THE WORLD'S W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

Philadelphia, November 11-16, 1922

(By Miss Archibald, of India.)
 Where could there have been a more suitable place for this great Convention than in the historic city of Philadelphia, the third largest in the United States and the ninth largest in the world? Two thousand delegates were in attendance from twenty-seven different countries.
 The airplane that brought the delegate from Alabama, was all decorated with the white ribbon, and bore this message, "The airplane formerly used by man for the destruction of life, today for the first time is used by women for the distribution of temperance literature over the City of Brotherly Love at the World's W. C. T. U. Convention."
 Well, the very first night was the big reception in Bellevue Stratford hotel ball-room. Delegates from foreign countries were seated on the platform and spoke briefly after the welcomes were given. Addresses were given by Miss Slack of England, Mrs. MacLeod of Australia, Rev. Helen Hyde Carlson of U. S. A. and Miss Campbell of India.
 On Sunday night prohibition was the theme. A beautiful young girl, a namesake and relative of the founder of the W. C. T. U., Frances Willard, recited in a most effective style "The Call of the Eighteenth Amendment". An address was given by Major Roy A. Haynes, Federal Prohibition Commissioner. Very graphically did he outline the forces arrayed for and against the enforcement of prohibition and stated his belief that the real trouble was not in the minority opposed, but in the desire of the few to nullify the law for the sake of large personal gains to be derived from the trade. "But we need not fear," he said, "when we look at the churches and leaders of thought, the fathers and mothers of the citizens of tomorrow, the populations of the great rural sections who are with us to a man and the women of the W. C. T. U., who have ever exerted a tremendous force for every righteous cause." Major Haynes expressed himself as highly pleased with the progress made in the last eight months.

 Mrs. Martha Allen, Superintendent of Medical Temperance, stated that twenty-two states now bar the sale of liquor even for medicinal purposes. She quoted prominent medical authorities who deny the beneficial medical effect of the use of liquor. Miss Mary Anderson forcibly showed the benefits of the prohibition law to working women. The industrial creed of the W. C. T. U. is: "A living wage, an eight-hour-day, courts of arbitration, justice as opposed to greed and gain, 'peace on earth, good will to men'".
 The last item on the great program was two-minute speeches from all the delegates outside the United States. It was a most interesting sight to see them march to the front and give their salutations and messages. Six appeared to represent India. It was a great pleasure to present the brass-begging bowl in behalf of the National W. C. T. U. of India with many salamas. At the close Miss Campbell, the organizer for India, gracefully presented a silver vase to our beloved World's President, Miss Anna Adams Gordon.
 Every foreign delegate stressed the fact that all eyes were on America. If America succeeds, victory would come to the world. Miss Slack our energetic Honorary Secretary said, "The world is looking to America to effect the greatest economic and moral reforms of all time through prohibition and an attempt to modify the amendment to your constitution will be considered a sign of failure. The responsibility of America is a grave one."
 It was no small thing to have the opportunity of attending this great convention—to see four thousand filling every seat in that beautiful Academy of Music: hundreds were turned away from every session and those who came paid $3.00 for their seat. Was not the enthusiasm amazing? Yes, and the music, the cables, the greetings, the flowers, the teas, the receptions, the presentations, the seeing of so many from different countries and races and hearing the stirring messages emphasizing their own needs, yet showing their earnest desire to help all mankind in this great struggle for world prohibition, world purity and world peace.—Maritime Baptist.

FOUND HIS SISTER BY RADIO

A homemade radio set in the hands of a boy living in Ohio enabled him to accomplish in a few weeks what his mother, assisted by lawyers and private detective agencies, had been trying to do for thirteen years. He succeeded in finding his lost sister. The story, as Mr. Pierre Boucheron tells it in the Radio Broadcast, is one more instance of the romance of wireless telegraphy.

