FRANKVILLE FAIR ANNOUNCEMENT

To our Members and Friends,—

Ladies and Gentlemen,—For four years in succession—1915, 1916, 1917 and 1918—Frankville Fair has been up against adverse weather conditions. In 1917 these conditions were so unfavorable that the Society's gate receipts were only $2.90. Notwithstanding the financial loss occasioned by these four years of hard luck, the Directors from year to year, by the strictest economy and careful financing together with generous contributions from friends and well-wishers of the Fair, have weathered the vicissitudes of fortune and the Board of Directors for 1919 are pleased to be able to announce that the Society is financially in the best of health and able to "carry on" for another year. No doubt those members and friends of the Fair who began to despair and prophesy its early demise, will be gratified to learn that there is no ground for pessimism. On the contrary, it should and will be a source of consolation and satisfaction to every loyal British subject to know that the old Fair at Frankville has at least outlived the German Empire, and will be doing business this year at the old stand, on Thursday and Friday, September 25th and 26th. We believe that that people appreciate the honest efforts and square dealing characteristic of the management of our Fair, and we have confidence that they will manifest their appreciation this year by attending the Fair in large numbers, if weather conditions and other circumstances over which they have no control do not prevent their attendance.

In concluding this announcement we desire to say that the same considerate and courteous treatment accorded to the public in the past will be forthcoming in the future.

THOS. STACEY,
President.

W. H. MONTGOMERY,
Secretary.

OBITUARY.

Michael Slack.

The relatives and friends of Michael Slack, Wiltstead, were shocked and grieved to hear that he had passed away at an early hour on Wednesday evening, Aug. 27th. He had been in his usual good health until Monday, when he complained of a pain around his heart. Becoming worse, the doctor was summoned but his services proved futile and he quietly passed away at the above mentioned hour. He was 62 years old and was born at Charleston, removing to Long Point with his parents when a little boy. When he grew to manhood he entered the employ of T. G. Stevens and the late S. J. Stevens, of Athens, where he learned the trade of cabinet maker. He then went to Gananoque where he acquired the knowledge of boat building and carpenter work, following those successfully. About five years ago he purchased a farm at Wiltstead, where the family now reside. Besides his wife, who was Miss Margaret Davis, of Gananoque, he is survived by six sons and one daughter, viz.: Daniel, of Rochester; Thomas, of Kingston; John, Brockville; David, Belleville; Augustine, Leo, and Maud, at home. He also leaves three brothers and two sisters: Walter, of Brockville; Arthur, Delta; Frank, Lyn; Mrs. T. Laffan, Rochester, and Mrs. P. C. Yates, Toledo. The funeral, which was very largely attended, was held from his late residence, Wiltstead, to St. Patrick's church, Lansdowne, where a solemn requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Kehoe, after which the remains were interred in the cemetery adjoining.
