LOCAL MARKET.

LONDON, Thursday, Nov. 29.

The market today was much better attended than was expected, especially when the conditions of the roads are taken into consideration. Nearly all of the stuff offered was confined to the smaller lines. The few farmers who brought in hay and oats today stated that it was a difficult task to do so. This fact, no doubt, accounted for the small deliveries in this line. Sales were brisk, and prices were steady to firm.

Grain—Oats were very scarce, as there were not over a half dozen loads offered; sales were made at $1.04 and $1.06 per cwt. A load of beans sold at $1.40 per bushel.

Hay and Straw—Eight loads of hay were the extent of the offerings in this line; sales were brisk, and prices higher, at $8.50 and $9. One load of straw was offered, which brought $5.75 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—There was not a great deal offered in these lines; prices are steady, as per quotations.

Vegetables—Roots—Potatoes were scarce and prices higher, at 90c to $1 per bag; celery sold at 20c to 40c per dozen; other vegetables as quoted.

Dressed Hogs—The supply was large; prices were just a trifle easier, at $8 to $8.25 per cwt., mostly at the first-named figure.

Poultry—There was a fairly large supply in this line; prices were steady, at 15c to 16c per lb. dressed, an advance of 1c per lb. over Saturday's prices.

Butchers' Meats—There was not much offered today; beef was dull, at $4 to $6 per cwt.; lamb, $1.50 to $1.75; pork, $1.50 to $1.75; mutton, $1.50 to $1.75.

Hay and oats should sell well at Friday's market, particularly the first-named.

MISS EVA TANGUAY HAS OLD ADMIRER

Millionaire Has Followed Her About Two Years.

GIVES VALUABLES TO COMPANY

GEO. K. HENRY, Comedian, Threatened to Quit When Eva Lost Her Temper.

DETROIT, Nov. 29.—The Detroit Journal says: There was one feature of "The Sambo Girl," the musical comedy in which Eva Tanguay beat a constant tattoo on the boards of the Lyceum Theatre last week, to which her front row admirers did not get next.

In fact had an employee of the theatre or of the company so much as whispered the situation into the ears of the gossip mongers the curtain would have been rung down on the show by the volatile and capricious diva.

But the secret is out. It is known that the lovers of light and romantic fiction love to term a "grandpa's darling."

The real interesting feature of the show centers in one of the stage boxes of the theatre. There at every performance sat F. C. Havemeyer, of New York, a wealthy, retired sugar magnate, of 70 years, who for nearly two years has hardly missed a performance of the comedy.

Mr. Havemeyer, at the end of the performance, sat F. C. Havemeyer, of New York, a wealthy, retired sugar magnate, of 70 years, who for nearly two years has hardly missed a performance of the comedy.

JAP BEARS FIGHT LIKE JAP FOLK

Keeper of Zoo Is Badly Chewed by Little Bruin of the Far East.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Thomas Mulvihill, an assistant keeper in the Bronx Zoo, has received a practical proof that it never is safe to crawl into a bear cave until sure the bear is not there.

Mulvihill wishes he had observed the rule, for he had a lacerated right arm and shoulder as a result of his attempt to invade the supposedly empty cave of the Japanese bear Saturday night.

The animal is not large, but the keepers declare that he is like a miniature cyclone when aroused, and they almost would prefer a wildcat.

The bear was in one of the cages in the bear den, where painters were redecorating. The other bears in this cage had been removed, but the Japanese refused to move. He would not enter the small portable cage that had been shoved into his pen Saturday night.

Finally he was driven into one of the two rocky caves in the center of the pen and then two bars that separate the cage were lowered. It was supposed that the bear was in the south cave and the small cage was run up to the opening, while Mulvihill, intent on poking out the bear, crawled into the north cave.

The first he knew of the presence of the bear in that part of the grotto was when he received a slap that knocked him down. Instinctively Mulvihill raised his right arm to defend his face, when the bear seized the arm and the shoulder and began to chew vigorously.

