VENICE.

A letter from Venice of the 1st inst. contains the f stowing passage :- "On the night of the 29th ult the Venetians surprised a strong advanced post of the Austrians, attacked it at the point of the bayonet, knied 50 men, disabled 37, and seized a large natitity of provisions. About the same time, a Venetian flotilia was escorting a large supply of provisions from the ionian Island, when it was attacked off the Venetian Gult by the imperial fleet, which, after a most obstinate conflict, was obliged to take retuge at Trieste. The fiotilie then friumphantly entered the Lagoons, to the joy of the Venetians, who had already begun to suffer from the want of provisions. At present flour, cora, wine, and fresh meat are pleatiful." "The blookade by land is," says the Concordia, " se good as raised, the Austrians having considerably extended its limits after their truitless efforts of the 28th, 29th, and 30th ult. In their retreat they have lett a targe quantity of projectiles behind them."

RUSSIA.

The war in the Caucasas has been renewed with great activity by the Circassians since they became aware of the Russian invasion of Hungary. Manomet, the emissary of Schamyi, had assembled on the right wing of the Caucasian line a considerible army, with which he advanced towards the Laba, in order to incite the tribes at peace with tue Russians to join him. General Kowsteski had only seven companies of intantry, 2,000 Cossacks, and 10 canuon in readiness to oppose this force .-On the left wing Naib Talgik was at the head of a strong band, and on the 17th of June repelled an incursion over the Argun by a detachment under Col. Susslotf. Circussian pilgrims, who had arrived at Treorzond, on their way to Mecca, stated that several of the extensive works of fortifications constructed by the Russians in the Caucasus had fallen lately into the hands of the Circassians, and been destroied.

DENMARK.

Disturbances of a very serious nature have broken out at Flemsburg. It appears that a Danish steamer arrived in the port of that town on the 9th inst. having on board three Danish officers, who were sent to negotiate with General Prittwitz. A custom-house officer, too, was on board, who, on landang at Piensburg, housted a Danish flag on a house Upon this the mob of Flensburg mear the quay, assembled, and attacking the house, they demonshed it and towered the flag. In the afternoon one of the Danish officers insuited a Schleswig sol her in the streets. A crowd assembled, and the Danish, which 75 were by cholera, showing a deetheers were rusulted, beaten, and wounded. other affairs took place in the evening between the populace and some Danish and Prussian officers. the latter wished to protect the lormer, but in the they were overpowered by the people of I tempong, and roughly handed.