 One evening, says Mr. Boucheron, Lester Archer of Toledo conceived the idea of broadcasting a call inquiring for and describing his lost sister, whom unfriendly relatives had placed in a children's home many years before. The powerful amateur station 8ZL sent out his call in the continental Morse code, and hundreds of other amateurs relayed it.
 Night after night Archer sat at his receiving set, listening for an encouraging reply. Weeks passed, and his task had begun to seem hopeless when one evening the faint call 8KV, Archer's own registered call signal, came from an amateur at Van Wert, Ohio. Following the call came some words that were hardly discernible, but among them Archer was able to distinguish "your sister".
 Late the same night when there was less local interference in the air he got into communication with the station at Van Wert and learned that a young girl who answered the description of his sister was living at the house of a nearby farmer at Rockford in Mercer County. The amateur added that he had been trying to reach Archer for the past two weeks.
 To the surprise and joy of Archer and his mother the report proved to be correct; Mrs. Archer recognized the girl instantly as her daughter.

HOW PARENTS CAN ASSIST

Without doubt there are many occasions upon which the school teacher is blamed for results attained (or unattained) which at once prove that the censure is not being placed in the right quarter.
 The following few pertinent questions, carefully studied and acted upon might do much to increase efficiency and reduce occasional friction.

- Do you visit the school to inquire about your child's progress and deportment, and to see if you can help the teacher help the child?
- Do you encourage your child to respect its teachers and others in authority?
- Do you send your child to bed in time so that the child will be properly rested and fit for the next day's study?
- Do you provide plain nourishing food and see that the child is up in time in the morning to eat a good breakfast?
- Do you teach your child to read the papers and find out the best in them; and do you encourage an interest in public affairs?
- Do you avoid gossip and the telling of incidents which they may misinterpret, before your children?
- Do you encourage helpful conversation at the table?

Do you interest yourself in the child's sports, amusements and friendships?
 Do you comply with the rules of public health in your home and do you keep in mind that while the school may do much to instill right principles, your child is handicapped if you do not support it by instilling obedience and high ideals of patriotism and personal life?

Business IS Good

The Farmer sells a load of wheat, And all the world grows fair and sweet. He hums a couple of cheerful tunes, And pays the Grocer for his prunes. The Grocer, who has had the blues, Now buys his wife a pair of shoes. That ten the Shoeman thinks Godsent, And runs and pays it on the rent. Next day the Rent Man hands the bill To Dr. Carver for a pill. And Doctor Carver tells his Frau That business is improving now. And cheers her up and says: "My dear You've been quite feeble for a year. I'm thinking you should have a rest. You'd better take a trip out West." And in a couple of days the Frau Is on the farm of Joshua Howe. She pays her board to Farmer Howe, Who takes her bill and says, "I swear, Here's something that just can't be beat This bill's the one I got for wheat." He hums a couple of cheerful tunes, And goes and buys a lot more prunes. —Anonymous in the Commercial Traveller Bulletin.

UNSETTLED

The editor of a country newspaper received from a subscriber the query, "Can you tell me what the weather is likely to be next week?" In reply he wrote, "It is my belief that the weather next week is likely to be like your subscription." The enquirer puzzled his head for an hour over what the editor was driving at, when finally he happened to think of the word

"Unsettled"

(He sent a cheque the next day)

Did You Ever Stop to Think

- THAT it takes real co-operation between the head of a business, the ad man and the clerks to make a bigger business.
- That advertising is the poser that brings the customer.
- THAT too much attention cannot be paid to careful, persistent advertising.
- THAT some merchants advertise themselves more than they do their merchandise.
- THAT merchandise is what they have to sell.
- THAT good service, good goods and good prices, plus good advertising is what will make any merchant's business better.
- THAT if that is kept up it will give the merchant plenty of personal advertising.
- THAT THE MERCHANT WHO CONTINUES TO IGNORE THE BENEFITS OF ADVERTISING IS JUST BUYING GREASE TO OIL HIS OWN FAILURE.
- THAT the man who succeeds in business is no great wonder, he is just the man who went ahead while the other fellows sat around and said it could not be done.
- THAT the customer knows that the secret of economical buying is information he will find in the advertising columns.
- THAT THE THOROUGHNESS BY WHICH THE PRINTED PAER COVERS-A COMMUNITY GIVES AN OPPORTUNITY TO REACH EVERY FAMILY.
- THAT IF YOU HAVE ANYTHING TO SELL LET THE PEOPLE KNOW WHAT AND WHERE AND WHEN TO BUY IT.