Mulvihill's cries brought Assistant Keeper Fred Schlosser, who seized the victim around the waist and dragged him and the bear out of the cave. The bear then released Mulvihill and advanced to attack both men, using his paws like a boxer as he stood on his hind legs.

The keepers succeeding in beating off the animal, which finally ran back, growling, into the cave to escape further punishment. The mouth of the cave was closed and the bear became a prisoner. It was decided to keep him there until the cage had been painted. That is what the Japanese was not on view yesterday.

TRIES HARD TO DIE

Prisoner Bound for Stratford Makes Two Attempts at Suicide.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 29.—High Constable Carthy, of Perth County, arrived here last evening from Stratford and will leave for that city tomorrow with Lorne Thomas, who is wanted there to answer the charge of stealing jewelry. Thomas was arrested by officers in the Michigan Soo and brought over here.

After being lodged in the lockup he attempted to hang himself by tearing up clothing and making a rope to suspend his body from the top of the cell. He was discovered in the attempt by a policeman and cut down. When taken to the jail he made another attempt at suicide by hanging, using his underclothing.

Thomas declares he will never be taken to Stratford alive.

NEED LAKE LIFE SAVERS

Toronto Mayor Suggests That They Be Placed on Ontario.

Toronto, Nov. 29.—"We are under no obligation to provide life-saving appliances on the water front," said Mayor Urethart today when discussing the inability of the city to afford assistance to the shipwrecked crew of the schooner Oliver Mowat, near Oshawa, yesterday afternoon.

He said: "The Dominion Government should establish life-saving stations and install life-saving apparatus all along the northern shore of Lake Ontario. The southern shore of the lake, east of the Niagara River, is protected in that way by the Federal Government of the United States. I was surprised to learn only recently that Canadians were dependent on the United States life-saving service for protection in the Niagara River."

His worship said he was not asked directly by the authorities for assistance. The request for help came from Mr. Postelwaite, the harbor master. No assistance could be afforded. There was not a craft in Toronto harbor that dared try to weather the gale.

THOSE STRATHROY EXAMS.

Irregularities Suspected in Examinations of June, 1904.

Toronto, Nov. 29.—The investigation into the alleged irregularities of students in connection with the collegiate institute at Strathroy is being conducted by the board of trustees.

It commenced with only the examinations of last June, but circumstances have developed leading to the change. He seemed thoroughly sincere in his admiration and declared that his interest in Miss Tanguay was only that of a father. On the other hand Miss Tanguay, while not concealing the fact that the old man was persistent, declared that it was only platonic friendship.

"I believe Havemeyer has spent thousands of dollars," said another theatrical man who is familiar with the interesting situation. "He has been infatuated with Miss Tanguay for nearly two years, and I don't believe that in all that time he has missed many performances."

Dr. Elger, of Warsaw, a Jewish doctor in the Russian army, who at present is a prisoner of war in Japan, has been elected an honorary member of a scientific section of the University of Tokyo.

"Uncle Johnny Griffith," who was born in England on Feb. 12, 1824, is one of the regular crew of workmen in the coal mines at Beaver, Mo. He has always been a miner. Griffith's office account shows that he is steady and an average worker. He says he never drank.

HAMILTON LOCATED

Man Badly Wanted for Insurance Inquiry Is in Paris.

New York, Nov. 29.—Andrew Hamilton, to whom the New York Life Insurance Company has paid hundreds of thousands of dollars, charged to legal expenses, has been located in Paris. John McCall, secretary of the New York Life Insurance Company, testified to this effect today before the insurance investigating committee, and said it was his (McCall's) intention to sail next Saturday to see Hamilton and induce him to return, or, if not, to give an accounting for the money received by him from the New York Life.

Mr. Hughes, counsel to the committee, asked Mr. McCall to get an order from Hamilton to his agents here to surrender all papers, papers, and Mr. McCall promised to do so.
