LOST AGAIN. At Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon about 200 of the faithful welcomed the Londons back from their week of woe. The faithful left the grounds disappointed disgusted, disgruntled and despairing. It was certainly exasperating. The Londons tainly exasperating. The Londons pulled themselves out of the hole by prodigious effort, and then dropped They had victory in their mit, but the shock was too great, and they couldn't hold it. They're not used to it. It has only come their way twice in the last fourteen games. For the first seven innings yesterday there was the same appalling decrepitude with the bat. They had two hits, one a scratch. In the eighth came a startling streak. Smith and Keenan singled, and then Grimshaw banged a home run into the right field, tying the score. The crowd nearly fainted. In the tenth Keenan got a double and Grimshaw placed a ball in the same spot for a triple. This was excellent, but the team should have begun its stick work sooner. In the third inning, Reuning, Sanders and Carson filled the bases, with no one out, and hopes were high. Meara popped a fly to third, Smith was retired on a little foul fly, and Keenan flied to left field. Not a run was scored. Carson started off bravely, striking out four men in the first three innings. In the fourth, Boland's charity, Frisk's single and Meek's triple scored two In the sixth McKevitt's triple and Meek's single gave them a third. In the next three innings only nine men faced Carson. In the tenth inning the visitors had to make one run to tie the score. Habel and Tibald, the first two men, were retired on flies, and the Port Hurons began packing their kit Quinn knocked a hot grounder, which went straight through Keenan's legs. Then Boland and Frisk singled, tying the score. McKevitt's double finished the deed. The score: LONDON.

ginger!-they handle the bat too gingerly altogether. The attendance was miserable for the opening of a series. And it will remain so until the team plays ball. Pop Smith doesn't make much noise or stir. The Port Hurons chatter all

They should be dubbed Murphy's Magpies. If Jo Jo had stopped that grounder the tale would have been different. Carson seemed to give up after that. He had been pitching a fine game, striking out eight men.

DOWNED THE LEADERS. St. Thomas, June 17 .- It took the locals thirteen innings to down the leaders here yesterday. Both teams played good ball, some of the plays being of the phenomenal and sensational order, setting the crowd crazy with excitement. The visitors started out with a rush, scoring three runs in the second by Rodden's error off Royce's hot grounder, Conklin's single and Nor-dike's home run. But after this inning they only managed to reach home once. Sutthoff pitched a wonderful game, Bay City only securing ten hits in thirteen innings, and these were well scattered. Damouth also did good work for the visitors. In the ninth he retired in favor of Watkins, who showed his wonderful ability as a twirler. In the remaining five innings only two hits were secured off his shoots. The home team won the game in the mirteenth. After Sheehan had been retired, Keuhne was passed; Nordike fumbled Busse's grounder, and Pears hit for two bases, sending both Keuhne and Busse home. The visitors failed to score in the other half. A SAGINAW SOB. Saginaw News: The fans in this city would dislike to see any of the old men on the team leave, but for heaven's sake, Manager Black, get a team that | can win ball.

A number of London ball cranks are thinking of moving to St. Thomas for The Saints have fought the pluckiest fight in the league.

They say there is an epidemic of sore throat in St. Thomas after yesterday's game. St. Thomas has shattered the Bay City idol.

Even poor old Saginaw can win game sometimes. The Londons are trying hard to oust Saginaw out of sixth place. Thirteen is no unlucky number in St. Thomas hereafter.

Hamilton Herald: Those London chaps can ginger up and play ball once in a while themselves. Hamilton and London don't meet again until July 18, 19 and 20. This is good news for London. Harry Wilson, late of London, is now substitute catcher for Baltimore. Bay City has signed a new pitcher, He is C. H. Watkins, for so long the coach of the University of Michigan team, and a man Vanderbeck, of Detroit, has been after for years. The Saginaw Courier-Herald says

Saginaw is anchored at the bottom. Cheer up, old man! London will keep you company. Hamilton Spectator: Jo-Jo, fne King of Ireland, is a funny little fellow. . . . yesterday. Hamilton had the best of it except in one inning, but Saginaw won.

It was a pitchers' battle. Only two hits management is dickering with a new pitcher. The Hams know better than to try and steal bases on Reuning. The Hamiltons made 42 wood, but Hagerman got a two-base hit on a fly that struck the limb of a tree hits off the London pitchers in three hits off the London pitchers in three

THE CYCLOMETER HABIT.

[From the Baltimore American.] Pumping a tire is popularly supposed by wheelmen to be the one piece of work in connection with a bicycle that is most conducive to perspiration, but a stout man in an uptown club says he has discovered something that is worse, and he recommends it as being better for reducing flesh than pumping tires, banting or sawing wood. This, he says, is the job of fitting a cyclometer to the front fork so that it will work properly. He tells a story of having worked for more than an hour putting on his cyclometer, and then finding that it would not work. He is not the first man to have trouble of the kind, but in this instance the sufferer tells a sequel to his experience that has more than a humorous suggestiveness. After he had reduced his weight a couple of pounds working at the cyclometer a friend came along and tried to soothe his feelings by advising him to start in and take off the little instrument whose adjustment had caused the original agony.

The adviser advanced an argument substantially as follows: "If you put that thing on and get in the habit of keeping tab on it, you will become a haggard and fiendish scorcher. You will develop cyclomania, have insomnia, lose your business and all your friends. Now you are a healthy and sensible rider. warned in time and take off that cylometer. I speak from experience and seriously. If you have it on your life will become wrapped up in watching the record on it grow. You will neglect your family and everything else in order to swell the record. I was a rational, genteel rider until the idea took possession of me that as I rode a great deal I should be able to my mileage for the season, and I got a cyclometer, which I flattered myself would be a nice thing. I thought I was riding an average of 80 or 100 miles a week. My cyclometer would not show any such average, and so, in order to salve my pride, I felt obliged to ride enough extra to make it show what I had boasted of to myself and a few others. When I got up to the stated average I became amitious to get a mileage record. I rode nights and early in the mornings. neglected my business and associates o get off alone with that cyclometer. In order to gain time I took to scorching. If I had not been mercifully run into and had the infernal device with its record smashed to pieces, I would now be in an asylum. There is all the difference in the world between riding with and without a cyclometer. Some can resist their temptations, while others cannot. My only hope is to shun them, and therefore I give you warning solemnly." The stout man says he has let his cyclometer remain adjusted and has since been trying to make up his mind whether he was being "jollied" or had listened to words of wisdom. He was inclined to the former belief, but upon inquiring into the matter found several friends who have fallen victims to this cyclometer habit.
