, Universities, Colleges, Libraries, Schools and Educational Institutions everywhere. In the last four years Nelson's issued 2,872 Revised Pages-872 in excess of their agreement. This record demonstrates the fact, that regardless of expense. Nelson's Encyclopaedia shall be the most pefect that money and brains can produce. Nelson's contains more subjects (70,000) more illustrations (7,000) and more maps (500) than any other Encyclopaedia. Nelson's Encyclopaedia has received more press comment than any other publication, excepting Morley's "Life of Gladstone." Nelson's is as far ahead of the bound Encyclopaedias as "Wireless" is ahead of the "Stage Coach."

Rev. James F. Driscoll, President of St. Joseph's Seminary, Yonkers, N.Y., has the revision of all matter pertaining to the CATHOLIC CHURCH which appears in NELSON'S ENCYCLOPAEDIA
