

Several other gentlemen, took passage in the steam tug "Diamond" to Heart's Content on Monday. From thence they will proceed to England in the steamer "Chilora," lately employed in repairing the Atlantic Cable. Some weeks ago the Harbor Grace Standard gave currency to a rumour that Archdeacon Kelly would shortly be ordained (?) [consecrated] Bishop of the Northern portion of this Island. As we are informed, this report is true in part only, the fact being, as we are informed, that Mr. Kelly is to be consecrated Coadjutor Bishop for Newfoundland and Labrador with the consent, of course, of the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of Newfoundland.

It having been recently decided in the English Courts that the Queen's authority is unnecessary, or at least doubtful, as to the appointment of Bishops in Colonies having Local Legislatures, it would seem that no higher human authority is obtainable in Mr. Kelly's case, but we are at a loss to conceive why the Clergy and people of the Diocese were not consulted before taking such an important step. It does not follow of necessity that the Queen, having declined, or being deprived of the power to appoint as heretofore, that justice in selecting their own Coadjutors and successors, thus in effect creating a self-appointed hierarchy for all time to come.

15.404! ETNA LIFE INSURANCE CO.

THE incomparable superiority of this Company is shown by the fact that during the past year alone, over FIFTEEN THOUSAND persons have preferred it to other Companies.

A policy of $1,000 is given by the ETNA on its incomparable half-credit system for the same cash outlay as would be required for $500 in an ordinary Company. Profits, equal to the credit, are declared and PAID DOWN, not once in five years, but EVERY YEAR.

Policies payable "at death or 50" cost a person 25 years of age no more than is charged by ordinary Companies for the whole life time. All such policies are non-forfeitable—that is, failure to pay a premium does not, as in other Companies, forfeit the entire claim. The policy is always good for the proportion paid for. S. PEDLAR & CO., General Agents. Montreal, May 17th, 1867. 21.

DIOCESE OF ONTARIO.

CHRIST CHURCH, BELLEVILLE.—A confirmation (being the third since the church was opened), was held in this church according to announcement on Sunday evening, July 7th, by his Lordship the Bishop of Ontario.

This spacious edifice was at an early hour filled to its utmost capacity, hundreds having been unable to gain admittance. Evening Prayer having been said, forty-eight Candidates were presented by the Rector for Confirmation. After the laying on of hands, the Bishop delivered a plain earnest, practical address to those who had thus publicly consecrated themselves to the service of Christ. His remarks were listened to with close attention, and seemed to make a deep impression not only upon the Candidates, (whose devout deportment was very observable) but also upon the congregation at large. The Rev. Messrs. Bleggsell, Anderson, and Lewin, also took part in the services. The singing was hearty and effective, and the anthem was beautifully rendered.

Collection for the day, $35.

—In the House of Lords an important debate has taken place on the Irish Church. Earl Russell favoured a proposition by Earl Grey, of dividing the revenues of the Established Church in Ireland between the Roman Catholic Clergy and Protestant Clergy, in order to found a permanent peace in Ireland.

—Mr. Marcy in his "Christianity and its Conflicts" estimates that one third of the people of the United States deny the divinity of Christ, and eight millions of Protestants in Europe also hold a similar want of belief.

—The Bishop of Capetown is on his way to England, his visit having reference to the disturbed state of the diocese of Natal, which is within his metropolitan jurisdiction.

—The United Service Gazette gives currency to the almost incredible rumour that the Admiralty are about to appoint a lay bishop for the navy, who will have control over all the chaplains.

—It appears that the Church News was in error in saying that the Bishop of London forbade the three curates to officiate any longer in St. Mary's Kilburn.

The project of uniting the Roman Catholic, Greek, and English Churches into one hierarchy is still earnestly discussed in some quarters in the U. S.

The July number of the Galaxy contains an article from the pen of Rev. Morgan Dix, D. D., rector of Trinity Church, New York, favouring ritualism.

—The Ritualistic Commission assembled on Monday the 17th ult., and not fewer than twenty-seven out of twenty-nine Commissioners were present.

The royal commission on ritualism recommenced its sittings on Monday morning in the Jerusalem-chamber, Westminster. The Archbishop of Canterbury presided, and there were present the Bishop of Oxford, the Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol, Lord Portman, Lord Ebury, Lord Harrowby, Sir R. Phillimore, Dr. Twiss, the Rev. R. Gregory, the Rev. T. W. Perry, Vice-Chancellor Wood, Mr. J. D. Colridge, Q. C., Mr. Hubbard, M. P., Mr. A. J. Beresford Hope, Dr. Payns Smith, the Dean of Lincoln, the Dean of Ely, and others. The witness examined on Monday morning was the Rev. Benjamin Webb, M. A., of Trinity College, Cambridge, incumbent of St. Andrew's Church, Wells street. Mr. Webb was one of the founders, in conjunction with Archdeacon Thorp, Mr. Beresford Hope, M. P., the late Dr. Neale, and others, of the Cambridge Archaeological Society, and has always made great exertions to obtain a high order of church service. He was for several years incumbent of Mr. Beresford Hope's living of Sheen, Staffordshire, and in 1862, on the death of Mr. Murray, Lord Palmerston (it being the Crown's turn) presented him to the incumbency of St. Andrew's. The services are fully choral, and rather of the cathedral type than otherwise, differing in that respect very materially from the high ritualistic churches. Eucharistic vestments are not used, and there is no incense. No processional banners are used. Mr. Webb's examination before the commission has reference mainly to his antiquarian researches in connection with ecclesiastical subjects. Dr. Hook, Dean of Chichester, who has written largely on church subjects, will be called as a witness before the commission, and amongst others who will probably be examined during the earlier sittings, will be Dr. Goode, (Dean of Ripon), Archdeacon Denison, and Mr. Benjamin Shaw.

RITUALISM AND NEW TESTAMENT CHRISTIANITY.—By the Rev. Verner White, LL.D. London: James Nisbet & Co.—This publication is a faithful exposure of Ritualism from a Nonconformist point of view. The author is minister of Ilington Presbyterian Church, Liverpool, son of the late Rev. Patrick White, of Ballyborough, and brother of three Irish Presbyterian ministers. The tone, spirit, and aim of the work are good.—While some assail Ritualism, their object appears to be to attack the Church of England, and strengthen their own sect. Dr. White's object, on the contrary, is friendly; he maintains the Protestantism of the Church of England, and is anxious to have the Ritualists ejected and the Church strengthened and enlarged by the reunion of English Dissenters. Two plates show the "Last Supper" of Christ and His Apostles, and the Communion as celebrated by the Ritualists—the latter an imitation of the Romish Mass. The book is dedicated to the Rev. Dr. McNeill. The author states in the preface that he "has endeavoured to give the designs and principles of Ritualists, as far as possible, in their own words." He characterizes Ritualism as "simply Popery, without the supremacy of the Pope." He writes "as a Nonconformist, who entertains a supreme regard for Reformation truth, and consequently a sincere and earnest desire for the purity and prosperity of all Reformed Churches," and "foremost among these he cheerfully
