A Boy's Definition of Peace. School children are proverbially original in many of their utterances. In the grammar department of the West Middle School the teacher was examining her young charges in history. Pennsylvania and its founder, William Penn, were under discussion. She told the little ones that Penn was a disciple of peace, and finally asked: "Can any of you tell me what 'peace' means?" "I can, teacher," breathlessly exclaimed a little fellow. "Well, and what does 'peace' mean?"

"It means 'no scrappin,' "responded the boy. -Hartford Post.

A musical instrument may be regarded in the light of an exotic, costly and requiring constant and careful attention.

It is also like a race-horse; the better its treatment the more it responds to the hand, and even in the evening of its old age is a thing of beauty with a past re-tiful piano grows worthless and tuneless because it has been neglected. Like a race-horse, also, it needs to be kept covered after use.

In frosty weather, especially, always close it when not in use, and, if possible, throw a cover over it. Keep it in a moderately warm room, not too near the source of heat, and let the temperature be even. Not cold one day and hot the next, but warm all the time-say sixty or seventy degrees the year round.

Always place the piano against an inside wall, and a little out form it. Shun the itinerant tuner who comes unrecommended, and of whom you have no previous knowledge. As soon intrust your own ills to a quack as your delicate, high-strung instrument to an ignoramus who had much better be shoeing horses or sawing wood than meddling with pianos. Do not allow children to drum on it. True, Prof. Banghard may expend a like amount of strength upon his keyboard-I doubt if it thoroughly enjoys either treatment. But if the right keys are struck it will not effect it nor you so seriously as where children amuse themselves and wreck the Christian tempers of all listeners, but those of their fond mammas, by their soul-distracting sounds.

Resolutely avoid littering the tops with bric-a-brac, for it unquestionably affects the tone.

A well-known maker recommends frequent wiping off of the case with chamois skin wrung out of tepid water, and where the case is very highly polished and dark, this is not only necessary but productive of good results and little else will answer to remove the dust that settles resolutely in the rightly named fret work.

But if you are afraid to try this and you want to remove finger marks and blue mold, take salad oil and vinegar, and rub on a very little of this mixture with a soft rag and with vast perseverance, mighty muscle and a soft woolen ragrub until your arm threatens to drop from the socket; then survey your work with a critic's eye, and you will doubtless pronounce the result good.-L. NEAT LAUNDRY BAG.

How to Make a Pretty Receptable for Soiled Linen. For persons who do not care to give up space to a large basket for holding soiled linen a laundry bag is the only resort. This may be made of plain ticking or may be elevated to the rank of a decorative object, and it is a laundry bag of the is made of strips of heavy canvas embroidered in a cross stitch tapestry design separated by bands of colored crocheted in sertion. The bottom of the bag is finished with a crocheted edge to match. The embroidered sides are divided by straight plain pieces to make the bag capacious, and the whole thing is lined. The top of each side has small brass rings attached at intervals through which are run brass, rods, which hold the bag in shape .-Cheerful Moments.

It Is Well to Remember That a small vegetable knife with a sharp point is a handy kind to have to pare fruits and vegetables with.

That apples are dusty even before they are picked from the trees. They accumulate dust from being handled, from traveling, and various other ways. That one of the best ways of preparing apples for any purpose is to cut them in quarters before paring, as the core is more easily taken out, and decayed pieces cut

That snap beans are much nicer cut fine with a knife than when snapped in two of three pieces as some prepare them. They need a generous piece of butter when That a baked custard is one of the easiest things to make, and one of the easiest to spoil in baking, if left to its own devices. It must be made of fresh materials, and bakes better in a shallow dish than in a deep one.

That fruits for the table, apples, pears, plums, oranges and peaches, should be wiped with a clean cloth, grapes looked over and washed lightly, red spiders are often found on peaches, spiders on grapes. That all green vegetabes as a general rule should be cooked as soon as gathered. Especially is this true of peas and corn. The former lose their sweetness very soon, and should be put into rapidly boiling water, (salted), boiled uncovered, if you wish the green color to remain; a teaspoonful of sugar to a quart of peas flavors them nicely, a generous piece of butter added when cooked.

Changing One's Style of Dress.

The woman with a talent for dress says: 'A great number of women ruin their appearance by not changing their style of dress when nature changes their style of looks. A woman does not keep one style all her life; she starts out blonde and thin; within ten years she becomes much darker in effect and becomes broader and stouter; but ten to one she clings passionately to the colors and general character of gowns and bonnets that were always becoming to her. She is a lost woman. She is sure to look passe. It is a great thing not to fall into a rut in clothes; look with a single mind at the present effect of the things you try on."

Wax Candles are Fashionable. After all the "advance" in the problem of illumination, many of the most luxurious functions now depend for light on wax candles. They are more used at pre-sent than before for a generation. Inspect H. Overmeyer's livery, for-merly Tripp's, before you engage a conveyance for pleasure driving.

ORDER OF THE GARTER.

Its Alleged Ballroom Origin a Piece of Legendary Romance. The origin of the order of the Golden Fleece is, like that of our own Garter, shrouded in mystery, says the London Telegraph. Very few medern archaeologists attach any credence to the vulgar tradition, wholly unsupported by any size, at $1 50, worth $2 50. Smaller authority, that, at a court ball given by ones at $1. Sample Trunks and Cases Edward III. a lady, supposed to be the of all kinds made to order. Edward III. a lady, supposed to be the countess of Salisbury, dropped her garter, and the king, taking it up, and observing some of his courtiers to smile, as though they thought he had not obtained this favor merely by accident, exclaimed in a loud voice: "Honi soit qui maly NEGLIGE SHIRTS,

There is another opinion which traces the origin of this order, which, according BALBRIGGAN to the learned Selden, "exceeds in majesty, honor and fame all the chivalrous orders of the world," to Richard Coeur de Lion having, upon the occasion of some warlike expedition during his wars in Palestine, chosen a leather-thonged garter as the distinctive mark of his partisans. Yet another theory ascribes the foundation of the order to the fact that Edward, at the battle of Crecy, issued his garter as a signal for battle, which, proving successful, determined him to institute the order in memory of the event.

Both these opinions are to a certain extent feasible, and the first is materially fortified by the well-known historic fact that, when the Crusaders captured St. Jean d'Acre in a nocturnal assault, the knights of the Christian army were ordered to wear a strap of white leather bound round the leg under the left knee in order to distinguish them from the infidels.

There is not a community in the world of 5,000,000 in numbers more free from objectionable elements than that of Canada. Canadians are well versed in the art of self-government. They clearly understand that true liberty is not license, therefore they have profound respect for law and constitutional means and methods. They demand honest money. They have adopted gold as a single standard of exchange or measure of values. There is not any demand in Canada for rag money, or a debased silver currency. Although an ultra-loyal people they believe in protection to Canadian industries in preference to those of Mother England. They have as many miles of railway per capita as we have, latter description that is illustrated. It and they have common sense enough not to embarrass their railway systems with adverse legislation. The history of their banking system is most creditable to their skill in finance.-New York Commercial Advertiser.

A LIFE SAVED.-Mr. James Bryson Cameron, states: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than a half-bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."
